100-MILE WIND SCREAMS THROUGH HAVANA AS STORM ROARS INTO GULF BELOW FLORIDA

CHIEF STURDIVANT IS INDICTED AGAIN IN POLICE PROBE

Bill Contains Four Counts Charging Department Head Authorized Yearbook Solicitors to Make False Representations.

SECOND BILL OF DAY NAMES KREIN, DALY

Alderman Bowden To Demand Chief's Suspension; Jury Urges Purging of Registration List.

Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant, indicted Thursday night by the Fulton county grand jury for alleged cheating and swindling in connection with solicitation of funds for the police yearbook, Friday was named defendant in four additional counts in which it is charged that the chief authorized solicitors to make false representations to contributors.

The action was followed by a statement by Alderman James E. Bowden, of the fifth ward, that if the police committee does not suspend Sturdivant in the meantime he would urge the chief's suspension before general council at its meeting Tuesday.

Return of the indictment before Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, together with the delivery of presentments asking a thorough purging of the city registration lists against alleged illegal registrations, marked the end of the term for the July-August grand jury.

Soon after Chief Sturdivant Friday filed a demand for immediate trial, it was announced at the office of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin that, following the policy of superior court in misdemeanor cases, the indictments against Sturdivant and others in the police yearbook investigation will be transferred to criminal court of Atlanta for trial, because of the crowded condition of the superior court docket.

Two Indictments Returned.

Two indictments were returned Friday in the "courtesy card racket" probe. One charges Hugh G. Krein and Ed J. Daly, the promoters of the yearbook, with cheating and swindling the Cathcart Cartage Company out of $5. The other, containing four counts, charges that Sturdivant authorized four solicitors to make false representations in collection of the relief fund.

In count one, Sturdivant is charged with authorizing C. E. Leifer, who was named a defendant in an indictment returned Thursday night, to make false representations to S. B. Adamson in the collection of $25. Leifer represented to Adamson, it is charged, that he was from Chief Sturdivant's office, and that all contributions would go to the benefit and relief of disabled, needy and indigent police officers and the widows and orphans of deceased officers, whereas only 25 per cent went to the relief fund.

Sturdivant, as a part of the "plan and scheme to defraud," signed a letter in which it was declared that "all proceeds are devoted to the Atlanta police benefit fund," it is charged in the true bill.

$15 Collection Involved.

Count two alleges that Sturdivant authorized J. M. Garner to make false representations to W. E. White, treasurer of the Southern Wood Preserving Company, in collecting $15.

Count three similarly involves col-

3 Internes Suspended After Hospital Tragedy

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Three Bellevue hospital internes—two men and a woman—were suspended and ordered reprimanded today by the executive committee of the hospital's medical board as a result of testimony that two persons died after internes had failed to take them to the hospital.

Dr. Carl C. Burdick, chairman of the board, said the internes were found guilty of "errors of inexperience and judgment, rather than neglect or intent."

Dr. Harry L. Fulton and Dr. Albert Stevenson Jr. were suspended for 30 days each, and Dr. Dorothy Goetze for two weeks. In addition, the committee ordered them brought before the hospital's 150 internes for a reprimand.

5,000 ATLANTANS PUT BACK TO WORK THROUGH NRA PLAN

End of 5-Day Drive Finds Pay Rolls Increased $5,000,000 Annually and 50,000 Workers Aided.

The blue eagle of the NRA has spread its wings over 50,000 workers in Atlanta and pay rolls have increased by upward of $5,000,000 a year, while more than 5,000 new jobs for the unemployed have been created since the beginning of the re-employment campaign in the city.

Those figures were given out Friday by the NRA campaign headquarters at the close of a five-day intensive campaign to bring new firms under the eagle, a drive which resulted in the addition of approximately 500 new firms to the NRA list.

The campaign this week was conducted by 460 Junior Chamber of Commerce members and a number of special volunteers and more than 5,000 Atlanta business houses were canvassed for data on salary, wage and employment increases. Those found not flying the eagle were urged to join at once. Workers said that nearly every firm outside the fold was anxious to comply with the president's request and were earnestly seeking ways and means of joining in the movement.

More Calls to Be Made.

Today and several days next week will be devoted to calling again on those who are still outside the fold and it is expected that many of them will by that time find it possible to comply.

The final report meeting for the week was held by the Junior Chamber Friday night.

Records tabulated through Thursday showed that 4,516 firms had been called upon, of which number 3,277 were operating under the blue eagle and 460 were signed by canvassers. Only 779 firms are still nonmembers and 44,450 employes are working under NRA codes. When figures of calls made Friday are tabulated those totals will be swelled considerably, workers said.

Total To Be Swelled.

Campaign workers pointed out that while the showing of 50,000 now working under the NRA is encouraging, the total will be swelled greatly because as expansion continues, firms will take on more and more employes.

Progressing in systematic fashion, the campaign next week will center attention on the work of the woman's division operating under direction of Mrs. Max E. Land, chairman. The 99 women's clubs in the city are at work signing the 60,000 women of Atlanta to consumer pledge cards and considerable progress has already been reported. The Order of Eastern Star continued its activity in securing pledges from women with meetings at the Ben Hill, Clara Hendrix Memorial and Hapeville chapters.

A meeting of the Woman's Democratic Club at the Piedmont hotel Friday resulted in unanimous approval of the NRA. All present signed pledges to trade only with NRA members and each took several cards to pass out to neighbors. Mrs. W. P. Dunn, vice chairman-at-large of the woman's group, spoke, and Mrs. Stacey Earnest Hill, president, presided.

Mass Meeting Planned.

Planning a mass meeting of Atlanta women for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the woman's group have invited Miss Mary E. Hughes, head

U.S. BUYING POWER HIKED FIVE BILLION BY NRA, SAYS A.F.L.

Labor Survey Reports Checked Speculative Advance Has Aided in Sound Recovery.

By JAMES P. SELVAGE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Hope that a bituminous coal code would be ready for promulgation Tuesday by President Roosevelt receded perceptibly tonight as fresh disputes between operators and spokesmen for the miners disrupted negotiations.

Once again it was the queston of the extent to which employers should recognize unions that flared up to disturb the agreement which Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator, announced Monday marked an epoch in the coal industry.

Into contracts between the operators and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, the former sought to write a provision similar to that placed in the automobile code permitting them to hire, discharge or promote employes without regard to union or non-union affiliation.

Gulf Is Opened.

Lewis and William Green, president of The American Federation of Labor, immediately carried their views to Johnson. All parties discussed the break hesitantly, but there was every indication that a great gulf had been opened that might interfere with Johnson's hope of having the code completed by Tuesday.

Should an agreement fail, however, he stood ready with the support of President Roosevelt to impose a code upon the industry, fearing that any longer delay might lead to serious disturbance of industrial relations in the Appalachian coal fields.

This sudden cloud on the NRA horizon appeared a few hours after the Federation of Labor had ascribed to the recovery program an increase at the rate of five billion dollars a year in the nation's purchasing power—enough to raise retail sales 17 per cent.

Signs of Progress.

The monthly survey of business by the federation said "as September opens we can already see clear signs of real progress," adding that "since the speculative rise of business was checked in July, figures are beginning to reveal a solid foundation for a business advance."

Johnson spent virtually all day resting at his hotel room for the first time since he undertook early in the summer the task of mobilizing industry in the war against depression.

However, he worked on the speech he will deliver Labor day at Chicago, the date he has set for the turning point in the re-employment drive, and later went to his office to confer with Lewis and Green on the disturbing coal situation.

The administrator feels that the bituminous coal code is essential to the further progress of the NRA program and both he and the president have been represented as determined to have it completed soon, preferably with an agreement between the operators and miners.

Other Developments.

Other developments of the day included:

Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, said in a memorandum to President Roosevelt that neither as a matter of law nor policy should the industrial recovery act be applied to the nation's railroads, this expression conforming to the attitude of Johnson.

Johnson replied to the statement of Dudley Cates, resigned assistant ad-

Hugh M. Garretson Plunges to Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Hugh M. Garretson, 45, former treasurer of the New York Southern Society, was killed tonight in a fall from the window of an attorney's twelfth-floor office on lower Broadway.

Garretson had been waiting in an ante room for the attorney, Maurice Rogen, to return. Sidney Lewis, clerk who was busy in the next room, said Garretson had been standing in front of the window for some time and that he appeared to jump.

His body struck the roof of a six-story adjoining building. Physicians said he was killed instantly.

Ford Plans Own Code With No Profit Sharing

GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON.

HENRY FORD.

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Indications tonight were that Henry Ford is planning a sudden, vigorous offensive in his controversy with the national recovery administration, but just what the motor magnate intends to do his associates profess not to know.

Out of a welter of rumors springing up in the face of the refusal of Ford to reveal his plans has come one principal belief—fostered by associates who will not permit the use of their names—that Ford will not sign the NRA automotive code, but will launch out in a spectacular "go it alone" plan, which may include the public presentation of his own business "code."

It may even include a return to the famous $5-a-day minimum wage, abandoned several months ago.

But, one associate declared today, it will not include a plan for sharing profits with employes, as had been widely rumored during the past few days.

The profit-sharing plan, the associate declared, is "strictly the bunk." While he declined the use of his name, he said that if a "Ford code" is offered, there will be no more "profit-sharing" than is conducted in the Ford organization at present—a participation in profits through an employes' bank in which the interest is

HADEN, HATCHER SAVED FROM CHAIR

Commutation Follows Plea by Woman Victim That Youths Be Spared.

Responding to the plea of the young woman victim, Governor Eugene Talmadge Friday spared the lives of Ross Hatcher Jr. and Charles Haden, Macon youths sentenced to the electric chair for an attack on the woman.

The chief executive commuted their death sentences to life imprisonment and said:

"I hope these boys reform."

The victim of the attack, which occurred on the outskirts of Macon on August 26, 1931, wrote the governor some time ago urging that the lives of the two men be spared. She said that their electrocution would haunt her during the rest of her life, and felt that life sentences would punish them sufficiently for their crime.

"I am not trying to minimize the seriousness of the crime, nor the heinousness of this particular case," said Harry Strozier, Macon attorney who pleaded with the governor to save the lives of the two youths, "but the records in Georgia show that death is not the usual penalty for this crime, under the circumstances."

He added that he had been advised that only one white man in recent years had paid the extreme penalty for attacking a woman, but the governor said he recalled the case of a second man, a school teacher, who was hanged.

E. W. Maynard, of Macon, was the attorney in charge of the hearing, and also made an appeal, as did T. S. Felder. Maurice Thomas and Oliver Cutler also appeared at the hearing as attorneys for the two men.

The governor's brief announcement—"I'll commute them"—came shortly after T. A. Wallace, who was employed as a special prosecutor in the case, said that shortly after he was engaged, the young woman victim had expressed an aversion to the death sentence. Wallace said she did not want the death penalty inflicted.

"Was this before the trial?" asked the governor, showing keen interest.

"Yes, sir, and I told Solicitor-General Charlie Garrett about it," said Wallace.

The governor commented that "that is one point I am glad to clear up."

At the same time, he announced the commutation. As he did so, various relatives of the two condemned youths, tears streaming down their faces, came over to thank him and shake his hand. The two youths are now under respite and have not been resentenced.

SOUTH WILL URGE RULER FOR COTTON

Southern Solons Expected to Confer With Roosevelt Next Week.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Disappointed with the failure of cotton to maintain a price level in keeping with the broad aims of the national recovery program, southern senators and representatives in congress are laying plans for urging upon President Roosevelt next week the necessity for reorganization of the cotton division of the agricultural adjustment administration.

The president is scheduled to return to Washington Monday night or Tuesday morning. Shortly thereafter it would not be surprising to see a group of southern members unite in asking him to provide a more effective set-up for cotton administration.

For one thing, it will be suggested to the chief executive that he designate some outstanding figure in the south to act as administrator for cotton, either a leader in the cotton textile industry or some well-known business man having the full confidence of the cotton belt and able to cope with the many problems relating to the south's chief agricultural product.

More Authority.

The proposed cotton administrator, it is felt, should be clothed with authority equal to that now held by George Peek, head of the agricultural adjustment administration. While Mr. Peek is charged with directing cotton no less than wheat activities but his main interest naturally lies in wheat by virtue of the fact that he is a western man who has devoted a considerable part of his life to problems of the wheat farmer.

The same is true of Secretary Wallace, a western wheat man. It is not to say that they are not interested in cotton; they are. But their primary interest is wheat.

Unless such a set-up is provided for cotton, southern members and textile leaders feel that the south will not gain its full share of benefits contemplated under the NRA and agricultural adjustment program. While Cully Cobb, of Atlanta, early was designated as the cotton representative in the agricultural adjustment administration, the complaint is heard that he is being held back by the lack of authority given him at the time of appointment. He has not been clothed with sufficient authority even to permit him to sit in the upper councils of farm administration, which means, it is declared, that cotton is forced to occupy a secondary position to wheat, mainstay of the western agrarian group.

Too Many Heads.

Because of this delinquency southern members interested in the various proposals that have been advanced for improving the cotton price level are forced to take up their measures with several different department heads, including Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Administrator Peek, Governor Henry Morgenthau Jr., of the federal credit administration, and even President Roosevelt.

A much more effective course would be open to them if some outstanding

Purely Nordic Art Decreed For Germany by Nazi Chief

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Art in the new Germany must be 100 per cent Nordic and Aryan, Chancellor Adolf Hitler told a select audience of 3,000 at the nazi party conclave here today.

Declaring that "nazi-ism will not tolerate incompetence in art," the chancellor characterized Jews as an artless race.

"Every individual race," he said, "has its own clear imprint in the book of arts in so far as that race has contrasted to the Jews in its own artistic productivity."

"I do not know whether Providence will bless us with artistic geniuses," he added, "but this I know: representatives of the era now passed cannot be flagbearers of the future. It is our state, not theirs. Changing flags is not permitted."

"Art," he continued, "never can be separated from the people. The slogan that art is international is hollow and dumb. It is a sign of gruesomeness, of spiritual decadence of past times. They spoke of styles without knowing their racial origin."

The chancellor dwelt at length upon art and culture and said that "even in these times of economic depression it is the first duty to remind a nation of culture."

"To be genuine," he said, "art must be rooted in the people and must be the expression of national character."

He declared the nazi party is opposed to pacifistic international democracy in German kulture, as in politics.

Previously Hitler had been enthusiastically received amid the cheers and shouts of 15,000 followers in the convention hall.

Non-nazi members of the cabinet, including Vice Chancellor Franz Von Papen, Foreign Minister Konstantin Von Neurath, and Defense Minister

Ringling Divorce Suit Is Dismissed by Court

SARASOTA, Fla., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Paul B. Albritton late today granted a request of attorneys a dismissal of the divorce action brought by John Ringling, circus magnate, against his wife.

The request for dismissal was presented to Judge Albritton by attorneys for Ringling and was confined to barest legal phraseology, giving no reason for the action.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Ringling were immediately available for comment.

CAROLINAS CLOSE ALL LEAF MARTS, PLAN U. S. APPEAL

Virginia Will Join In Conference To Be Held Monday at Washington Seeking Higher Price.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tobacco markets of the Carolinas closed indefinitely today as South Carolina swung into line behind North Carolina's plan for a market holiday until growers are assured better prices for their crop.

Governor Blackwood, of South Carolina, followed the lead of Governor Ehringhaus, chief executive of the sister state, by asking all tobacco warehouses in the Palmetto State to suspend operations until a plan to raise tobacco prices is worked out.

Although in both states the proclamations lacked the authority of law, the organization of warehousemen assured the governors of their full support.

Meanwhile, Governor Ehringhaus laid plans to lead a delegation to Washington Monday to place the farmers' plea for government aid before the administration.

Leading Planters.

He said he would be accompanied by a group of 10 or 12 leading planters who would request Secretary Wallace to take some action to raise prices.

Dispatches from Richmond late today revealed that Governor Pollard, of Virginia, had named a committee of six persons representing the Virginia tobacco growers to join the delegation of Carolina representatives in the conference in Washington Monday.

At a stormy mass meeting here yesterday, 2,000 farmers unanimously demanded the closing of the warehouses and federal aid, terming the prices paid on the auction markets "ruinous."

Governor Ehringhaus also announced he was asking Governor Pollard, of Virginia, to join with the Carolinas in keeping tobacco markets closed until a price-raising plan is worked out. None of the Virginia markets has yet opened. They are scheduled to begin sales later this month.

Shut Off "Money Crop."

Closing of the markets will shut off the buying of the big "money crop" of a large section of both states. The Carolinas and Virginia, raising millions of pounds, supply the greater portion of the world's demand for cigaret type tobacco.

Most of the tobacco sold so far this year has brought an average price of about 10 to 12 cents a pound, a figure the farmers contend is below the cost of production. It is little changed from last year. At the mass meeting here, the farmers demanded the price be raised to 20 cents a pound, and speakers charged the "Big Four" tobacco companies arbitrarily set the price to be paid for tobacco.

The tobacco farmer sells his product under conditions differing from those faced by any other farmer. He hauls his tobacco to a market town, dumps it on a warehouse floor and it is auctioned off to the highest bidder. If the farmer doesn't think the bid is high enough, he can refuse it but he has no other outlet

Gasoline 22 Cents, Discount Is Banned

Twenty-two cents a gallon for standard brands will be the price of gasoline in Atlanta and throughout Georgia today, with the practice of allowing discounts for cash purchases abolished.

The Standard Oil Company and the Wofford Oil Company announced the price Friday and four other leading distributors said that although they were without advices from home offices they expected to follow the other companies. The oil code approved by the national recovery administration becomes operative today.

Until today standard brands of gasoline sold for 23 cents, with a 2-cent discount for cash purchases. Oil companies explained that in carrying out provisions of the code the discount would have to be discontinued. Ethyl gas will sell for 24 cents, and a third, or traffic grade of gasoline, will sell for 20 1-2 cents.

Read Denies Love for Claire As Mexican Jaunt Is Bared

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Testimony about a trip to Agua Caliente, Mexican resort, taken by Claire Windsor, stage and screen actress, and Alfred C. Read Jr., former Oakland broker, was given today in trial of the $100,000 "heart balm" suit of Read's former wife, Mrs. Marian Read, against the actress.

The trip was described by E. F. Wharton, Long Beach banker, friend of Mrs. Read's family for years.

Testifying as a witness for the Oakland matron, who charges the blond actress stole her husband's love, Wharton said Mrs. Read learned Miss Windsor and Read planned a jaunt to the resort while Miss Windsor had a stage engagement in San Diego. Mrs. Read induced him to turn amateur detective and trail the couple, Wharton related.

Read was waiting at the stage door when the actress finished with her show on a Saturday night in March, 1932, Wharton testified. He said he saw them dancing together at a San Diego hotel with another couple and the following day saw them at the casino in Agua Caliente with friends, and at the race track.

It was reported from the defense side of the case today that "a famous Hollywood actress and her mother" are expected to be called to testify in Miss Windsor's defense.

Explaining out of court how Mrs. Read obtained for presentation at the trial of the love letters Miss Windsor had written him, Read said he let her have the missives during a reconciliation after their first estrangement.

"My wife and I agreed to get all our letters together and have a big bonfire," he said. "There were my letters from Claire and some letters Mrs. Read had, all to be burned.

"But things went wrong. Mrs. Read's folks induced her to give up the idea.

"She already had the letters—and

Confession Bares Feud In Schoolboy's Slaying

FORT MORGAN, Col., Sept. 11. (AP)—A slaying that northeastern Colorado authorities have tried for three years to solve was revealed in a confession today to Sheriff R. A. Johnston as an "April Fool's Day" hanging to avenge a feud between two schoolboys.

Sheriff Johnston said Herman Howell, 20, of Brush, had confessed he beat Ed Schilling, of Brush, and then hanged him from a rafter "because he gave me a licking at school." The slaying occurred April 1, 1930.

Schilling's death was believed at the time to have been a suicide.

According to Sheriff Johnston Howell also admitted that he had shot another youth, Arlow Osborne, in the head with a .22 rifle "just to see him jump." Osborne recovered.

BLOOD SPOTS HOLD FATE OF LAMSON IN SCIENCE DUEL

Opposing Experts Seek to Prove Conflicting Theories on Death of Woman by Means of Stains.

COURTHOUSE, SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The state of California concluded late today the testimony with which it hopes to hang David A. Lamson, leaving with the jury its contention that the 31-year-old Stanford University press representative bludgeoned to death his young wife as a result of marital discord.

Court was adjourned until next Tuesday, when the defense will offer testimony in support of its theory that Mrs. Lamson met her death last May 30 by accident—perhaps through a fall in the bathroom where she was found dead.

The end of the state's case came after most of an entire day had been spent in cross-examination of Dr. Frederick Proeschner, the county pathologist, and confirmation of his testimony by Dr. A. M. Moody, San Francisco pathologist.

These scientific witnesses, together with others who appeared earlier in the trial, were called by the state in an effort to show a 10-inch piece of pipe found in a bonfire at Lamson's home could have been the death instrument. They also reported evidence of hemorrhages on the head of the body, indicating a severe tug at Mrs. Lamson's hair.

Previously the state had introduced the name of Mrs. Sara M. Kelley, Sacramento divorcee, as the recipient of bouquets from Lamson a few weeks before his wife was found dead in their Stanford campus home.

Lamson's counsel and Dr. Proescher today fought over a tiny spot of blood found on the defendant's shirt in the bathroom of his home.

Defense Counsel E. M. Rea sought, through numerous questions, to establish a description of blood spurts after they land. Dr. Proescher drew on the courtroom blackboard a spot with a tiny tail. From there, Rea attempted, while being prompted by E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, to show the direction from which the blood came. Immediately objections were made by the state and Rea withdrew his question.

Specific Gravity.

The specific gravity of blood and other liquids came in for argument then as Rea was questioning Proescher concerning the spots of blood on various articles of clothing introduced by the state. He held up a white shirt, found hanging behind the door of the bathroom. On the front of it were several spots, which Proescher identified as blood spurts.

The pathologist declared blood did not splatter when it struck an object

Unfavorable Weather Delays F.D.R. Fishing

MONTAUK, L. I., Sept. 1.—(UP) Unfavorable weather for fishing kept President Franklin D. Roosevelt aboard Vincent Astor's yacht, the Nourmahal, anchored off Montauk Point all day today.

Three members of the presidential party ventured away from the Nourmahal in a fishing boat but on their return tonight it was learned Mr. Roosevelt and Astor had remained aboard the yacht.

CUBA NORTH COAST SUFFERS HEAVILY; 6 PERSONS KILLED

Communication Systems Disrupted, Scores of Shacks Demolished by Tropical Hurricane's Fury in Havana.

CAPITAL FLOODED BY RAGING WATERS

Concern Felt for Residents of Cardenas; Second Storm Forming Near Puerto Rico.

By the Associated Press.

A tropical storm that battered the Cuban coast Friday swept four ships aground, killed six persons in Camaguey, injured an undetermined number and caused unestimated damage in many parts of the island.

Although wind and rain continued in Havana during the evening, the storm center had passed to the northwest. The wind in Havana at one time approximated 100 miles an hour.

The Josephine Gray, a British freighter, was forced ashore at Cayo Bahia Del Cadiz, Cuba, but a message to the Radiomarine Corporation and Mackay Radio said the crew was safe.

The Baron Harris, a British ship, was reported aground at Matanzas, and the Thyra was ashore, presumably near the same city. A Danish vessel, the Stal, grounded 200 miles east of Havana after striking a Swedish ship, the name of which was unreported.

The Athel Foam, which went to the aid of the Josephine Gray, was not reported.

Although Havana police said property damage there was comparatively light, communications along the northern coast were interrupted and the severity of the disturbance could not be ascertained.

Homes along the waterfront in the Cuban capital were abandoned. Police, soldiers and sailors were ordered to patrol the region after looters were reported active.

Fear was expressed for nine men aboard a two-masted schooner that left Norfolk, Va., for Port Arthur, Texas, on August 21 and has not been reported since.

The effects of the storm were not felt in Florida, aside from a 42-mile wind at Key West.

STORM MOVES WESTWARD AFTER STRIKING HAVANA

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 1.—(UP)—Cuba—just recovering from the effects of revolution—was swept by a terrific hurricane tonight. The storm moved westward along the north shore, spreading destruction in its madly whirling path.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS DEMAND ACTION

Clark Howell Jr., of Atlanta, is Named Sergeant-at-Arms.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A growing movement within the young democratic clubs of America to take over their national convention and substitute action for oratory brought results today.

The convention was willing to listen to a full-length address tonight by Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, only after it had reduced the afternoon speeches to 10 minutes each and revised the entire program for tomorrow in order to give the delegates a bigger voice in proceedings.

"I know the spirit that animates you," Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, told the delegates.

"You want to help build up the strength of your party. You want to have a voice in its affairs that through it you may have a share in shaping the course of your government."

"I realize that in such an assemblage as this lodge the elements necessary to solve our present social and economic ills and that contribute most constructively to the safeguarding of our country's future," he said.

Free From Prejudice.

"Foremost among these elements is the courage of youth, imbued with the desire to get at the truth of conditions—with minds that are free from prejudice and unhampered by crystallized customs."

So eager were the delegates to increase their voice in the selection of officers that the national committee election scheduled for today was postponed.

The delegates voted to recommend that the officers be chosen by popular vote. Frank McCarthy, of Indianapolis, who today became permanent chairman, expressed the informal opinion that such could not be done this year because the proposal would have to be submitted to the state bodies.

Miss Kathleen Blum, of Wichita, Kan., took cognizance of rumors that political leaders from Washington were influencing the conduct of the convention "in regard to certain candidates."

She said Postmaster-General James A. Farley, a speaker yesterday, assured her "that no one in Washington dictated any of the arrangements for the convention and they had no preference in the selection of the national officers."

Two Withdrawn.

In the interests of harmony, Tyre Taylor, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the national body, and George B. Freeman, of Kansas City, president of the Missouri group, withdrew today as candidates for president. Among those prominently mentioned for the position were John Boyden, of Utah; Frank McCarthy, of Indiana, and Cliff Woodward, of Iowa.

Secretary Roper, in a discussion of the commerce department said it had been erroneously "implied that excessive economies" might impair aid to air navigation and even imperil pilots and passengers.

"So long as I am secretary of commerce, no step will be taken knowingly that will jeopardize the safety of air travelers," he said.

"Their safety is and shall continue to be our paramount consideration—to be guarded at all times with the utmost care and solicitude."

With regard to the national recovery administration, Secretary Roper said there has appeared "the demand of the people for interpretation of the new regime."

Codes Needed.

"Codes will naturally need to be revised to conform to changed conditions and the lessons of experience," he said.

The convention of 30 states defeated by 18 states to 12 a proposed amendment which would have made it unnecessary to have senior party leaders ratify selections of delegates, committeemen and committeewomen.

The proposal that the convention name the officers, each for a two-year term, instead of the national committee was passed unanimously, as was another that no officer be permitted to serve more than one term in any office.

Permanent convention officers named in addition to McCarthy included John B. Robertson, Alabama, an assistant secretary; Joe C. Carr, Tennessee, reading clark; Clark Howell Jr., Georgia, sergeant-at-arms.

On the Air Today

Vincent Sorey, conducting his ensemble for the "Spanish Serenade," will offer a number of selections which reflect the color and romantic gaiety of the Latin country for the audiences of WGST and the Columbia network from 2 to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Tito Guizar, the young Mexican whose tenor voice has won acclaim from nation-wide audiences, will offer a solo recital over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST from 3:45 to 4 o'clock this afternoon. Accompanying himself on the guitar, the vocalist will be heard in a group of Spanish and English songs, including the bolero, "Orgullo."

The start of the Gordon Bennett balloon race from A Century of Progress in Chicago will be broadcast over the WABC- Columbia network from 4 to 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The annual classic will be a feature of the International Air Races, bringing together the most famous free-balloon pilots of the world.

Selections from Ponchielli's romantic opera, "La Gioconda," will be the highlight of the all-Italian program to be presented by Vincent Sorey and his ensemble over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST from 1 to 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The program's overture will be a delicate work entitled "Silveria," to be followed by the intermezzo, "Cuore Infranto;" the very brief song, "Meditatione;" Costa's fantasy, "Histoires d'un Pierrot," and the Neapolitan song, "Santa Lucia Luntana."

Evan Evans, CBS baritone, will sing the stirring song, "March of Time," as the highlight of his broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network and WGST at 6 o'clock tonight. Other numbers by Evans include "Beloved," "My Own" and "Trouble in Paradise," in which he will be accompanied by Mark Warnow's music.

U. S. BUYING POWER HIKED FIVE BILLION BY NRA, SAYS A. F. L.

ministrator, that a matter of labor policy precipitated the break, by asserting that "the only issue between Mr. Cates and myself is the issue of statutory interpretation and faithfulness to a decided policy of the president."

Behind the scenes negotiations went forward under the direction of Deputy Administrator A. D. Whiteside to get the retail code ready for President Roosevelt's signature next week.

Reports continued to pour in of activity by workers pressing in every community the drive to bring stores under the blue eagle and have consumers buy from NRA establishments.

Oil Price Setting.

Immediate establishment of maximum retail prices for gasoline and other oil products was under consideration by the petroleum industry's planning and co-ordinating committee, with strong indications that this course would be recommended to Secretary Ickes and the administration. Its code becomes effective tomorrow.

Johnson, meanwhile, was silent upon the attitude of Henry Ford, who has not affiliated himself with the code of competition for the automobile industry.

For the first time he cancelled his semi-weekly conference with newspapermen, and at his hotel it was said he had no comment to make on reports of intended action by the motor magnate. Robert W. Lea, the deputy administrator assigned to the auto charter, said no proposals of any kind or indication of a decision had come to the NRA from Ford.

2,033,000 Returned.

The Federation of Labor said that from March to July, its estimate showed 2,033,000 men and women had gone back to work and that trade union reports disclosed that in August re-employment continued almost as rapidly as in July despite the check of business.

"Incomes of wages and salaried workers were higher by $287,000,000 in July than in March," the survey said. "On a yearly basis this amounts to a gain of $3,444,000,000. Farmers' income this year is estimated at $2,000,000,000 above last year.

"Thus even before it is fully underway, the recovery program has already poured new purchasing power into the market at the rate of over $5,000,000,000 a year. This alone would be enough to raise retail sales 17 per cent.

"The effect of this new purchasing power is already being felt. Department store sales in July were 4 per cent above July last year—the first rise above the previous year since the depression. Early August reports show department store trade holding its gains."

The survey added that in July, for the first time since the bank crisis, wage rates per hour had turned upward and hours per week had been shortened.

ROULETTE GAME RAID LANDS 24 MEN IN JAIL

A spirited session over a spinning roulette wheel in a pool room at 16½ Walton street, just off Peachtree, was brought to a sudden conclusion Friday night at about 9:30 o'clock. Twenty-four alleged participants adjourned to the police station in the custody of four detectives who had stood on the fringes of the game just long enough to satisfy themselves that money was passed.

The detectives—J. W. Cody, P. B. Daley, B. E. Blair and C. J. Harris—raided the place in answer to telephoned reports that a gambling game was in progress on the premises. Hack Eibel, proprietor of the pool room, which is on the second floor, was not present when the detectives called but visited the police station later in response to summons and posted bond of $27 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Charges of disorderly conduct were preferred against each of 24 others, most of whom made bond of $12. The men placed under arrest gave their names as J. J. Malone, C. J. Kidwell, Ernest Dillard, G. E. Roberts, C. B. Hutchens, J. A. Jamerson, P. B. Fulton, G. L. Thigpen, C. W. Coursey, Bill Morgan, J. R. Parrish, C. Y. Parker, Elmo Saab, C. Doris, B. Johnson, Jim Daley, A. Augustine, A. E. Thomas, J. L. Erb, J. E. Ryckley, Harry Stoe, C. D. Morris, J. B. Shipp and H. M. Jones.

All the cases were set down for trial at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in recorder's court.

Italian Plans Take Off For Persian City Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—General Francesco De Pinedo said tonight he would take off at dawn on a projected nonstop flight to Baghdad, Persia, in an effort to set a new distance flying record. He received favorable weather reports for the trans-Atlantic hop.

Attendants at Floyd Bennett field hastened to prepare the Italian aviator's plane, the Santa Lucia, after Dr. James H. Kimball completed his weather survey.

Legislators and Educators Ask Governors To Support Fight for Cheaper School Books

Legislators and educators in conference here Friday appealed to the governors of southern states to strengthen their fight for cheaper school books.

They also asked the governors to prosecute a campaign against a clause in the NRA code of the textbook publishers that would prohibit the renting or leasing of textbook plates and allow the companies to employ special lawyers and solicitors to influence the adoption of their books.

The conference unanimously adopted a resolution sponsored by State Senator Edgar A. Brown, of South Carolina, on behalf of the Joint Legislative Textbook Association that enlisted the governors' aid in effecting economies.

It asked the chief executives of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee to appoint committees of three in each state, an educator and two legislators, to confer and seek economies by the following means:

Economies Sought.

Uniform textbooks for fundamental subjects in the elementary grades.

Abolition of the central or state depositories.

Free books.

Employment of authors for the preparation of manuscript for books.

The inauguration of such steps as may be necessary for the printing of books from accepted manuscripts.

Advocacy of uniform legislation in the various states aimed at uniformity in textbooks.

Senator Sampel W. Getzen, of Florida, president of the association, sponsored the resolution asking the governors to carry the fight on the protested clause of the publishers' code to President Roosevelt and Chief Administrator Hugh S. Johnson.

That resolution also voiced objection to a provision of the code that would give the publishers the right to cancel contracts or revise them upward on account of increasing commodity prices.

Publishing Plant Proposed.

Construction of a joint publishing house to serve states engaged in a fight for cheaper schoolbooks was proposed at the conference Friday.

The proposal was advanced in a resolution presented by Mrs. Harry T. Hartwell, wife of the mayor of Mobile, Ala. She said the building fund could be obtained under provisions of the national industrial recovery act.

"Take the schoolbook question out of politics," was the admonition given by Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, and Governor Dave Sholtz, of Florida.

Advocating uniformity of fundamental texts as a means of forcing prices lower, Talmadge said "the schoolbook question in Georgia has been a political football for 20 years. It looks like the southeast could get together and adopt uniform books."

Says "Georgia is Broke."

"Georgia is broke," he continued, "and is not able to give free books. After all, the best solution is to get the books down to cheaper prices.

"We must take the schoolbook question out of politics. I hope we can cut the price of books like we have cut the price of automobile tags in Georgia."

Existence of "a schoolbook trust in America, whether visible or not," was proclaimed by Governor Sholtz.

"What I have against the trusts is that they are making blood money ing are the same everywhere and I out of the children of our states," he added. "Reading, writing and spell-can see no logical reason for so many changes in the textbooks."

As a means of breaking the "monopoly" and saving "millions of dollars for the states and for the parents who pay the bills," the governor recommended that state legislatures submit to their boards of education a definite plan for uniform books in the fundamental courses of study.

Collins Urges Uniformity.

M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools in Georgia, concurred with the governors and said the state is working out a plan for uniform books in all counties.

"But let's think of cheaper prices and not cheaper books," he admonished.

A warning against books, particularly histories, that are written in a manner to "exploit the prejudices of southern people" was sounded by Dr. John G. Harrison, of the Mercer University faculty at Macon, Ga.

"If southern historians write books, let them state both sides," he said, pointing particularly to books touching on the War Between the States.

He expressed doubt there is such a thing as "a schoolbook trust," but asserted the publishers have agreed as to the profits they are going to make. Dr. Harrison advised against rigid rules for applying uniform texts but suggested that the states agree on some specific books of an elementary nature and try to force publishers to lower their prices for the given texts.

"If they won't, then publish it yourself," he continued.

Cost Increase Cited.

Citing an increase in the cost of the Ohio public school system from $20,000,000 thirty years ago to $141,000,000 today, State Senator D. J. Gunsett, of Van Wert, Ohio, said: "The problem is to bring the costs down."

He expressed opposition to general uniform texts as a principle but asked "Why can't we have our fundamental texts in the elementary grades uniform?"

A national public school system with all books, save histories, the same in all the states was advocated by Mrs. Florence Virginia Adams, former teacher in the Atlanta school system, who has made prolonged research into schoolbook costs and educational practices.

She also advocated the election of all state superintendents of schools by popular vote.

The conference was called by Governor Ibra Blackwood, of South Carolina. The purposes, as explained by Senator Getzen, are for stimulating movements for free books, the elimination of state depositories that receive fees and the unification of fundamental texts used in the elementary grades.

Attending the meeting were superintendents of schools in several states, members of state boards of education and officers of state teachers' associations.

Ads Entered in $1,300 Contest Shown on Headquarters' Walls

BY JAY ORR, JR.

And here's some good news for ad-writing contestants.

Ad-writing headquarters has been re-decorated and on the walls you will find a number of advertisements that have been entered in the contest.

Under each one are explanatory remarks that will be of great assistance to you in writing your ads during the remaining 11 weeks of the contest.

The judges have made their decisions and the first three prize-winning ads will be published in the big Sunday Constitution, as well as the names of the other winners. The prize-winning ads this week were especially good and on the page with them will be given the reason why these were rated prize winners.

Merchants co-operating in the ad-writing contest report another increase in requests for ad-writing paper which tends to give the impression that the third week's response will be much greater than the second.

Why shouldn't it be, when it is so easy to write an ad? It is so easy to enter this contest.

All that you have to do is get official ad-writing paper given absolutely free at any of the stores co-operating in this contest, and write your ads. Then enter them at Ad-Writing Headquarters, at 137 Peachtree Arcade, on Wednesday.

Two of the 13 weeks have gone by, but remember that each week's entries are judged separately. It is possible for a contestant to win a prize each week.

The official ad-writing paper that you obtain from the stores, has the signature of that store on the bottom. If you can make a better looking advertisement by changing it to the top, do so. Simply cut it off and paste it wherever you wish and place another piece of paper where the signature was.

Everyone is invited to visit ad-writing headquarters and see the specimen ads and profit by the work of others. Do not forget to look for the prize-winning ads in the big Sunday Constitution.

5,000 ATLANTANS PUT BACK TO WORK THROUGH NRA PLAN

of the woman's division of the national recovery administration, to speak to the assembly. The meeting will be held at Wesley Memorial auditorium and plans are being worked out by Mrs. Land.

No less intensive than the Atlanta campaign, drives in other cities and towns in Georgia are securing favorable results as indicated in the steady increase in agreements received at the department of commerce. W. L. Mitchell, district manager, reported 887 new pledges received Friday, affecting 4,101 employes. The total to date is 22,353 firms employing 154,821 workers.

Postmaster E. K. Large also found an increase in the issuance of 179 certificates of compliance Friday, which brings the total to date to 5,654.

J. T. Logue, of the Postal Telegraph company here, announced Friday that the company had signed and put into effect provisions of the President's re-employment agreement, with the substituted provisions of the proposed code for telegraph communication companies which were approved by the NRA on August 30.

"Every unit of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation operating in continental United States is either under an industry code or under the president's blanket agreement," Mr. Logue said.

6 BELIEVED DROWNED IN FISHING TRAGEDY

WASHINGTON, N. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A river tragedy which apparently claimed the lives of six men came to light today with the discovery of four bodies which had washed ashore near South creek, 35 miles below Washington.

The dead men were: Lee C. Butler, 40; Ed Deal, 45; John Sheppard, 55, negro, and Jerry Warren, 30, negro. They were members of a party of six men who left South creek on a fishing trip in the Pamylico river last Wednesday.

Still missing tonight were Woolard Anderson Jones, 21, and Ernest Barrow, 30, negroes. A search was on for their bodies.

figure were available for handling the cotton problem alone. Cotton would not be a stepchild in that case.

Recently for example, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, arranged for a conference of the entire Georgia congressional delegation with Secretary Wallace for a discussion of several specific proposals for improving the cotton price situation. Among other things, the group, augmented by other representatives of the cotton producing states, urged immediate sale of upward of a million bales to Russia, modification of existing regulations on cotton processing taxes to encourage the textiles to resume their purchases of cotton, imposition of compensatory taxes on jute and other figures competing with cotton and further curtailment of acreage allotments for the next three production years.

No Action Taken.

Although this definite program was outlined to Secretary Wallace and other administration heads about two weeks ago, no action has been taken to date, so far as known. A meeting was called as a result of the conference to consider proposed modification of the cotton processing tax, but this was indefinitely postponed today.

Such delay in the face of the early movement of the cotton crop and continued depressed prices has inspired southern members to formulate plans for cotton administration reorganization.

If the cotton industry, on the other hand, had some outstanding figure here on the scene as its official representative in the governmental set-up, a better hearing would be guaranteed in court. At least that is the feeling of southern members and that is the immediate objective that has been set for them.

President Roosevelt is known to be sympathetic to the general aims of southern members for improvement of the status of cotton and is believed to be ready to fall in line with any sound suggestion that may be made. Already he has been informed by Senator George and the others that the whole NRA program stands to fail so far as the south is concerned until there is some substantial uplift in the cotton and general commodity price level.

Balloonists Will Seek Distance Mark Today

CURTISS-WRIGHT- REYNOLDS AIRPORT, Chicago, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Seven balloonists, the pick of five nations, all eager to achieve a new distance record, tonight were ready for their annual classic, the James Gordon Bennttt races, starting tomorrow. The start of the race is scheduled for 3:30 p. m. (C. S. T.) Saturday. Officials of the international air races, in conjunction with which the balloon contest is being held, meanwhile started their program of speed plane events.

Lee Gehlbach, Detroit, Mich., flying a Wedell-Williams special, won the $2,000 free-for-all planes of 1,000 cubic inches piston displacement with a speed of 199.14 miles per hour in the feature race.

Art Chester, Joliet, Ill., was second, making 188.46 miles per hour, and Leland S. Miles, of Los Angeles, was third, with 185 miles per hour.

3 Killed, 8 Injured By Lightning Bolt

CABOT, Ark., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Three persons were killed and eight were injured when lightning struck a cold drink stand on the outskirts of town here tonight. The dead are George Snyder, 35, Little Rock; Gerald Pickard, 78, Cabot, and Earl Sneed, 20, Cabot.

100-MILE WIND SLASHES HAVANA

ning. The sea, whipped before a gale that blasted a clean path through flimsy shanties in coastal villages, swept over the low beaches and threatened to flood the capital in a tidal wave.

100 Miles an Hour.

The wind roared over Havana at 100 miles an hour. The populace, trained by experience with tropical hurricanes, boarded up houses and shops and remained indoors. The streets were deserted. The wind would blow any moving outside into the sea.

The sea swept over Morro castle, the waves running as high as the top of the lighthouse. The naval garrison at La Punta awaited orders to evacuate. The seas lashing the water front rose rapidly as dusk fell, and water stood three feet deep for blocks inland from the furiously churning harbor. Huge blocks of stone were torn from the seawall and tossed about like chips.

The wind tore down wires. Some sections of the city were without lights or telephone communications. In mid-city, trees and scores of signs were blown down by the hurricane.

Scores of small shacks and "bohios," or rude thatched houses, were reported blown down in the outskirts of Havana. The entire Malecon section was flooded.

Steamers in port rode the storm well. Practically all the fishing craft were beached before the wind hit.

A second hurricane, of unknown force, was reported to be forming north of Puerto Rico, 1,100 miles east of Havana. The storm raging here also originated in the same area and traveled in a semi-circle south of the Bahama Islands to hit the Cuban coast in eastern Matanzas province at noon today. All communication east of Matanzas City was severed. No casualties were reported at Matanzas and relatively small damage resulted from the storm.

J. E. BODENHAMER DIES AT HOSPITAL

Resident of Decatur Was Widely Known in Georgia Fraternal Work.

Joshua Edgar Bodenhamer, 58, widely known in Georgia fraternal circles, died unexpectedly Friday afternoon at a private hospital following a short illness. He resided at 307 McDonough street, Decatur.

Mr. Bodenhamer was state inspector of building and loan associations in the office of John B. Wilson, secretary of state.

He was a past grand master and past grand treasurer of the grand lodge of Georgia, I. O. O. F., and was active in the affairs of the organization for many years, being well known in every section of the state through his various fraternal affiliations. He also was a past president of the Atlanta Typographical Union, in which he had held membership for many years, and was a Mason.

Born in Carthage, Mo., July 31, 1875, he resided for some time in Jacksonville, Fla., where he was employed on several newspapers. He later operated newspapers in Dalton, Carrollton and Dallas, Ga., with his father.

For the last 32 years he had resided in Decatur, taking an active part in civic life there. He also was interested in labor movements and state politics.

During the administration of Woodrow Wilson Mr. Bodenhamer served as food administrator for Georgia during the World War. He was later state food and drug inspector for several years.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. H. H. Fudge, of Cleveland, Ohio; six sons, Joe, Jack and Jim Bodenhamer, of Decatur; H. B. Bodenhamer, of Columbus, Ohio; F. L. Bodenhamer, of Augusta, and the Rev. William T. Bodenhamer, of Norman Park; two brothers, M. A. Bodenhamer, of Washington, D. C., and D. G. Bodenhamer, of Cincinnati; and three grandchildren.

H. M. Patterson & Son will announce the funeral arrangements.

BLOOD SPOTS HOLD FATE OF LAMSON IN SCIENCE DUEL

as would water or other liquids with less specific gravity. Rea asked Proescher, as an expert, to describe the spots, seeking an admission as to the tiny tails attached to the main spot of blood. From these he apparently hoped to establish the direction from which the blood had spurted. The court sustained the objection of state attorneys, who declared it was a matter of common observation as to the direction of the tiny tails on blood spots.

To Claim Accident.

Meanwhile, Heinrich, who made a minute examination of the Lamson home a few weeks after Allene's death and who is expected to be a mainstay of the defense in its attempt to show Mrs. Lamson accidentally fell to her death, sat with Lamson's attorneys, framing their questions as they sought to lay a foundation for their case.

It was understood Heinrich has prepared an elaborate series of charts indicating the position of Mrs. Lamson's body as it fell, all founded on the blood spots on the walls and fixtures of the bathroom. From these spots, it was said, the criminologist had determined the direction from which the blood came, and traced it back to the spurting wounds in Mrs. Lamson's head. The state claims most of the blood spots were spattered, not spurted from wounds.

H. S. HERRINGTON DIES UNEXPECTEDLY HERE

Widely Known Insurance Man Was Stricken Ill Thursday Night.

Ill only a day, Herschel S. Herrington, 45, well-known Atlanta businessman, died Friday morning at a private hospital. He was stricken ill Thursday night and was taken to the hospital. He resided on Wieuca road.

Mr. Herrington, head of the firm of A. P. Herrington & Son, with offices in the Peters building, had been in the real estate and loan business in Atlanta for more than 17 years. The company was founded by his father, A. P. Herrington, who died several years ago.

He was a member of the First Methodist church and was also a Shriner.

Surviving are four brothers, Paul G. Herrington, of Atlanta; Edwin Herrington, of El Paso, Texas; Alex Herrington, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Louis B. Herrington, of Louisville, Ky., and two sisters, Mrs. A. Lee Parry, of Huntingdon, W. Va., and Mrs. A. N. Englehart, of Atlanta.

Arrangements for the funeral will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Governor Proclaims Labor Day Holiday

Governor Eugene Talmadge Friday proclaimed Monday, September 4, Labor Day, as a legal holiday in Georgia and urged "all Georgians to suspend their usual" work on this day.

"The industrial and agricultural achievement of this country is but a monument to intelligent and conscientious labor," he said.

"It is but fitting that the nation should pause and pay homage to the men and women who have contributed and who are now contributing to the production of raw materials; to the manufacture and processing of these raw materials into useful articles of daily need, and to labor in all lines."

The state capitol will be closed Monday, in observance of the day. Governor Talmadge is to be a speaker at a Labor Day rally in the city auditorium here Monday evening.

Clear and Cooler Prediction Today

Another clear day is in prospect for Atlanta and temperatures will be lower today than the high of 86 degrees Friday, according to George W. Mindling, official weather observer. Friday dawned as an apparent duplicate of other rain days for a week, but before noon the sun had chased away the clouds and by mid-afternoon was beaming hot slants.

Indications for Sunday point to occasional showers, Mr. Mindling said, as a result of the storm which raged off the Florida coast Friday. Temperature extremes today were predicted at 68 and 82 degrees.

JAMES NEWTON MAYS PASSES AT AGE OF 63

James Newton Mays, 63, for many years a traveling salesman for the International Harvester Company and the Athens Plow Company, died late Friday at his residence on Perkerson road.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the funeral home of Harry G. Poole. Dr. Marion McHull will officiate and interment will be in Roseland cemetery.

Mr. Mays was born July 1, 1875, in Dalton, Ga., where he lived until 1923 when he came to Atlanta. He is survived by his wife, one son, John Mays, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; a brother, Arthur Mays; three sisters, all of Dalton, and C. M. Cline, a step-son, and Mrs. Sterling Smith, of Merchantsville, N. J., a step-daughter.

CAR OPERATOR ROBBED OF CASH AND TICKETS

A lone negro bandit robbed N. R. Sullivan, of 2047 Bankhead highway, street car operator, of $21 worth of tickets, $9 of his own money, and the day's receipts late Friday afternoon at the end of the Magnolia street car line, he reported to police. Sullivan said the armed negro entered the car when he stopped and forced him to turn over the cash and tickets. The amount of the receipts was unknown.

MADDENEDCHIMPANZEE ATTACKS FILM ACTRESS

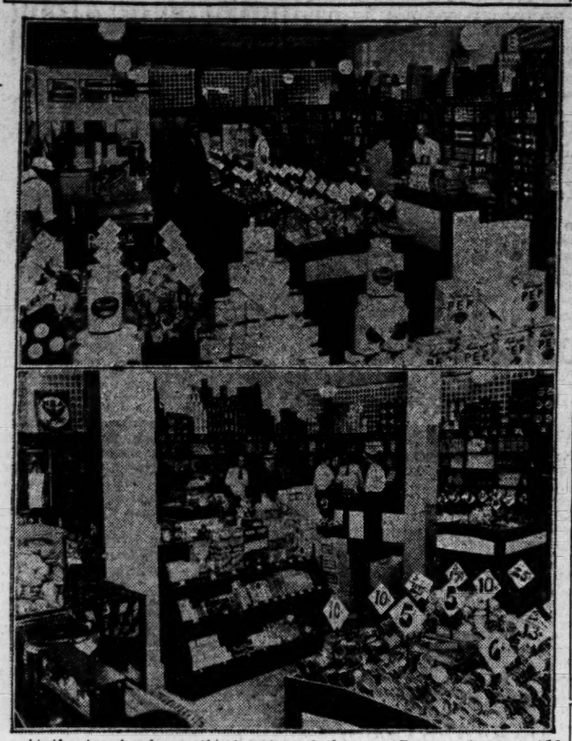

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Attacked by a chimpanzee used for atmosphere in a jungle picture, Carole Lombard, blonde film actress, suffered a lacerated arm today.

A physician dressed the wound inflicted by the sharp claws and teeth of the chimpanzee. It flew into a rage and seized Miss Lombard. Her screams attracted attendants, who drove off the enraged animal.

AUGUST BIRDS.

Someone asked me the other day what had become of the birds. He remarked that he had not noticed as much song, nor seen as many birds as he had enjoyed a week or so ago. The answer is another chapter in the yearly cycle, and a part of the rapidly changing scenes of approaching autumn. Birds are now moulting in preparation for migration later in the year. During this time of moult, they retire to the woods and thickets. Songs are rare, for the exuberance of spirit manifest in bird song demands exuberance of health and bodily fitness. Naturally, when the skin is called upon to supply a new set of feathers to replace those worn by the work of frequent flights to and from the nest, there is naturally not a great deal of energy left for song.

Twenty-four years ago William Beebe wrote of this time of year as the "Grey-days of Birds." Like every other phrase of Dr. Beebe's, this is one rich in meaning. It is an interlude of great significance; it is a time of development and growth, and silence is to the advantage of the songsters, hiding in the still woods.

That gorgeous black and red bird that you saw on its way further north this spring will return this fall, but unless you have taken the trouble to read about the winter plumage of the scarlet tanager, you will hardly know the bird. While the wings and tail retain their jet blackness, the rest of the body becomes a dull olive. Merely one example, but a striking one.

In almost every case, the plumage of the male and female agree more closely now than at any other season. There are birds, of course, that show no sexual dichromatism at all. Those that do differ, however, approach more nearly the mean than the extreme in winter feathers. The difficulty with fall migration lies in the great numbers of young birds. Those in many cases resemble the female, or have a plumage entirely their own. Identifying birds, therefore, in fall migration, is a job for an expert. However, if you begin at a difficult time and continue your studies until the next fall migration, you will be surprised at the ease with which you will spot the species as they pass your door-yard.

Thoughtful Person Safeguards His Family Against Accidents

It has been said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

That may be true; but the man who smugly ignores the chance of being struck the first time is a fool; and it isn't wise even to count on the fact that it's impossible to become the victim of tragedy a second time.

The thoughtful man, with the welfare, comfort and security of his wife and children at heart, safeguards himself and them against the want that follows tragedy. Any thoughtful man—or woman for that matter—cannot fail to be impressed with the peril of the ever-mounting accident wave that is taking such a terrible toll of life and limb.

Consider this significant fact:

These accidents are happening every day. You and your family are not immune from accidents. The thoughtful and correct thing for you to do is to take out this insurance today—for tomorrow may be too late.

The insurance offered you through The Atlanta Constitution is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. This company, during the last several years, has paid to Constitution subscribers and members of their families over $160,000.

The insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into the home at the small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance, to subscribers who live in Atlanta; and to subscribers outside Atlanta and suburbs the rate is $1 per year per policy in addition to the subscription price.

The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specific accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from accidents set forth in the policy, which is at the rate of $43.33 per month. All this for the small fee, as stated above—just about 2 1-2 cents a week, and it is offered to old and new subscribers alike.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship to the insured.

COUNCIL STUDY SOUGHT OF PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Atlanta will investigate the relative advantages of private and public ownership of utilities in so far as rates are concerned if council at its session Tuesday approves a resolution sanctioned Friday by the finance committee.

Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, finance committee chairman, is author of the measure setting up a committee of five, two citizens and three members of council, to make the study.

The committee will be charged specifically with an investigation of the possibility of obtaining power from Muscle Shoals.

The finance committee turned down several amendments to the Gilliam resolution and passed it just as Gilliam submitted it to council at the last regular session.

FARM HEADS OF SOUTH TO MEET HERE MONDAY

Agricultural commissioners of Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia will meet with Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the Ansley hotel to plan a program for a meeting of commissioners of agriculture and representatives of the federal department of agriculture at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Piedmont hotel, G. C. Adams, Georgia commissioner, announced Friday.

The meeting will be held in concert with similar sessions at Memphis and Dallas in an effort to determine on a cotton acreage reduction plan for 1934, Adams said.

HIGH RADIO AUTHORITY SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Colonel Thad Brown, chairman of the federal radio commission, will address a joint meeting of the Atlanta Electrical Association and the Atlanta Institute of Radio Engineers tonight at 6:30 o'clock, at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Supper will be served. Colonel Brown is the highest authority on radio in the United States.

Non-members of these associations who desire to attend the meeting can do so by making reservations for the dinner with the office of the Atlanta Electrical Association, Walnut 4192.

Deer Are Too Plentiful, NorthGeorgiansProtest

Several years ago there was general protest against the scarcity of deer in Georgia. Friday, the shoe was on the other foot. Propagation work of the state game and fish department has resulted so well that Peter S. Twitty, state game and fish commissioner, received a protest from farmers and citizens of the Pickens and Dawson county section that "deer are so plentiful they are destroying our crops."

The protest will be investigated with a view of determining how the deer can be kept and the crops saved from damage, Twitty said. He added that the protest reveals the value to sportsmen of protecting deer, the policy of propagation "creating an abundance where before they were scarce to the point of extinction."

ATLANTA, GA., SEPT. 2, 1933.

COMMON CAUSE WITH CUBA.

An entirely new program, such as the administration indicated is in the making, is necessary for the United States and Cuba.

Machado has fled, leaving behind him a prostrate and sorrowing country mourning the machinations of graft which wrecked the treasury, and the assassination of hundreds of her citizens.

It is impossible to estimate the damage done to education, to the social and economic structure of the nation. Had it not been for the ministering measures of Sumner Welles, United States ambassador, complete chaos would have reigned.

The task of the new government is to liquidate the abuses of the past. There is little doubt but that much of President Roosevelt's sympathy for Cuba was, and is, based on the fact that his administration, too, is liquidating abuses of past administrations and bringing to the people new hope and new inspiration.

Cuba is confronted with communistic activities which were spawned by the murderous rule of the exiled Machado. It is not to be supposed that Cuba and the government of President Cespedes can immediately restore complete order. The sufferings of Cuba for the past eight years cannot be erased from the minds of the people in a week or a month.

The task ahead of our administration is to work out a new deal for Cuba. It is possible that we have forgotten Cuba in the midst of our own tribulations. And yet it is impossible to separate the destinies of the two nations. Our interests are common. The need for the products of each country is mutual. Cuba was one of our better markets.

Cuba's problem is that of any nation with one major agricultural crop. Cuba's crop is sugar. And it is this problem which the administration at Washington is trying to solve. When Cuba's sugar is selling, our markets prosper, because Cuba is a good customer.

There is need for immediate cooperation by this country. Now that Machado has been removed, there is reported a tendency, in certain sections of the powerful A. B. C. society, to turn toward fascism. Restoration of economic stability and a reduction of unemployment would remove this tendency.

The leaders of Cuba very properly do not want intervention by the United States. But they do recognize the mutual interests and obligations of the two nations. And they desire the friendly co-operation of this nation.

The infamy of Machado will be forgotten only when Cuba has been given stability. It is to be a long task. The real revolution in Cuba is to work out a new economic and political structure to replace the corrupt ones of the past. And this nation must be patient and sympathetic. It is encouraging to note this tendency in Washington.

DANGER'S CHIEF HABITATS.

Investigations recently completed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reveal that risk of injury does not exist to the greatest extent, as the average person no doubt believes, on public conveyances such as trains, airplanes, taxicabs, street cars, buses and boats, but rather in the normal activities of home, business and recreational pursuits.

The tabulation of 117,477 injuries shows that stay-at-homes are in almost seven times as much danger as those who travel, either a distance or merely from one section of their community to another.

Of these injuries, 17,000 occurred in homes, 40,000 within the confines of office buildings, hotels, stores, clubs and other public structures, 13,000 in common recreations and sports, including tennis, golf, skating and dancing, and only 25,000 in privately-owned automobiles.

The explanation lies, no doubt, in the fact that when we travel we instinctively are more careful, while we grow careless during the performance of the routine of daily life at home and in the business world. This is borne out by the fact that a much larger per cent of persons are injured getting in and out of the beds in their homes than in the more hazardous job of entering or leaving sleeping car berths.

From which it would appear that the old-time motto of "God Bless Our Home," should be replaced by the modern-day warning of "Watch Your Step."

DOWNTOWN AIRPORTS.

Commenting upon the airport construction feature of the federal public works program, former Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, now president of the National Aeronautical Association, points to the need of more central location of airports than is now the case.

He cites that in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and other large cities much time is required for air travelers to go from the existing airports to the business centers of the cities, a situation that is a major handicap faced by air transportation lines in their efforts to increase their patronage.

In practically all the large cities it takes more than half an hour to go from the airports to the hotel districts, and either heavy taxicab expense must be incurred or an airport bus used, necessitating a still greater consumption of time and another transfer from the centrally local air depot to the traveler's destination.

Senator Bingham feels that there are tracts near the heart of most of the large cities of the country which could be developed as self-liquidating airports, which would soon pay for themselves. While the task would probably be too costly a one for private capital, he feels that a number of such airports could be financed by the government and used as a nucleus for the development of a nation-wide system of downtown airports.

These airports, he points out, need not be as large as those situated on the outskirts of the cities and would not contemplate the abandonment of present fields. The downtown airports would be simply for the discharging of passengers and the ships would then proceed to the more distant airports, just as trains go to outlying railroad yards after their passengers have alighted at downtown stations.

Atlanta furnishes a good illustration of the feasibility of such centrally located airports. Ample room for ships coming in from any direction exists in the territory lying northeast of the Spring Street viaduct and occupied now only by railroad tracks, and residential and business dwellings of but little value.

Ships landing on a field located at this point could taxi up to an airport depot located across the viaduct from the present Union depot and alighting passengers would be within two or three blocks of the heart of the city.

Atlanta is fortunate in the existence of a large area, practically undeveloped, contiguous to the heart of the city, but other municipalities undoubtedly have areas within their limits that could be used for airports.

The development of such a downtown airport would give a great impetus to aviation in Atlanta, already the air hub of the south. It is a project that is perhaps not feasible at this time, but it is one that should certainly be carefully considered before the growth of the city enhances the value of inlying tracts to a prohibitive figure.

Marriage happiness is mostly home-made.

Seems to us like the forgotten man is Andrew Mellon.

To say the least, the blue eagle is not a rare bird.

It takes lots of gray matter to get out of the red.

The Dalton Citizen says what the country needs is "Faith." And also money.

Woman wins her victories through tenacity, says Dr. Will Durant. And also tears.

Maybe the reason youth is inclined to be wild is in an effort to keep up with their elders.

The reason some people never get anywhere is because they are going around in circles.

The Augusta Chronicle has an editorial entitled: "Writing Conquers Debts." But debt conquers most writers.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Our Problem Remains.

All over the world there is a failure of adjustment between the level of costs and the level of prices. That is the depression. Until these levels are adjusted the depression cannot totally lift. At the same time the degree of adjustment necessary in different countries is very different. There remains a natural impatience on the part of the public and businessmen that something should be done. But if we are walking around on a mountain precipice in the fog it is no good saying that something should be done if you don't know the way. The only thing to do is to stand still and wait till the fog clears.

It would be highly dangerous if premature solutions of technical and difficult problems were to be forced upon the world in order to satisfy man's natural impatience. There are very great practical dangers arising from the circumstance that the credit and currency machine can easily get out of hand once an upward movement of prices has commenced. Reflation experiments have shown a distinct tendency in the past to go wrong so long as currency is divorced from a metallic basis.

Animals in Russia.

Yesterday I spotted the first dog I ever saw in Russia. Last year I didn't see any. The fellow I saw yesterday was a good-looking Alsatian. A few hours afterward I noticed two more: an Irish setter and a nondescript cur who seemed quite happy. I also saw a dead one lying on the Newsky, now October Prospect. If the theory of the French is correct that wherever there are dogs, things are not so bad, Russia is picking up.

Horses there are plenty, powerful wiry little animals and in the army they look excellent, as in all armies of my acquaintance. They were better looked after than men in the war years, as every artillerist or cavalryman will tell you. But cattle you don't see in Russia. A whole evening of looking out of the train carriage window from Leningrad to Moscow, an occupation that was resumed at dawn, failed to reveal more than one red-skinned heifer. Of course, there are fine dairy farms in the new Russia and milk is to be had, but there is also a scarcity of meat. In cattle, Russia is short at least 50 million cows.

Health Talks

NO REASON WHY A WOMAN MAY NOT SWIM.

A distinguished physician, Dr. Clelia Duel Mosher, for some years medical adviser of women in Stanford University, has one of those "queer notions" I am subject to, but she has it in a comparatively mild form.

In her fine little book, "Personal Hygiene for Women," published by Stanford University Press, (and an ideal $1.50 gift for any girl, I should think), Dr. Mosher says:

"The importance of bathing is also overlooked, especially at the menstrual period. Why should a woman alter all her habits of life so sharply at the time of menstruation? This alone is sufficient to account for many of her symptoms. At the time of her functional periodicity she needs more rather than less bathing, provided . . ."

Here I deeply regret to say the author uses a lot of weasel words that suck the significance out of the wholesome and sane view already expressed. Perhaps her purpose was to let the old fogies down gently. Or it may be that her publishers decided the doctor's teaching was too startling and she'd have to add on a few hundred words to salve down the old parties who have the most to say if not much to do in medicine today. Publishers are like that. If you have any clear ideas to impart to the public you had better be your own publisher and take all the blame or censure yourself.

Why should a woman change her habits of life so sharply at the time of her functional periodicity? No reason that an intelligent person can express in unequivocal language. And why should she change her whole attitude and her philosophy or her way of thinking at this time?

The woman at this time may bathe, Dr. Mosher says, provided care is taken to prevent chilling of the surface, and provided she gradually accustoms herself, without fear or worry in regard to consequences, to rational bathing at this as well as other times.

That's too bad. I have recommended Dr. Mosher's book to a great many young women who sought essential knowledge and sound advice on the subject, and I'd relucr to discourage any girl or woman from enjoying a swim or a bath whenever she might wish to go in.

All these to whom I have recommended the book and others who have yet to read it should know there is no sense in that quaint idea of getting gradually accustomed to bathing or to swimming or to going in the water. I mean so far as health or hygiene is concerned. Any girl who is not feeble-minded ought to know enough to come out when she is too cold to enjoy the water any longer, or to stay out if the water is so cold no one can enjoy it. By the same token any girl, child, woman or man may safely decide for thonself at any time or in any circumstances whether they will go in swimming or take a bath. No one but an idiot needs a doctor or any one else to caution care about such a question.

I hope that when Dr. Mosher revises her excellent little book she'll delete the Saireygamp stuff from the third chapter.

DAY BY DAY

In Georgia's History

One hundred and eighty-one years ago today Georgia accepted the Georgian calendar instead of the Julian calendar. September that year had only 19 days.

On September 6, 1779, General Prevost strengthened the works at what place?

For the two best 12-word original answers to the foregoing question, Loew's Grand theater, co-operating with The Constitution, will award two pairs of guest tickets to see "Broadway to Hollywood." Answers must be mailed to the Day-by-Day Editor, Constitution, and must bear a postmark not later than midnight tomorrow.

"Broadway to Hollywood" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, starring Jackie Cooper, Jimmy Durante, Alice Brady and Frank Morgan. This picture started a week's run at the Grand Friday.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon.

JOBS WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The patronage sparring between Interior Secretary (Battling) Ickes and Postmaster-General (Waiting Game) Farley has the inner circle in hysterics. It is the comedy hit of this administration.

No blood is being spilled. Both boys are good friends. They are just trying to outwit each other by adroit footwork.

There is no question but what Farley won the first round. He hoodwinked Ickes into appointing Emil Hurja as executive assistant in the public works set-up. Hurja knows how to make jobs mean votes. He had just cleaned out the R. F. C. for Farley, leaving it virtually nude of republicans.

He has started in to install the same practical principles in the public works regime.

ROUND 10 The inside onlookers say that the first thing Hurja did was to promise or hand out about 100 jobs. They went to Farley men, of course. Some worked for about ten days.

When it came time for them to get their pay, no authorization was forthcoming from Ickes.

It appears he had been hoodwinked less than Farley thought. He issued orders forthwith that his new executive assistant was to handle other things than patronage. The Farley workers were finally paid and then let go.

Hurja was left twiddling his thumbs.

DISGUISES Hurja frankly confessed to one jobseeker: "I have no more influence around here than an office boy."

Obviously that situation will not continue long. Farley cannot be beaten so easily.

The inside wagering is strongly in favor of an ultimate victory for the postmaster-general. The latest tip is that he will have the Farley jobseekers apply to Ickes disguised as progressives. The idea is that Ickes is strongly against appointing democrats solely because they are democrats. He wants men burning with zeal.

The disguise will be easy. All the Farley men will have to do is drop a little belladonna in their eyes.

BIG MEETING An inside account of what transpired when Montagu Norman met in deepest secrecy with our officials at the Federal Reserve bank (New York), has been related by one of the participants. He says:

"I walked in and said: 'Good day, Mr. Norman.' He said: 'Good day. You come from Atlanta, don't you?' I said: 'Yes and I understand you are from London.' He said: 'Yes, I have never been to Atlanta.' I said: 'Well, I have been to London and next to Atlanta I would say London is all right.' That was the extent of our conversation.

"His conversation with the others present was just about the same. Then we adlourned."

It appears that for once the truth is being told about a Norman conference. The real business was done earlier and was not very important.

It was the private agreement whereby dollar credits are not to be thrown on the market in London as they come. They are to be fed out little by little so as to prevent violent fluctuations in exchange.

LEGION Announcement will be made shortly that Mr. Roosevelt is going to speak to the American Legion convention in Chicago later this month.

That would come under the head of bearding the lions, except that the Legion leaders now believe the convention will be less lively than advertised. They think they have the situation well in hand.

Recent state conventions of the Legion have accepted the national policy of moderation concerning the administration's economy program. There are some exceptions, notably Massachusetts and the District of Columbia.

The moderation policy will be further helped by the list of other speakers. Some outstanding opponents of the veterans' economy program are expected to exert a quieting influence.

This sane course is advocated by nearly all the topmost Legion advisers. They believe Legion prestige can best be promoted by making the best of a bad situation. They must work with the administration for four or eight years. Nothing is to be gained by throwing rocks so early in the game.

NOTES Mr. Roosevelt will make the "Century of Progress" at the same time as the Legion convention. It is possible but not probable that the Legion leaders have underestimated the strength of their opposition. Western Legionnaires think well of the chances of George Malone to be national commander.

General Johnson barked at a newsman in a press conference the other day. Later he called the newsman in and apologized. State Secretary Hull once did the same thing at the London conference, but in a different way. Instead of apologizing he told the newsman at the next press conference: "If you will ask me some more questions, I will try to answer them."

Letters From a Bald-Headed Dad to a Flapper Daughter

BY ROBERT QUILLEN

My dear Louise:

If you love your old dad, beware of strangers.

I still wake up at night and relive that dreadful time when you disappeared after the wreck of Jim's car. All of the other girls had reached home. You were an hour overdue and the night had swallowed you. The only word we had was the soothing report of the chaperon who had joined the searchers: "We found the car wrecked, but there wasn't much blood."

ROBERT QUILLEN.

We found you at Dr. Thomason's, with no hurt except a scratch on your scalp, but I aged a number of years in as many minutes and I wouldn't repeat the experience for many a dollar.

Perhaps there is no danger of your disappearing, for kidnapers aren't interested in small fry; but you never can tell what crazy idea will enter a criminal mind and there's no sense in taking chances. Nobody will be wholly safe until the last "snatcher" is swinging from a telephone pole.

I don't wish to frighten you, but you must be on your guard. If strangers make advances—especially strangers who aren't our kind of folks—take no chance at all. No matter what plausible reasons they offer, and no matter how courteous or flattering they may be, don't take a single step with them.

If the worst happens, scream blue murder. Fight tooth and nail. They can hurt you no worse in a fight than they would after your capture.

Fortunately you live in a region where people don't look on without interest while a crime is in process. One scream for help will bring every man and woman within hearing.

That means you will be safe if you keep within shouting distance of a crowd. Under no circumstances get beyond reach of help until America is civilized again.

In this, as in other matters, you run little risk if you use common sense and never go where you shouldn't be.

Love,
DAD.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 1.—Out of 2,700 girls interviewed, seven chosen for the lead roles in "Eight Girls in a Boat" now begin preliminary work. They arrive in movieland from all over the country: Marie Louise Fisher from Detroit; Violet Foran from Cleveland; Adele Pearce, San Francisco; Betty Gray, Washington, D. C.; Eleanor Lovegren, Boston; Violet Stiegerwald, San Diego, and Mildred Hollis, New York.

Here in Hollywood they will select the eighth member of the cast, since Charles Rogers believes that the combined opinions of these girls as to what is fascinating in their own sex and age will be a valuable contribution to the picture.

Here's a new one in a town so full of new gags that it makes one dizzy. In Cap'n Jericho" the script calls for a boat load of garbage. Studio heads conferred, decided that it was not fair to expose the company to the contamination of rotting foods, and have concocted ten tons of imitation product by the simple method of buying fresh vegetables, fruits, etc., and making them into the biggest combination salad on record—fresh, sanitary garbage.

I wonder why Charles Laughton is leaving his comfortable berth in Hollywood with its fat salary to play Shakespearean roles in jolly old England for one hundred dollars the week. It couldn's be all whimsicality although there is a place for whimsicality—(in my opinion the topmost branches of a pine tree). But the good old sensible British thought back of it all is this:

"I believe," says Laughton, "one of the most valuable assets that any actor, whether of stage or screen, can have is experience in the classical drama. One of my greatest regrets is that I have never acquired this background and that is one reason I am going back to England this fall to do eight months of Shakespearean repertoire.

"It was my good fortune—or misfortune—whichever you call it—to be skyrocketed when I first started stage work. I never had a chance to get the training that every actor should have in the good old standbys of the stage. Helen Hayes, Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne and others feel about it as I do."

Laughton points to Dudley Digges as one whose ease of manner, stage presence and acting polish were acquired in this way.

Virginia Assembly Will Adjourn Today

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 1.—(UP) The Virginia house of delegates tonight passed the $16,000,000 emergency road bill and the assembly prepared to adjourn the special session tomorrow.

Both houses will meet in the morning to consider a resolution putting Governor Pollard and the budget advisory commission under specific instructions to take care of the public school heeds during the approaching term.

The assembly convened August 17 in extraordinary session to legalize beer and provide referendums on repeal of the state dry law and on the national prohibition repeal amendment. Both referendums are to be held November 7. Beer will become legal on Labor Day.

Oil Men Seek Code Fixing All Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A recommendation that President Roosevelt employ his discretionary powers to fix the price of oil and its products from the well-mouth to the gasoline tank was said to have been decided upon tonight by the industry's planning and co-ordination committee.

The recommendation is subject to approval by Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator, before it goes to Mr. Roosevelt for final approval and calls for price-fixing for a test period of not more than 90 days. After this test period it would be unlawful to buy or sell petroleum for less than the cost determined by the federal administrative agency and approved by the president.

CAROLINAS CLOSE ALL LEAF MARTS, PLAN U. S. APPEAL

for his crop. The principal domestic and export tobacco companies have buyers on the Carolinas markets.

Aid Planned.

While the farmers were organizing for their battle for better prices, word came out of Washington today that the farm administration had laid plans for a program to raise the price of flue-cured tobacco and would announce it shortly.

It was indicated the plan would include a processing tax.

Warehousemen in most of the North Carolina markets met today and voted to support the plan for a holiday. A meeting of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's Association was called for tonight, however, to take formal action. Indications prior to the meeting were that they might request that partial operations be continued for a day or so to take care of tobacco which might be damaged if not marketed immediately.

The tobacco markets do not operate on Saturday and how completely the holiday plan will be carried out will not be seen until Monday.

Those appointed by Governor Pollard to represent Virginia were State Commissioner of Agriculture George W. Koiner, J. Hurt Whitehead, of Chatham, and Tucker Watkins, representing the Virginia Bright Tobacco Growers' Marketing Association, and N. B. Davidson, of Farmville, and Thomas B. Hall, of Farmville, representing the dark-fired tobacco growers, and Joel Flood, of Appomatox, a tobacco grower.

U. S. OUTLINES PLAN FOR CROP REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The farm adjustment administration today replied to the demands of flue-cured tobacco growers for relief by announcing a program which includes benefit payments in return for promises to reduce the crop next year.

In addition, Secretary Wallace said similar "adjustment programs" would be inaugurated for 1934 crops of Burley, Maryland dark air-cured and dark fire-cured types of tobacco.

In order to raise money to pay the farmers, a processing tax will be levied on all flue-cured tobacco processed for domestic consumption.

The levy will be applied October 1 and the farm administration hinted it would be around 4 cents a pound by asserting it "could be" at that rate. Four cents is the difference between the present price of tobacco and the parity price, the latter figure being the amount flue-cured tobacco would have to bring to have the purchasing power it had in the period from 1919 to 1929.

The farm administration said the processing tax on tobacco in the marketing year beginning October 1 would raise around $10,000,000 and that all of that amount—if necessary—would be "used to bring the production of the 1934 flue-cured tobacco crop as much below the present level of consumption requirements as the present crop is above that level."

Details of the plan remain to be worked out, but J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco section, said it involved cash payments to individual growers who promised to reduce production. The reduction will be on an allotment basis through which the growers will diminish the quantity of tobacco, figured on a poundage basis, which they will deliver to market.

Tobacco experts figured that a reduction of 15 per cent in flue-cured tobacco would be sufficient, theoretically at least, to raise the price to parity.

MRS. ROOSEVELT VISITS KIN ON LONG ISLAND

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 1.—(UP) Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president, arrived here quietly late today to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parish, the latter her cousin and godmother.

She will remain at Ludlow cottage, the Parish summer place, until Sunday. Several entertainments will be arranged in her honor by members of the social colony.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Army orders:

Colonel E. R. Warner McCabe, field artillery, to Fort Bragg.

Lieutenant Colonel Frederick C. Phelp, infantry; Captain William F. Saportas, cavalry; First Lieutenant William R. Clarke, Second Lieutenant I. M. Dalbotten, army nurse corps, retired.

Major Irvin V. Todd, finance department, to presidio of San Francisco.

Second Lieutenant John C. Street, field artillery, to army retiring board.

First Lieutenant Frank G. Calkin, chemical warfare service reserve, to Fort Du-Pont.

Majors William McCleave, field artillery, to Detroit; Paul E. McNabb, medical corps, to presidio of San Francisco.

Second Lieutenant Joseph L. Cowbey, field artillery, to New London: Earl F. Singer, infantry, to Randolph field.

First Lieutenant Carlton O. MacNeely, infantry reserve, ordered from Columbus to Fort Benning.

RESERVE ORDERS.

The war department also announced that the following Georgians had accepted appointment or promotions in the reserve corps, U. S. A.:

Appointments: Henry McCall Freeman, Athens, second lieutenant, F. A. reserve; Robert William Price, Atlanta; Corley Felix Pickron, Damascus, second lieutenants, C. A. reserve.

Promotions: Mathis Andrew Esell, Atlanta, first lieutenant, infantry reserve; Peter Frank Pinkerton, Macon, first lieutenant, ordnance reserve; Russell Louis Speights, Decatur, first lieutenant, infantry reserve; Charles William Spengler, Atlanta, first lieutenant, ordnance reserve; William Joseph White, Macon, first lieutenant, ordnance reserve.

CITY SEEKS TO TAX HOLDERS OF STOCK

Suit Demands List of Shareholders of Southeastern Express Co.

Atlanta Friday initiated a move to place stocks owned by Atlantans, estimated at millions of dollars, on the tax digests.

A suit filed in Fulton county superior court demanded the list of all Atlanta stockholders in the Southeastern Express Company, a foreign corporation.

Harry M. Perkerson, tax assessor, said the suit was to obtain similar information which already has been received from the Coca-Cola Company, and which will be directed against others unless they voluntarily submit such lists.

He declined to estimate the additional revenue which might be produced but the Atlanta tax rate is $1.50 for each $100 worth of property, computed on its cash value as of January 31, 1933.

Perkerson said Atlanta banks pay on a different basis and would not be subject to the drive for the stock.

The express company is a foreign corporation, incorporated in Alabama, and although the president, Joseph E. Skaggs, and the secretary, Ferris W. Wood, and the company's books and records are located in Atlanta, the city has no power, under municipal or state laws, to demand access to its stock list except through the courts, the petition of the city, filed Friday, sets out.

FRENCH BORDER PROTECTION ADEQUATE, DALADIER SAYS

PARIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier today told the French cabinet about the strength of France's new steel and concrete defense chain along the German frontier, while nazi followers of Chancellor Hitler were opening their "victory convention" in Nurnberg, Germany.

The premier's report of his recent inspection tour, as war minister, of the solid barrier of ultra-modern fortifications occupied the cabinet meeting, except for Daladier's outline of Austro-German troubles.

The new fortifications cost $100,000,000 and include trenches and dugouts over a 125-mile line.

M. Daladier described the new defenses as adequate in blocking an invasion.

Approval was understood to have been given of Austria's announced intention of raising her army to full treaty strength of 30,000 by recruiting 8,000 militiamen. No action, however, was announced by the cabinet.

FORD PLANS CODE, NO PROFIT SHARING

based on profits. The interest now is about 4 per cent, but at one period it was as high as 16 per cent.

By next Tuesday—the day the automobile code becomes effective—it was indicated, Ford will be back from his vacation in the north woods of Michigan. While there he has refused any comment on the NRA with the crisp statement, "I have nothing at all to say on the NRA." By the same day Edsel Ford, vacationing at Seal Harbor, Maine, will have returned here. Several other Ford officials, absent during the regular vacation period for executives, will return. President Roosevelt, who recently asked from General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, a report on Ford's refusal to sign the code, will have returned to Washington from a sea voyage.

"We look for the whole thing to be cleared up by next Tuesday," said a Ford associate. But, with a broad smile, he declined to say just what method will be employed in "clearing it up."

All the Ford officials who have remained in Detroit during the vacation period have indicated, although refusing to be quoted, that the motor manufacturer, veteran of many "go it alone" campaigns, has not changed his mind about remaining outside the NRA agreement. Questioned as to the Ford company's plans, they point out repeatedly that the Ford Motor Company pays better than the minimum wage demanded in the NRA automotive code, and that the employes work an eight-hour, five-day week. The NRA code demands a 43-cent-an-hour minimum wage, and 35 hours a week, while the present Ford rate is 50 cents an hour.

A 25 per cent increase in salary, Ford associates point out, would place the company back on the $5-a-day wage.

Ford, several weeks ago in his last public statement on the NRA code, declared he would have to "live down to it." He has been represented as objecting strenuously to possibilities of unionization through provisions of the code, but has made no comment on the representations.

At his Huron Mountain Club, 40 miles north of Marquette in the upper peninsula, Ford today continued uncommunicative.

FOUR DAYS FOR FORD REALLY ONLY FOUR HOURS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(UP) The four days left in which Henry Ford may bring his vast automobile plants under the blue eagle were in effect cut abruptly to four hours today, when the national recovery administration proclaimed a week-end holiday.

For the first time since its offices opened in the department of commerce, the NRA will be dark and silent over a week-end, beginning at 1 p. m. tomorrow. No business will be transacted until 9 a. m. Tuesday. The agriculture department, center of farm relief activity, also will be closed until Tuesday.

It is on Tuesday that the automobile code—signed by every manufacturer except Ford—becomes effective. Thus if Ford is consideraing any negotiation over abandonment of his opposition to the NRA he will have to do it in the four hours between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. tomorrow unless he can reach Hugh S. Johnson and arrange special consideration.

Ford can no longer offer his own code, as has been reported to be his plan, for the last day for filing new codes was today. NRA officials, who insist Ford must sign the automobile code if he wants a blue eagle, had made it clear that they would not accept a separate Ford code anyway.

FORD MAY TERMINATE STAY AT CAMP TODAY

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Henry Ford apparently is preparing to end his two-week vacation at the Huron Mountain Club, near here, probably tomorrow, and return by boat to Detroit.

E. W. Evans Named Head of U. S. Bar

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 1. (AP)—The American Bar Association concluded the business session of its annual convention today with a warning that the nation's legal talent should prepare itself to change the judicial machinery to take care of the situation if the present emergency program of the government becomes a permanent policy.

The warning was contained in the report of the committee on administration law, delivered by its chairman, Louis G. Caldwell, of Washington. The report was read after the association had elected officers, headed by Earl W. Evans, of Wichita, Kan., as president, to carry on its work during the coming year.

In his report Caldwell pointed to the address of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings yesterday in which the attorney general referred to the temporary nature of the recovery program and other emergency legislation.

William P. McCracken Jr., of Washington, former assistant secretary of commerce in charge of aeronautics, was retained in office as secretary of the bar association for another year, also by unanimous vote, and John H. Voorhees, Sioux Falls, S. D., attorney, was re-elected treasurer.

The assistant secretary, Richard Bentley, and the executive secretary, Mrs. Olive G. Ricker, both of Chicago, were reappointed by the executive committee.

Evans, as president, succeeds Clarence E. Martin, of Martinsburg, W. Virginia.

lection of $5 by A. M. Brown, who it is charged, represented to G. B. Leinbach that the courtesy card might help if Brown got into a "little trouble." Count four charges that Sturdivant authorized W. M. Francis to make false representations to J. R. Scott, vice president and manager of the Bonded Service Warehouse Company, in collecting $10.

Mayor James L. Key Friday expressed "full confidence in the honor and integrity of Chief Sturdivant," and said "I have a great admiration for his faithfulness and efficiency as a public servant."

Chief Sturdivant, in a statement, denied any wrong-doing and asked the public to withhold judgment until all of the facts have been presented.

Bonds for Sturdivant and other defendants in the yearbook case have been set at $50 each, it was said.

Bowden Urges Suspension.

"The city of Atlanta is being embarrassed by the indictment of Chief Sturdivant," said Alderman Bowden. "He is my personal friend and I am his friend, but I can't sit idly by and not raise my voice in protest against a man under indictment continuing in public office.

"I think Chief Sturdivant should be suspended until the charges against him have been tried and disposed of.

"If the police committee of city council sees fit not to take action between now and Tuesday, when general council meets, I intend to initiate a move looking to the suspension of Chief Sturdivant until the cases against him have been disposed of."

Members of the police committee Thursday announced that they would not suspend the chief. Councilman C. W. Childs, of the fifth ward, Friday said that "records show that other policemen under charges have been suspended until the indictments could be cleared up, and, in fairness to the public and to members of the police department, I think that no partiality should be shown."

Some move to suspend Sturdivant may be made in council at its meeting Tuesday, it was indicated.

Back Use of U. S. Funds.

The grand jury, in its presentments which are printed in another column of The Constitution, approved the borrowing of money from the federal government for badly needed improvements, and recommended that arrangements be made to dispose of court cases which have been hanging fire since 1925, in order that the dockets may be cleared.

The jury urged that plats and field books be provided so as to show the owner's name and description of the property for the aid of the tax assessors' office. The jury also recommended complete co-operation of all officers—city, county and state—in investigating crimes and apprehending criminals. Reduction in the county tax rate was requested.

READ DENIES LOVE FOR FILM ACTRESS

was I in a pickle?"

Read said his love for the actress was a thing of the past.

One of Miss Windsor's letters said: "Dearest, well, it's Tuesday and no letter from Alfred since last Saturday night. . . . This just a small note, but when I don't hear from you I don't feel like writing."

Another: "Dear Al: Well, still no mail. What is wrong? Your letters have been few and far between and the tone has not been the same." And another: "Do write a longer letter some time. The last one two days ago was half a page. I guess I should be thankful for small favors, eh?"

About this time, Read was expressing noticeable perturbation in his letters. One said: "I am so mixed up and so down in the dumps that I feel like taking a plane up about 10,000 feet and letting her go into a tailspin."

The next day he wrote from Oakland that "the fireworks have started and Marian (Mrs. Read) one minute is getting a divorce and the next minute swears I shall never have you."

"This has not bothered me as much as the trouble that might come out of it all," he wrote. "I certainly would never want your name brought into it, as the publicity would not help you or do you any good. So do rest assured, dear, that you will be left out of it completely."

The smartly dressed Miss Windsor, resuming the witness stand for a time, was questioned about the fact that Read on one day received three letters and a telegram from her.

Asked to explain this, she replied heatedly: "I don't know. That's a forgotten romance. I put it out of my mind many, many months ago, so long ago I don't remember the details."

The trial was recessed until next Wednesday to give lawyers in the case time to attend to other business.

LINDY IS EXPECTED TO FLY TO ENGLAND

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Although Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh declines to reveal his plans, a rumor is circulating that the flyer and his wife will remain here a day or two longer, then fly to England and board a liner for the United States.

The airman today visited the institute of pathology.

CONFESSION FALSE, WESTBERRY AVERS

Defendant on Stand Describes "Third Degree" Inflicted by Officers.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Austin Westberry in an unsworn statement to the jury today said he was innocent of the killings of W. H. Browning and his wife three years ago and asserted that officers cursed him, beat him and "broke me down" until he was ready to sign any confession they offered.

The defense rested after Westberry, in his 40 minute talk to the second Lowndes county jury to try him, had traced his activities from a week prior to the killings until after the Brownings were killed.

The youthful defendant said "officers scared me to death" and had him so afraid of death in the electric chair that he agreed to sign anything. The defense throughout the trial has declared that the alleged confession made by Westberry was obtained by force.

In his statement Westberry named A. T. Bell, former Brooks county deputy sheriff, as the "father of all those confessions" and stated that Police Chief T. O. Sturdivant and former Detective Frank C. Foster, of the Atlanta department, Police Chief Kendall, of Valdosta; Ralph Myddleton, former Lowndes county officer, and O. T. Hill, special officer for the Southern railroad, were instrumental in obtaining what he said was a "false" confession from him.

The state, as soon as the defense rested, placed witnesses on the stand to testify they would believe the testimony of Sheriff Colin Clanton, of Brooks County. The defense had sought to impeach Clanton's testimony by presenting Wallace Harrell, Quitman attorney, who said the sheriff had told him he knew nothing about the confessions he is alleged to have heard.

Harrell swore that Clanton told him that his deputy, Bell, was so active in trying to get a confession from Westberry and Padgett, while they were prisoners in the Brooks county jail, that he could not get him to go into the county and serve papers and make levies.

Harrell also testified that Clanton said Bell was carrying cold drinks and sandwiches to prisoners and trying in every way to get a confession, and that it looked fishy to him.

Clanton went back on the stand and testified that he considered Harrell his friend and that he "is a high-toned gentleman. If he made any such statement about what I said I believe he was mistaken." Clanton further stated on the stand that he did admonish Bell to let the Lowndes county officers attend to the prisoners and that when Bell came to him with a purported confession he refused to consider it and called the Lowndes county officers to personally look after the confession. However, Clanton said, he was personally present when Austin Westberry made the confession which has been introduced into the records.

Harrell, placed back on the stand, on cross-examination by the state said he defended many accused against whom Sheriff Clanton appeared as prosecutor. He said that he had one client now under death sentence and was trying to secure executive clemency.

FARMERS IN COLQUITT RUSH COTTON HARVEST

MOULTRIE, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—With tobacco out of their way, farmers in the Moultrie section this week have been centering their efforts on their cotton crop and receipts at the local warehouses have been unusually heavy. It was said that twice as many bales per day have been rolling into Moultrie to be ginned, or already ginned, as were at this time last year.

The holding movement seems to be gaining strength and about 40 per cent of the cotton brought in during the week was being left in storage. Practically the entire crop is open, but many fields haven't yet been reached by the cotton pickers. Growers are hurrying the work as rapidly as possible because of the possible damage from bad weather. Winds and rains can play havoc with the grade of cotton and growers don't take any more chances than they have to.

ATLANTA BOY SCOUTS RETURN FROM EUROPE

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ninety-four of the 400 Boy Scouts of America who attended the International Scout Jamboree at Godillo, Czechoslovakia, returned today on the liner Aquitania.

William L. Brady, of Atlanta, Ga., Scoutmaster, and his group of ten Georgia youths, were among those returning.

HAWKS FINISHES HOP, SEATTLE TO CHICAGO

Solicitor Will Name Own Bailiff, He Says

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP) Solicitor-General A. Jones Perryman, of the Chattahoochee circuit superior courts, expects to appoint his own bailiff for duty in Muscogee county courts.

He served notice on county commissioners in session here that state law gives him that authority and makes it mandatory that the commissioners fix his salary at a reasonable sum.

Commissioners previously had named C. A. Ellison bailiff for both the city and county courts here and fixed his salary at $125 a month. This action was rescinded by resolution adopted yesterday after a conference with Solicitor Perryman.

PAPER SEES 2 IN RACE FOR PORT COLLECTOR

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The visit of Senator Walter F. George to Savannah this week gave impetus to three important federal jobs which are to be filled, collector of the port of Savannah, United States district attorney for the southern district of Georgia and an assistant district attorney for the same district.

The Savannah Press said that the recent developments indicated that the collectorship of the port of Savannah lay between Henry C. Walthour and Spence M. Grayson.

The paper also indicated that Judge J. Savton Daniel, of Claxton, was the leading candidate for district attorney for the southern district and Julian Hartridge for assistant district attorney.

Senator George declined to discuss the appointment of the collector of the port. The senior Georgia senator received applicants for the position during his visit here.

From here the senator returned to his home in Vienna.

Names advanced to Senator George for the collectorship included Spence M. Grayson, S. N. Harris, Leroy Hendricks, Henry C. Walthour, M. M. Hopkins, Thomas M. Hoynes and Joseph H. Winkers.

M. O. Dunning is the present collector of the port to which he was appointed under the republican administration.

INDIAN SPRINGS HOST TO 'Y' SECRETARIES

INDIAN SPRINGS, Ga., Sept. 1.—During the week-end of September 1-3 the annual conference of Y. M. C. A. secretaries of Georgia is being held at the Elder hotel here. The work of the conference as outlined by the executive committee, made up of I. C. Moyer, of Columbus, chairman; W. E. Griffin, Manchester; H. T. Quillian, Rome, and H. W. Rohrer, Atlanta, is to review the work of the movement during the past 12 months, and planning for a constructive service of the Y. M. C. A.'s of the state during the 12 months beginning with September.

It is intended that special attention will be given to plans for most constructive leisure time activities of those who may still be unemployed and for those who are going to have an enlarged number of leisure hours due to the development of NRA program in the state.

Included in advance registrations for the conference are: C. P. Whiting, Albany; P. M. Colbert, Atlanta Central; B. F. Stevenson, Atlanta Railroad; I. C. Moyer, R. B. Eubanks and H. R. Carter, of Columbus; W. P. Sheppard, LaGrange; P. A. McArthur and Mendes Leggett, of Macon; W. E. Griffin and T. P. Barclay, Manchester Mills; J. H. Kenney, Moultrie; T. T. Shepherd, Savannah; M. R. Parker, A. C. L. Railroad, Waycross, and H. W. Rohrer, state secretary, state council of the Y. M. C. A.'s of Georgia, Atlanta.

ALLEGED KIDNAPERS ASKED FROM CAROLINA

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—State authorities in Raleigh, N. C., have been asked to release Leo McIntosh and Lester Tripp, escaped Georgia convicts, so they can be tried in Augusta federal court on charges of kidnaping John C. Lyle, rural mail carrier of Crawfordville, Georgia.

They are held in Raleigh accused of complicity in a bank robbery. Paul Jones, a negro, said by authorities to have been a companion of the fugitives, has been returned to Georgia and has been charged with participating in the kidnaping. United States Commissioner Ed S. Griffith, of Atlanta, fixed his bond at $20,000 pending trial.

Lyle was kidnaped near Crawfordville and his automobile was seized by three men who tied him in a barn near Wake Forest, N. C.

STARKES SENTENCED TO DIE ON OCTOBER 5

JONESBORO, Ga., Sept. 1.—A Clayton county jury found Jim Starkes guilty of the murder of Mrs. Robert Coleman in Clayton county in March, 1929.

He has been sentenced to be electrocuted October 5.

This is the second time Starkes has been convicted for murder, receiving the death sentence in each case.

The trial of Archie Barfield, who allegedly confessed to the murder of Mrs. L. A. Evans, of this county, early in this year, is now under way.

TIFT COUNTY YOUTH KILLED UNDER TRAIN

TIFTON, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Cameron Morrison, young Tift county white man, was killed this afternoon when he fell beneath the wheels of a moving freight train of the Southern railway here. He was attempting to hop a freight car in the local yards at the time.

State Deaths And Funerals

ROBERT T. CRAIG.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Sept. 1.—Robert T. Craig, 86, died at his home near Oakland Friday morning. He was one of the most prominent citizens in this section. Surviving him are two sons, Arthur and John Craig; two daughters, Mrs. Alma Minor Norcross; Miss Minnie Craig, Lawrenceville. He was a large land owner and a member of the old Presbyterian church near Lawrenceville.

The funeral will be held Saturday, the Rev. B. R. Anderson officiating.

PLINEY MIZE.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—Funeral services were held for Pliney Mize, 49, Thursday at Spring Hill church near Ochlocknee, in this county. He was a former resident of Meigs. The service was conducted by the Rev. William M. Davis, of Meigs.

Mr. Pliney had been in the United States navy for the past 29 years. He was a noncommissioned officer. He lived in California when at home and with his wife, Mrs. Frances Mize, and daughter, Miss Eva Mize, had been visiting relatives and friends at his old home near Meigs.

In addition to his wife and daughter he is survived by one brother, Andrew Mize, of Griffin, Ga., and two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Brinson and Mrs. C. W. Evans, of Meigs. Courtland Mize, of Meigs, and Ellis Mize, of Gainesville, Fla., are first cousins.

Georgia News Told in Brief

New Gainesville Chief.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—D. J. Jack Hopkins was Wednesday night made chief of the local police, succeeding Chief J. O. Lay, who resigned his position on account of ill health. Mr. Hopkins has served on the police force for 17 years, coming here at that time from Maysville. Frank Strickland was added to the force at the same meeting.

Church Centenary.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—The hundredth anniversary of the Liberty Baptist church will take place September 10. All living former pastors, and a large number of former members will be present at this celebration. The committee is composed of W. J. Taylor, M. E. Warren and G. R. Townsend.

4-H Camp.

SUMMERVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—Members of the Chattooga County 4-H Club will spend three days in camp at Cloudland, beginning September 10. Miss Lucile Turner, district agent, and Mrs. Julia Kitchens, home demonstration agent in Floyd county, will assist in the camp work.

SAVANNAH PROJECTS GIVEN BY PREFERENCE

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The city of Savannah has listed the projects it plans to carry through with funds obtained from federal sources, 30 per cent as a gift and 70 per cent as a loan, in numerical order, the order being that in which the city prefers to see them approved if all are not to be approved simultaneously. The order as announced at city hall is:

1. Terminal development on riverfront with refrigeration plant, tobacco export warehouse, etc., including distributing warehouse center as recommended by the Savannah Real Estate Board. The plan is to have the warehouse center on the Terminal property, a $28,000 unit being included in the plan.
2. Building for 118th field artillery.
3. Improvements at municipal airport.
4. Addition to public library.
5. Recreation center for colored people.
6. Improved police headquarters and new city jail.
7. New fire headquarters.
8. New fire station in southeastern section.
9. Installation of 3,500 water meters in city system.

U. S. INFANTRY SCHOOL OPENS TERM TUESDAY

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Official opening of the infantry school for the current term will be held at Fort Benning Tuesday morning, September 5, with Brigadier General George H. Estes, commandant, making the address of welcome to the students.

Courses will be conducted throughout the year for 131 infantry officers of the regular army, five United States marine corps officers, two from the Philippine constabulary and three from the Cuban army. Attendance of the latter is by special arrangement with the Cuban government.

A decrease in number of students from last year was noted by officials who reported that a total of 270 student officers were enrolled in the classes of the previous year.

PETITION WILL SEEK OUSTER OF ADAMSON

A petition asking the ouster of Zack Adamson as temporary postmaster of Hapeville will be circulated today by democratic party leaders, Brown Tyler, well known Hapeville resident, said Friday night.

Tyler said the petition would ask that Adamson, who succeeded J. H. Cash as postmaster on Thursday, be removed from office before he stands the qualifying examination. Adamson, vice president of the defunct Bank of Hapeville, was appointed upon the recommendation of Congressman Robert Ramspeck and Hapeville democratic leaders immediately made official protest to Postmaster General Farley and Georgia senators that Adamson had not supported the democratic campaign in 1928 or 1932. They charged that federal officials appointed a man who bolted the party and ignored loyal Hapeville democrats. The ouster paper was being prepared Friday for circulation and Tyler and other party leaders said that 500 were expected to sign today and Monday.

CLARK HOWELL SPEAKS AT A. M. E. SERVICES

Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, addressed the camp meeting of the New Hope A. M. E. church Friday night at Buckhead, complimenting the various workers for their efforts in church work. Rev. D. R. Fobbs, dean of Turner Theological Seminary of Morris Brown College, delivered the principal sermon.

Mr. Howell praised the services, which have been conducted at the New Hope church for 70 years. He made special reference to the good work of the church's pastor, Rev. Wilcher, and of Bishop W. A. Fountain. The bishop also spoke.

Four choirs will feature the all-day services Sunday at the camp meeting. The series will end with the Sunday night sermon.

VENEER MILL PLANNED FOR LOUISVILLE, GA.

LOUISVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—A veneer plant will be built at Louisville and plans are already under way for the work to start at once. A North Carolina firm, headed by J. C. Shelton, will be the operators of the plant. It is estimated that more than 100 persons will find employment here and in the woods, collecting material for the plant.

The beginning of a new stave mill plant, which will afford employment to 75 or more hands, will be announced in a few days. Besides these there are several sawmills in the county starting up anew, and the local planing mill is running daily. These were all shut down a few weeks ago.

RAILS EXCLUDED FROM NRA PLAN

Lines Better Off Without Codes, Federal Co-ordinator Rules.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The nation's rail carriers were adjudged better off today by Joseph B. Eastman, federal co-ordinator of transportation, if not brought under the national recovery act with its wage and hour fixing codes.

In a memorandum to President Roosevelt, the co-ordinator disclosed simultaneously that he had been communicating informally with railroad executives to correct what he considered unhealthy spots in the railway labor situation.

Certain classes of rail employes, he said, now are working longer hours than necessary in comparison with other classes.

"I am hopeful of favorable results," he said. "It may be possible, also, to provide for minimum wages consistent with those adopted in the codes, in the few instances where such minimum wages may be necessary."

Eastman said his memorandum was being transmitted by Mr. Roosevelt to A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' Association, along with a communication from the president. This was not made public.

About the middle of August, Whitney wrote to Mr. Roosevelt urging that the railroads and their employes be put under an NRA code. This was given to Eastman for answer, along with a memorandum from the association of railway executives contending that the carriers were not included in the recovery act.

The federal co-ordinator sided with the railroad executives. Taking up first the question of whether the NRA is applicable legally to the carriers, he said that his "own opinion is that the railroads are not included."

LABOR EXECUTIVES KEENLY DISAPPOINTED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(AP) Expressing "disappointment and shock" upon learning the national industrial recovery act is not to be applied to railroads, A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' Association, today said the association "will take immediate steps to have the railroad working day shortened without a reduction in wages."

Mr. Whitney said the association will meet "very soon" at which time plans will be discussed for a movement to obtain a shorter working day for railroad men "in an effort to increase employment and purchasing power."

He said a communication on the subject from President Roosevelt had been sent to all association members with a request for suggestions on a plan of action and a meeting date.

The president's communication, Mr. Whitney said, took the position that railroads should not come under provisions of the national industrial recovery act because of the emergency railroad labor act.

"We have felt," Mr. Whitney said, "that the railroads, among the largest employers in the country, should have been expected to set an example in the effort to bring about economic recovery.

"Instead, the railroads have been dismissing employes, which has been very discouraging to the 750,000 railroad workers in the country.

"We see no reason why the railroads should be excluded from provisions of the recovery act. The great army of railroad workers must have an opportunity to work."

R. O. JOHNSTON, BANKER, SUCCUMBS IN MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—R. O. Johnston, 65, president of the Commercial and Industrial bank here since its organization in 1912, died at his home here today. He had suffered for two years with a heart ailment.

ATLANTA ROTARIANS TO DIRECT MEETING OF SAVANNAH CLUB

Sixteen prominent Atlanta Rotarians left Atlanta Friday night for Savannah, where Tuesday they will conduct a luncheon meeting for the Savannah Rotary club.

Headed by George T. Marchmont, president, the party included Preston Arkwright, Thomas W. Moore, chairman of arrangements, James L. Wells, Frank M. Spratlin, George Ripley, Ed Crutchfield, E. M. Hudson, Robert Parker, Victor Kreigshaber, Gene Russner, George Warren, Ed Andrews, W. E. Mitchell, and Andre Wallach.

They will be the guests of the Savannah Rotary club this week-end and will stop at the Alfino club at Tybee, it was said. The delegation traveled aboard a private car on the Central of Georgia railway, and will return Tuesday night. Members of the party will conduct a special program Tuesday when they will be guests of honor at the regular Rotary meeting in Savannah.

Grand Jury Presentments

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, FULTON COUNTY, GEORGIA. JULY-AUGUST TERM, 1933. GENERAL PRESENTMENTS OF THE GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable Judge of Said Court,

Sir:

Your grand jury for the July-August term of this court respectfully submits its general presentments as follows:

1. We approve the borrowing of money from the United States government for certain badly needed improvements. Three buildings—courthouse, jail and almshouse—are each congested and inadequate to present and future needs of Fulton county. We recommend that an addition to the courthouse and an entirely new jail be built on the property now owned by the county, located at the southwest corner of Central avenue and Hunter street. We recommend that additions be made to the almshouse to the extent of $100,000, same to include better protection against fire. We do not approve any change in the location of the almshouse.

2. At a session held July 6, 1933, the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Fulton county ordered that the judges of the superior court, city court and municipal court be requested to place on the calendar and dispose of all cases which have been filed during the year 1925, and since, and which are ripe for trial, including cases which have been by consent of counsel, or for other reasons, passed to the consent of the dead docket, so that these dockets of the courts may be closed. It is our recommendation that beginning the first Monday in October, 1933, the judges of the superior court place in the trial calendar for each week ten or more cases which have been passed in regular call, beginning with the year 1925, and that this practice continue until the passed cases have been disposed of. Large amounts of costs due the county are involved in these cases. Many have been settled, no doubt, without payment of costs. Others for one reason or another probably never will be tried. We apprehend that the enforcement of such a rule will not add largely to the volume of business actually to be tried each week. The work of the officers of the court in these cases has already been done and it seems but just to the county that these court costs be paid.

3. The county loses many thousands of dollars of income each year due to the fact that the tax assessor's office does not possess plats and/or field books itemizing the taxable real estate which is not incorporated in cities. We have information which leads us to believe that there are tracts of land in Fulton county entirely untaxed for many years and such property will continue to go untaxed unless this condition is remedied. We are advised by the title companies and title attorneys that in making title search fully 75 per cent of the county property will show no return or payment of taxes during a part or all of the seven-year period for which legally a payment may be required. We recommend that plats and field books be provided which will show the owner's name, description of the property, etc. We believe the amount of unpaid taxes uncovered in this way will more than pay for the cost incurred in providing such plats or field books during the first two or three years.

4. In the presentments of the May-June grand jury it is recommended that the auditors for the county be appointed for a maximum term of two years, from a list of qualified and competent firms and upon definite specifications as to the work to be performed; these auditors to be selected upon a competitive basis and no auditor to serve two successive terms. We heartily concur in this recommendation and again suggest that it be made effective.

5. While this grand jury did not deem it wise to recommend the adoption of the Ellis health law in toto at this time, principally on account of economic conditions, we feel that health conditions in Fulton county are not as they should be and we recommend that the county commissioners make a rigid investigation as to the modern qualifications of the officials and employes of the county health department and make such changes in personnel and otherwise as should be made, looking toward improvement of our health conditions. In this connection it is hoped that federal aid may be secured in carrying out sewerage and drainage projects which are now up for consideration.

6. This grand jury goes on record as requesting and urging our representatives from Fulton county to amend the state law in reference to kidnaping so that on conviction the death penalty shall apply.

7. It is recommended that all law enforcing officials of Fulton county be requested to be more diligent in following up murderers and other major crimes. While it is most desirable that the traffic laws be enforced, that stolen cars be located, that petty gambling be stopped, etc., this should not be done at the expense of running down hold-ups, murderers and other major crimes. Under date of August 22, 1933, The Atlanta Constitution published a statement to the effect that Atlanta ranks second in the cities of the United States in the rate of murders per capia, in a nation-wide survey for 1932. We further recommend that all law enforcing officers be instructed and taught to procure all possible evidence in cases where arrests are made sufficient to indict. In this way the grand jury would have all necessary evidence to find either a true bill or a no bill and eliminate quite an expense on the part of the county in the investigation of the cases after indictments are brought.

8. We recommend and urge thorough and complete co-operation of all officers—city, county and state—in investigating crimes and apprehending criminals.

9. It has been charged before this grand jury that salary buyers are operating illegally in the county. This complaint was referred to the Atlanta Bar Association for investigation and under date of August 31, 1933, Hon. J. W. LeCraw writes us as follows:

"I ascertained that Mr. W. A. Fuller is chairman of the joint grievance committee of the Atlanta Bar Association, and the Atlanta Lawyers club, and he reports to me over the phone as follows:

"The joint grievance committee has held two meetings at which the matter of the loan shark suits (referred to the bar association by the grand jury) was considered in great detail. Two sub-committees have been appointed which are at work. One of these is engaged in examining the records of the parties concerned. They have not as yet arrived at anything definite enough to make a report to the grand jury. They expect to continue the investigation and push it diligently, and will make a report to the solicitor general of their findings, but it will be impossible to make a report in time for consideration of the present grand jury.

"If this grand jury so requests, they will make a full report of their investigation to the next grand jury."

In view of the fact that we are unable to complete this investigation, we respectfully refer this complaint to the September-October grand jury.

10. We commend the commissioners of Fulton county in their efforts towards economy. County expenses have been materially reduced during the past two years and the commissioners have stated to this body that they hope to be able to make a reduction in the tax rates. We heartily recommend that this reduction be placed in effect this year. We further commend the county commissioners for following the recommendations of the previous grand jury in installing a checking system which enables them to keep a more accurate record of all county supplies.

Atlanta Police Benefit Fund and Courtesy Cards.

11. Following an exhaustive investigation of many witnesses, we your jury desire to approve the action of Atlanta city council in putting a stop to the issuance of police courtesy cards and the soliciting of funds from the public by or for any municipal department, for any purpose.

Certain "promoters," fortified with official authority by Atlanta's chief of police have made solicitations based on misrepresentations, veiled threats and direct violation of law. Aiding and abetting this "racket," said "promoters" were permitted to use and were supplied with city police department stationery also a fac-simile signature stamp of the chief of police.

12. We respectfully recommend the publication of these presentments in The Atlanta Constitution, The Atlanta Georgian, The Atlanta Journal, and The Fulton County Daily Report.

Respectfully submitted,
C. P. VAUGHAN,
Foreman.
H. C. YANCEY,
Secretary.

Whereas, it has been brought to the attention of this grand jury by sworn evidence and by affidavits that many persons have registered for the approaching city primary who are not lawfully entitled to do so, and

Whereas, evidence has been submitted to this body to the effect that minors have registered, together with many persons living outside of Atlanta, and in some cases living in other counties; together with a large number of persons whose names do not appear on the tax records of the city of Atlanta, and

Whereas, due to the shortness of time it is impossible for the grand jury to go into the various details of this matter before the end of its term, and

Whereas, the question of clean and honest elections is of vital importance to all citizens. And the efforts of all good citizens striving for the betterment of their community are of no avail if the medium of the expression of their will at the polls is tainted with illegal voting.

Therefore, be it resolved by the grand jury that the attention of the mayor and general council of Atlanta be called to this grave situation, and they be requested to institute immediately a careful check of the registration list before the same is released for the approaching primary to see that the names of no persons not entitled to vote are allowed to remain on said list. To this end we suggest that the proper officials send to each person whose right to register is questioned, a notice to appear and upon failure to do so and make proper showing, that such names be stricken from the voters lists.

In this connection we call attention to the law passed at the last legislature regulating the holding of primaries and providing punishment for illegal registration and fraud or corruption in the holding of city primaries. We are advised that this act constitutes practically the only law governing the holding of municipal primaries. We understand it is now being tested in the courts, and in event a decision upholding this law should be handed down before the next primary, we urge upon the City of Atlanta and the city democratic executive committee a rigid compliance with the terms of this act.

FOLLOW THE Bible Game

$1,800 IN CASH PRIZES!

By THE BIBLE GAME EDITOR.

As the Bible Game forges ahead into the home stretch, most participants are busily engaged in checking and re-checking their solutions, making sure that they have the best possible answer for each picture. This is the opportune time to make any necessary substitutions—before the final deadline for submitting sets looms closely ahead.

Many readers have decided to "make hay while the sun shines," by devoting their spare time to getting up extra Bible Game sets, on which they are writing down their "second," "third" and "fourth" choice solutions. Thus they are gaining extra opportunities to win the first prize of $1,000 or one of the other attractive awards. All of the Bible Game pictures have been reprinted on beautiful white paper that will take pen-and-ink without blurring, for the convenience of those who are making up these extra sets. The reprinted pictures are the same price as the individual issues of The Constitution in which they originally appeared—5 cents apiece. Any 8 pictures can be had for 30 cents, 40 pictures for $1.25, and the full set of 80 pictures for $2.

Heretofore Bible Game pictures have not been available prior to their publication in The Constitution. However, for the convenience of out-of-town readers who feel that the 10 days allowed between the publication of picture No. 80 and the deadline for submitting sets does not give them time enough to complete their verse-answers, the full series is now available, and may be had at any time, by calling at the circulation department, or by mail, when 3 cents extra for postage is included with the order.

Questions and Answers

About the Artist.

Q. (1) Please give a short biography of the artist, Mr. Haberer, giving correct pronunciation of his name. (2) Are all of the 80 pictures on exhibit at the Carnegie library? (3) Do the number of characters in pictures Nos. ——— have anything to do with the solution of each picture? (4) When will the appropriate verses for the 80 pictures be published? I am very much interested in the Bible game.—Mrs. W. G. O., Commerce, Ga.

A. (1) C. Winston Haberer, the artist who created the beautiful Bible game pictures, is a young man, possessing both good looks and a pleasing personality, and is extremely modest about his unusual ability. Mr. Haberer (pronounced Ha-ber-er) studied in Chicago and in Paris, and since returning to America has achieved fame as an illustrator and etcher. He now lives in Louisville, Ky. I believe that is about all the information I can give you. However, if you wish to know anything more about him, I can write him for more detailed information. (2) Only a few originals of the Bible game pictures were on display at the library for about two weeks, but they are no longer there. (3) I would not be permitted to answer this question. (4) The appropriate verse-answers will be published at the time the names of the winners are announced.

Only Treasury Verses.

Q. If I think another verse fits a picture better than those in the Bible Treasury, do I have to use the one from The Treasury?—I. J. E., Cairo, Georgia.

A. Only verses selected from The Bible Treasury will be considered appropriate. See Rule 7.

As You Please.

Q. Will an entry be disqualified if a person other than the contestant does the typing of verses?—M. E. D., Dalton, Ga.

A. You may, if you wish, have somebody else fill in your answer-blanks for you. There is nothing in the rules of the Bible game prohibiting a contestant from receiving help from a friend or relative.

Mail or Bring Sets.

Q. Please advise if business address used on blanks is permissible. Also advise if finished sets must be mailed or if they may be carried to The Constitution in person.—Miss L. H. T., Carrollton, Ga.

A. It is all right to use your business address, if you prefer. Sets of Bible game pictures and verse-answers may be carried or mailed to The Constitution office. Those brought in person will be accepted up till midnight, September 20. Sets that are mailed must bear the postmarked date not later than September 20.

Bible Game Information

Anonymous letters from contestants frequently cannot, because of limited space, be answered in this column. Contestants can be assured of a reply only when they sign their names and addresses.

The Bible Treasury is the official Bible Game book. All verse-answers, as provided by the rules, must be selected from this book. Readers are under no obligation to buy it, but, if they desire, a copy may be had for 50 cents at the office of The Constitution—or for 54 cents by mail.

For the convenience of contestants who have lost, mislaid, soiled or mutilated any of their pictures, an ample supply of duplicates is being kept on hand. These duplicates, printed on heavy white paper that will take ink without blurring, are 5 cents apiece, the individual price of the issue of The Constitution in which each picture was published. Any 8 pictures may be had for 30 cents, 40 pictures (half the series) for $1.25, and the complete set of 80 pictures for $2.00. Back pictures are available at The Constitution office—or by mail, when 3 cents extra is included for postage.

Contestants may feel free to consult the Bible Game Editor at any time, by mail, in person, or by telephoning Walnut 6565. Reasonable questions will be answered gladly.

No. 70 The Bible verse represented by this picture is:

Book..... Chapter No..... Verse No.....

Name .....

Address .....

(Note: This picture is drawn to represent a verse chosen from The Bible Treasury, an abridgment of the "Authorized" or King James version of the Scriptures.)

INSTRUCTIONS:

The total prize money to be awarded Bible Game followers is $1,800. The first prize is $1,000. The second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $75, and the fifth, $25. There are ten prizes of $10 each and twenty prizes of $5 each.

The prizes will go to readers who submit the eighty most appropriate verse-answers for the series of eighty pictures. No subscriptions need be obtained to qualify for any of the prizes, and non-subscribers are invited to take part. It is not necessary to register. There will be no essays to compose, letters to write, or extra pictures or puzzles to solve.

The Bible Game pictures and verse-answers are NOT to be submitted now. Wait until ALL of the pictures have been published, then bring or mail them in at one time, as a set.

"Her Bodyguard" Opens At Paramount Today

Edmund Lowe and Wynne Gibson play the leading roles in "Her Bodyguard," romantic comedy produced for Paramount by B. P. Schulberg, which opens this morning at the Paramount theater. Edward Arnold, Johnny Hines, Marjorie White, Allen Dinehart and Fuzzy Knight head the supporting cast.

"Her Bodyguard" is the amusing story of a love affair of a beautiful stage star and the private detective assigned by a jealous "sugar-daddy" to guard her from rivals. How the girl and her bodyguard outwit everyone else and find happiness together provides a highly funny tale.

"Where Have I Heard That Melody?" a new song hit by Sam Coslow and Arthur Johnson, is introduced during the action of "Her Bodyguard."

Street Car Service For Calloway Dance

Arrangements have been made with the Georgia Power Company for street car service at the city auditorium on Monday morning from midnight to 4 a. m. This is to take care of the crowds expected at the dance frolic when Blanche Calloway, famous singer, dancer and conductor, and sister of Cab Calloway, brings her 14-piece orchestra to provide the music. The dance is for colored, but plenty of seats have been set aside for white on-lookers.

In addition to the early Monday morning dance, Blanche Calloway and her players will play for a dance for white people on Monday night at the Shrine mosque.

REVIEWING THE SHOWS

R. B. Wilby Reopens the Fox Today With 'Paddy, the Next Best Thing'

On Saturday the Fox theater reopens its doors under a new deal that lifts it back to its place as the outstanding theater of the south. Now under the control of R. B. Wilby, who also operates the Paramount, the Georgia and other southern theaters, it will present only the greatest of screen productions in such a manner that it will once again take rank as one of the half-dozen greatest picture theaters in the country.

"Paddy, the Next Best Thing," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter, one of the season's big offerings from the Fox studios, will be the first attraction. No more delightful picture could have been chosen to auspiciously launch the new career for Atlanta's famous show place of the stars.

E. E. Whitaker, who becomes manager of the restored Fox after two years of remarkable success at the Paramount, stated Friday that he could not have chosen a better picture for the reopening than "Paddy." It has, he points out, all that impish charm and delightful romance which characterizes the best work of both Gaynor and Baxter, and which is always supremely popular with Atlanta theatergoers. It starts the theater off on a note of romantic happiness, which promises many delightful hours of entertainment in the months to come.

It will be the policy of the Fox, under its new deal, to show nothing but really outstanding productions, chosen from the entire output of Paramount, Warner Brothers, Fox and other major studios. Pictures of such expense and magnitude that have to the past required roadshow presentation at advanced prices, will be shown at the Fox, always at the regular admission prices, and Atlantans will know every week that they are assured of truly big screen programs at the big theater.

"Paddy, the Next Best Thing," is the story of a roguish Irish girl, pet of the countryside. She is incensed because her father—played by Walter Connolly—has arranged for her older sister, Margaret Lindsay, to marry a man for his money. Warner Baxter is the man. The father, a lovable, though slightly dishonest character, sees nothing wrong in what he is doing. But the little sister sets out to prevent what she considers a cruel sacrifice, and the outcome of her efforts is a situation that is only untangled after many laughable, pathetic and romantic developments. It is a delightful story, delightfully directed and superbly played.

The picture marks the screen debut of Mary McCormic, the internationally famous opera prima donna, who portrays her real character, as a visitor at the Irish home. Her gorgeous voice is heard in one of her most famous songs.

Jimmy Beers, who has made himself the most popular theater organist in the city, will remain at the Fox under the new regime. He has just returned from New York, where for several weeks he has been taking a post-graduate course under the famous organist, Jesse Crawford. He is even finer now than he was before, and that is saying the utmost.

Manager Whitaker has secured a group of short screen subjects worthy of his feature and making a program throughout that gives a delightful foretaste of the future at the Fox.

Two Performances At Erlanger Today

Two performances today, at 2:15 and 8:15, will bring to a close the presentation of "A Pair of Sixes" by the Peruchi Players at the Erlanger theater. This clever comedy has been received with more enjoyment than anything yet offered by the Peruchians and the delighted comment of audiences has resulted in a record-breaking week at the box office. There are still excellent seats available for tonight's performance and the bargain price matinee does not have reserved seats.

Next week the Peruchi Players will give "This Thing Called Love," another brilliantly successful comedy, with an elaborate production throughout. Owing to adoption of the NRA code there will be a slight increase in prices beginning Monday, but all seats, both for night shows and the Wednesday and Saturday matinees will, in future, be reserved. Seats for all performances next week are on sale at the box office after 10 o'clock this morning.

'Broadway to Hollywood' Entertains Grand Fans

Originally intended for a musical review, happily "Broadway to Hollywood," which opened at the Grand theater Friday, was rewritten and recast, and probably now is much better entertainment. It is the story of three generations of actors, and of their progress from vaudeville to Broadway; from Broadway to small-time vaudeville—and then to Hollywood. Contrary to the current idea, these show people are just folks, no worse and no better, and the picture probably will dispel some ideas you have about actors.

The Hacket act was originally only Lulu and Ted. Then there were three Hacketts—you know, "and baby makes three." Ted Hackett Jr. was good, and Weber and Field put him on Broadway at the suggestion of his fiancee, who was a dancer, and also big-time. And it was their son, Ted Hackett III, who made Hollywood. Those Hacketts got better with each generation.

Alice Brady, who was such a joy to her audience in "When Ladies Meet," is equally delightful in this picture. She is given a chance at something more emotional, and yet she is allowed to give full vent to her talent for comedy. She is the wife of the Ted Hackett I, Frank Morgan.

Morgan proves himself capable in his role. He will certainly win your sympathy as the dancer and comedian who must see first his son steal his thunder, and then his grandson. That is probably the greatest tragedy possible to an actor: to see his act die; to listen to the sneers of audiences which once called him for two or three bows.

Madge Evans is the wife of Ted Hackett Jr. She is lovely, and proves that she is a good little actress, too. Russell Hardie, the Broadway star, is Ted Hackett Jr., and this is his first picture. He'll probably begin getting fan mail immediately.

An Our Gang comedy, an oddity, and a newsreel complete the program.

—IDA MOGUL.

"The World Gone Mad" New Rialto Feature

An immensely powerful melodrama, enthralling in its plot throughout, is "The World Gone Mad," a feature attraction at the Rialto theater on the new program starting today. It will show for three days, through Tuesday.

The story is one of dishonest finance, with men who deal in millions, who juggle franchises and subsidiary corporations for their own selfish ends, the targets for the wrath of a district attorney. But cheaper crooks step in at this point and the district attorney is murdered. A young lawyer is appointed in his place and from that point on the story steadily accelerates in pace and thrilling development. A newspaper reporter, friend of the new D. A., has much to do with the final solution of the mystery and the justice which comes at last to the crooks.

And the young D. A. of course wins the girl, with a wedding scene for the final fadeout. The picture boasts a remarkably fine cast, including Neil Hamilton, Pat O'Brien, Mary Brian, Evelyn Knapp, Louis Calhern and others. It was directed masterfully by Christy Cabanne.

A brilliant musical short, a cartoon and late issue of the newsreel are added attractions on the program.

Stanwyck at Georgia Is Powerful Feature

"Ladies They Talk About," a Warner Brothers picture which opens a three-day engagement at the Georgia theater today, brings together a notable cast of players in addition to the star, Barbara Stanwyck. Preston Foster, who had important roles in "Life Begins," "Two Seconds," "Doctor X" and "I Am a Fugitive" appears as Miss Stanwyck's leading man, while Lyle Talbot, who had a crook role in "Twenty Thousands Years in Sing Sing," is seen in a similar part.

Dorothy Burgess and Lillian Roth, both of whom have been playing leading screen roles, appear in this picture in important parts as prisoners in San Quentin. Others in the cast include Maude Eburne, Harold Huber, Ruth Donnelly, Robert Warwick, Helen Ware, De Witt Jennings, Robert McWade, Grace Cunard, Harold Healey and Harry Gribbon.

"Ladies They Talk About" is taken from the play by Dorothy Mackaye and Carlton Miles and is based on Miss Mackaye's actual experiences in prison. It was adopted by Sidney Sutherland.

Added attractions include a band number, "Jazz a la Cuba," starring Don Aspiaza and his native Cubans, "Ducky Dear," one of the new film season comedies, and the world's latest news is offered in Movietonews.

L. L. CLARK DIES HERE AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

General Electric Auditor Came to Atlanta in 1919; Funeral Monday.

L. L. Clark, 49-year-old assistant district auditor of the General Electric Company, died early Friday morning at his residence at 1290 Allene avenue. He had been ill a short time.

Mr. Clark, who was well known in Atlanta, had resided here since 1919. He had been connected with General Electric for more than 27 years, previously having been stationed at Schenectady, N. Y.

He was a member of the Capitol View Lodge No. 64, F. & A. M., and of the Church of the Incarnation, in which he had been active.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Lauren J., Herbert C. and Robert H. Clark; two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Boss, of Scotia, N. Y., and Mrs. Benjamin Smith, of Schenectady, and two brothers, Raymond Clark and Howard Clark, both of Fulton, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Monday morning at Spring Hill, the Rev. G. W. Gasque and the Rev. W. Lee Cutts officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

MATHES TO HANDLE GINGER ALE ACCOUNT

P. D. Saylor, president of Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Inc., announced today that a contract to handle all advertising for his company and its subsidiaries has been given to the advertising agency of J. M. Mathes, Inc.

In addition to the parent company, the companies embraced in the contract include Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Limited, of Canada, and Chelmsford Ginger Ale Company. The products to be advertised will include not only ginger ale and sparkling water, but also such additional beverages as the company may market following repeal of the prohibition laws.

The new agency will handle the foreign as well as the domestic advertising of all Canada Dry products.

Officers of 328th Infantry Coming

About 75 officers of the 328th Infantry, 82d Division, who trained at Camp Gordon for overseas fighting, will reunite here today, Sunday and Monday, Trammell Scott, chairman of the reunion committee, announced Friday.

General George B. Duncan, who commanded the division and is now retired and living at Lexington, Ky., and General Julian R. Lindsey, commanding Fort Knox, Ky., who was commanding general of the 163d Infantry brigade during the war, are expected to attend.

Convention headquarters will be at the Piedmont hotel. Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the veteran officers will unveil a marker at the headquarters site of the 328th Infantry at Camp Gordon in memory of those who fell overseas.

BISHOP TO "RETIRE," BUT HAS NO IDEA OF QUITTING PULPIT

Bishop Warren A. Candler, the senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be retired from active duty next May, but at 76 years of age he has no thought of stopping preaching.

Dispatches from Huntington, W. Va., pointed out that under a law passed by the church at the last general conference Bishop Candler will be retired at the general conference to be held next May at Jackson, Miss. The law provides that bishops who reach the age of 72 shall be retired at the next general conference, but a provision was inserted extending the time limit four years for Bishops Candler, Denny and DuBose.

Bishop Candler, who has been a bishop of the church for the last 36 years, observed his seventy-sixth birthday Wednesday, August 23, and despite the effectiveness of his church's law he will be retired in fact but hardly in practice.

"Of course, I do not intend to quit preaching," he said Friday. "I hope to preach until my dying day. I am in very fair health and I preach at least once a week."

10 MORE AUTOISTS JOIN HONOR ROLL FOR GOOD DRIVING

Ten drivers seen to be unusually obedient to traffic regulations Friday have been rewarded with guest admissions to Loew's Grand and their names have been added to The Constitution's careful drivers' honor roll.

Again today a staff reporter will observe downtown traffic for examples of exceptional care shown by operators of motor vehicles. Ten will be chosen for the honor roll and two admission's to Loew's Grand will be mailed to each this afternoon.

Friday's honor roll of careful drivers included: J. E. Moore, 1923 N. Decatur street; D. T. Heddieston, 1629 Olympian way, S. W.; H. S. Chandler, 237 Winn street, Decatur; W. F. Powers, 349 Stovall street; Nettie H. Asher, Cox Carlton hotel; Grace House, 420 Lank street, N. E.; Mrs. Lucille C. Trimble, 420 Westley avenue, N. E.; M. Blank, 1198 Highland avenue; Mrs. E. B. Spigner, 986 Oglethorpe avenue, S. W.; Mrs. J. DeBruyn Kops, 50 Inman circle.

3 PER CENT TAX OFF ALL ELECTRIC BILLS

Consumers of electricity will get a 3 per cent reduction in their bills on and after Friday by virtue of an act of the recent congress transferring this from the consumers to the power companies.

Passed in June of last year, the 3 per cent federal tax on the cost of electric service was levied on commercial and domestic consumers. Transfer of the tax to the power companies was directed by the recent congress effective September 1.

The Georgia Power Company in a statement Friday estimated this would mean an additional $275,000 annually in its tax bill.

3 BRIDGE CONTRACTS AWARDED BY BOARD

Three contracts involving bridge work were let Friday by the state highway department, J. J. Mangham, chairman of the highway board, announced. J. D. Holtz was given the job of building a bridge on the Sargent-Newnan road in Coweta county at a price of $7,062. Henderson Construction Company was awarded a contract at $5,345.20 to build a bridge in Chattooga county on the Rome-Summerville road. W. L. Florence was given a contract to build abutments to a bridge on the Dawsonville-Gainesville road, in Dawson county, at $1,829.35.

IF YOU WANT MOTORING COMFORT —Read This

Comfort means a lot to motorists. It means car performance — that is trouble free. It means speed when in need — dependable power for the hill and long pull — a silent anti-knock motor. It means flashing get-away at the green light or in a pinch. It means a carbon-free motor with fewer expensive trips to the repair shop.

Summed up, it requires a balanced motor fuel! A sure, proven-way to get that comfort is to drive up to a Woco-Pep pump for a filling of Top Cylinder, lubricating, higher anti-knock NEW Improved Woco-Pep Motor Fuel.

IF INTERESTED IN ECONOMY —Here Is Great News

Extra miles per gallon mount to tidy, worthwhile savings at the end of the year. That difference might as well be in your pocket. Woco-Pep Motor Fuel always was an extremely high extra mileage Motor Fuel but now the NEW Improved Woco-Pep goes many extra miles per fill.

The addition of Top Cylinder Lubricant gives greater motor protection — less repair bills — decreases motor oil consumption. Many claims are made for gasolines. We say Top Cylinder, lubricating, higher anti-knock, NEW Improved Woco-Pep gives you two premiums in quality at no increase in price.

Try it a while. Economical performance (not our claims) will keep you sold.

IF YOU ARE TECHNICAL MINDED —Read This

Modern gasoline is clean burning, higher powered, anti-knock — but it is dry gasoline, with every ounce of lubricant removed. Modern high speed motors need lubrication, from the top down, to smooth out performance and lengthen the life of valve stems, pistons and rings. NEW Improved Woco-Pep Motor Fuel meets this need at no increase, no extra cost to you.

A specially refined, carbonless, top-cylinder lubricant is skillfully and permanently blended with this Motor Fuel—in just the right proportion. This supplements but does not replace your regular motor oil. It does reduce crank case dilution, decreases motor oil consumption, gives new quietness of operation, new smooth-flowing power, new economy.

When Worlds Collide

By EDWIN BALMER & PHILIP WYLIE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

David Ransdell flies the length of Africa from Capetown, across the Mediterranean and to the fast liner Europa with a large travelling case containing photographic plates made by Professor Bronson, the astronomer. Ransdell, a well-known aviator, knows only that the plates show regions of the southern sky never visible in the Northern Hemisphere, and his instructions are to deliver them to Dr. Cole Hendron, celebrated physicist, in New York, and to answer no questions on the way. When he arrives, Eve Hendron assists her father in the delicate task of measuring and checking the stars and planets shown on the plates and the next morning's newspapers publish a statement made by Hendron and concurred in by 60 of the world's greatest scientists. For months they have been working secretly as members of the League of the Last Days. The statement says that Professor Bronson has discovered two planets, which must have broken away from another star or sun and travelled through interstellar space for an incalculable time, until they came to a region of the heavens which brought them at last under the attraction of the sun. The statment ends: "Their previous course, consequently, has been modified by the sun, and as a result, they are now approaching us." They are referred to a Bronson Alpha and Bronson Beta, the latter being the smaller—about the size of the earth—and revolving about Bronson Alpha as the moon does about the earth. Tony Drake had met Ransdell the previous night at the Hendrons'.

Now go on with the story:

INSTALLMENT X.

"Remember how the Old Testament showed God to us, stern and merciless. 'God saw that the wickedness of man in the earth was great!' it said. 'And it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth. And the Lord said, I will destroy man, whom I have created, from the face of the earth; both man and beast and creeping things, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.' And then God thought it over and softened a little; and He warned Noah to build the ark to save himself and some of the beasts, so that they could start all over again.

"Well, Tony, it seemed to me the second streak in the sky says that God is doing the same thing once more. He hasn't changed His nature since Genesis; not in that short time. Why should He? It seemed to me, Tony. He looked us all over again and got disgusted.

"Evolution, you know, has been going on upon this world for maybe five hundred million years; and I guess God thought that, if all we'd reached in all that time was what we have now, He'd wipe us out forever. So He started that streak toward us to meet us, and destroy us utterly. That's Bronson Alpha. But before He sent it too far on its way, maybe He thought it all over again and decided to send Bronson Beta along, too.

"You see, after all, God had been working on the world for five hundred millions of years; and that must be an appreciable time, even to God. So I think He said, 'I'll wipe them out; but I'll give some of them a chance. If they're good enough to take the chance and transfer to the other world I'm sending them, maybe they're worth another trial. And I'll save five hundred millions of years.' For we'll start on the other world, Tony, where we left off here."

"I see that," Tony said. "What's in that to forbid my loving you now, my (taking you in my arms, my—"

"I wish we could, Tony!"

"Then why not?"

"No reason not, if we were surely to die here, Tony—with all the rest of the world; but every reason not to, if we go on the space ship."

"I don't see that!"

"Don't you? Do you suppose, Tony, that the second streak in the sky—the streak that we call Bronson Beta which will come closely to this world, and possibly receive us safe, before Bronson Alpha wipes out all the rest—do you suppose, Tony, that it was sent just for you and me?"

"I don't suppose it was sent at all," objected Tony impatiently. "I don't believe in a God Who plans and repents and wipes out worlds He made."

"I do. A few months ago, I wouldn't have believed in Him; but since this has happened, I do. What is coming is altogether too precise and exact to be unplanned by intelligence somewhere, or to be purposeless. And if the big one is sent to wipe out the world, I don't believe the other is sent just to let me go on loving you and you go on loving me."

"What is your idea, then?"

"It's sent to save, perhaps, some of the results of five hundred million years of life on this world; but not you and me, Tony."

"Why not? What are we?"

Eve smiled faintly. "We're some of the results, of course. As such, we may go on the space ship. But if we go, we cease to be ourselves, don't you see?"

"I don't," persisted Tony stubbornly.

"I mean, when we arrive on that strange empty world—if we do—we can't possibly arrive as Tony Drake and Eve Hendron, to continue a love and a marriage started here. How insane that would be!"

"Insane?"

"Yes. Suppose one space ship got across with, say, thirty in its crew. We land and begin to live—thirty alone on an empty world as large as this. What, on that world, would we be? Individuals paired and set off, each from the others, as here? No; we become bits of biology, bearing within us seeds far more important than ourselves—far more important than our prejudices and loves and hates. We cannot then think of ourselves, only to preserve ourselves while we establish our kind."

"Exactly what do you mean by that, Eve?"

"I mean that marriage on Bronson Beta—if we reach it—cannot possibly be what it is here, especially if only a few, a very few of us reach it. It will be all-important then—it will be essential to take whatever action the circumstances may require to establish the race."

"You mean," said Tony savagely, remembering the remarks at breakfast, "if that flyer from South Africa—Ransdell—also made the passage on that space ship, and we all live, I may have to give you up to him—when circumstances seem to require it?"

"I don't know, Tony. We can't possibly describe it now; we can't imagine the circumstances when we're starting all over again. But one thing we can know—we must not first fix relations between us here which may only give trouble."

"Relations like love and marriage!"

"They might not do at all, over there."

"You're mad, Eve. Your father's been talking to you."

"Of course he has; but there's only sanity in what he says. He has thought so much more about it, he can look so calmly beyond the end of the world to what may be next that—that he won't have us carry into the next world sentiments and attachments that may only bring us trouble and cause quarrels or rivalry and death. How frightful to fight and kill each other on that empty world! So we have to start freeing ourselves from such things here."

"I'll be no freer pretending I don't want you more than anything else. What sort of thing does your father see for us—on Bronson Beta?"

She evaded him. "Why bother about it, Tony, when there's ten thousand chances to one we'll never get there? But we'll try for it—won't we?"

"I certainly will, if you're going to."

"Then you'll have to submit to the discipline."

His arms hungered for her, and his lips ached for hers, but he turned away.

Inside the house, he found her father, Cole Hendron.

"Glad to see you, Tony. We're going ahead with our plans. I suppose you knew I had been counting on you."

"For what?" Tony inquired brusquely.

"For one of my crew. You're the health and the mind and the nerve, I think. It's going to take more courage, in the end, than staying here on the world. For we will all leave—we will shoot ourselves up into the sky while the world still seems safe. We leave, of course, before the end; and the end of the world will never be really believed till it comes. So I need men of your steadiness and quality. Can I count on you?"

Tony looked him over. "You can count on me, Mr. Hendron."

"Good . . . I can guess that Eve has acquainted you with some features of the discipline of the league. I will tell you, in proper time, of others; nothing will be asked of you which will not be actually reasonable and necessary. But now I should advise you to learn something useful. Investment experience, and skill in trading will scarcely be an asset on Bronson Beta, whereas knowledge of agriculture and proficiency in manual arts and elementary mechanics may be invaluable. You have time to learn the simple, primary processes by which life is maintained. You will have, I might say, approximately two years to prepare, before affairs here become acute with the approach of the planets on their first passage."

* * * *

No record could picture a thousandth part of the changes that came in those two years. No single aspect of human enterprise was left undisturbed.

It was now more than a year before the first serious physical manifestations were expected; so the statement that Hendron signed merely read:

"It is still impossible to forecast the entire effect of the approach of the Bronson bodies. Unquestionably they will disturb us greatly. We may anticipate, as a minimum, the following phenomena: Tides which will destroy or render uninhabitable all coastal cities and all inland cities within 500 or more feet of sea level. We have no terrestrial precedent for such tides. The existing 60-foot rise and fall in the Bay of Fundy will certainly be trifling in comparison. The tides we anticipate will be perhaps several hundreds of feet high, and will sweep overland with a violence difficult to anticipate.

Miss Helen Gardiner Of Columbus Ga., Weds Mr. Strother

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 1.—Of interest to civilian and military society is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. M. Harris Gardiner of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Gardiner, and E. Weyman Strother Jr. on Monday, August 28. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. M. Mann at the Presbyterian manse in Opelika, Ala.

The beautiful young bride is a member of families identified with the social, business and professional circles in Georgia and Alabama. Her mother, the former Miss Italine Argo, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Argo, of Goodwater, Ala. Her father is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gardiner, of Augusta, Ga. She is a sister of Misses Betty and Nell Gardiner.

The bride and her twin sister, Miss Nell Gardiner, are recognized belles in the sub-debutante set, their charming piquant beauty combining to make them general favorites in Columbus society.

Mr. Strother is the son of Mrs. Charles A. Hunt, wife of Colonel Hunt, of Fort Howard, Md. Mrs. Hunt was formerly Miss Marjorie Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rhodes Browne and a descendant of families whose names are interwoven with the history of Columbus' social, cultural and business growth. The groom's father is Commander E. Wayman Strother, military attache to Buenos Aires. Mr. Strother and his bride are now on a short wedding trip, which is being planned en route. On their return they will be for the present at the home of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rhodes Browne.

West End Y. W. A. Holds Meeting.

The last meeting of the Y. W. A. of the West End Baptist church took the form of a picnic at Moseley park, and the business meeting presided over by Miss Julia Elliott, the president. Miss Edith Latham volunteered to take charge of the West End Sunbeam band for one of the August meetings as a part of the personal service. Announcement was made of the revival sponsored by the city Y. W. A. and W. M. U. organizations, which will be held during the third week of October. Mrs. J. M. Dawson, of Texas, will be speaker and Miss Fay Allen gave the devotional.

Those present were Misses Myrtice Davis, Mary Conner, Mae Evans, Martha Birchmore, Frances Adams, Janet Branch, Lottie Gore, Lottie Mae Granade, Louise Standridge, Julia Elliott, Frances DeLay, Mary Alderman, Elizabeth Mayo, Esther Cathy, Ruby Burnett, Edith Latham, Fae Allen, Margaret Smith, Mary Woodall, Marie Long, Mesdames T. R. Moore, Nellie Humphries, M. W. Hardwick, Miss Margaret Smith and Griffin Brown. The September meeting takes place on September 11, instead of the first Monday, which is Labor Day.

Sunbeam band of the West End Baptist church met on the third Monday of August, and present were Louise Bryant, Hugh Staples, Beverly Howard, Elise Cowan, Leoncie Cowan, Deloris Smith, Jeannette Clark, Ernestine Petty, Jacqueline Clark and Suzanne Body.

Honor guests will include grand officers and special entertainment has been planned. Visitors are welcome. Mrs. Euna Wheeler is worthy matron and W. A. Lynn, worthy patron.

Miss Ray Weds Mr. Redman At Peachtree Christian Church

MRS. CLIFFORD MALCOLM REDMAN.

Of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends is the marriage of Miss Dorothy Louise Ray to Clifford Malcolm Redman, which was quietly solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, in the chapel of the Peachtree Christian church. Dr. Robert Burns read the marriage ceremony in the presence of the two immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwin Ray, and the sister of Mrs. James T. Sewell, Mrs. Arthur J. Kunzer, Walker Lewis Ray and Frank T. Ray, all of Atlanta, and Henry Durand Ray, of Baden, Pa. Mr. Redman is the son of Mrs. Burl Haywood Redman and the late Mr. Redman, of Oakdale, Tenn., and the brother of Mrs. Ray Owens, of Oakdale, and Mrs. Lewis M. Dugger and Miss Lesley Redman, of Atlanta.

Particularly becoming to the bride's titian loveliness, her smart ensemble of brown faille silk was fashioned in the new mode, reminiscent of the 1890's with a short jacket of the same material, the broad-shouldered silhouette simulated by epaulette sleeves. With this attractive costume she wore a close-fitting brown velvet hat, and brown suede shoes and gloves. A small brown antelope handbag completed the ensemble. Her shoulder bouquet was of Talisman roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Redman left by motor for Miami and other points of interest in Florida, to be gone until the middle of September. Upon their return they will be at home at 1241 Virginia avenue, N. E.

Mrs. Webb Honored.

Mrs. Lewis L. Barnes Jr., entertained in honor of Mrs. Robert W. Webb at a bridge-shower Saturday at Davison-Paxon's tea room. Mrs. Webb before her marriage on August 11 was Miss Eppie Louise Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mage H. Jones. Mrs. Webb was showered with many lovely gifts.

Those present were Mesdames Webb, Barnes, Kate Van Houten, Helen Jones, Clyde Suber, Frank Taylor, W. T. Van Brocklin, D. W. Webb, M. H. Jones, T. M. Maffett, Misses Maudie Truesdale, Elizabeth Truesdale, Doris Baldwin, Bess Kimbro, Thelma Gray, Mildred Yaun and Alice Sue Potts.

Miss Evelyn Megahee Weds Emory Paulk, of New York City

Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the marriage of Miss Mary Evelyn Megahee to Emory G. Paulk, of New York city, which took place on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock at the study of Dr. W. H. Boggs, pastor of Druid Hills Presbyterian church. On account of serious illness in the family of the bridegroom, the ceremony was quietly solemnized in the presence of only the immediate members of the two families.

The beautiful bride was stylishly gowned in a navy blue ensemble, with accessories of white, and she wore a shoulder bouquet of rosebuds and valley lilies.

Mrs. Paulk is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Megahee, and possesses a charming personality. She is a graduate of Girl's High school, and also a graduate of Oglethorpe University. Her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rhett Word, of Newnan, and her mother was Miss Elizabeth Word. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jehu Megahee, of Thomson; Ga., and she is a niece of Percy Megahee, of Atlanta.

Mr. Paulk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Paulk, of Ocilla, Ga., and a brother of Miss Helen Paulk and Elmer Paulk, of Ocilla. He graduated from Emory University in 1929, and has made his home in New York for the past five years, where he holds a responsible position with the City National bank. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Paulk will take possession of their apartment in New York city.

Miss Julia Ritch Is Complimented.

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Miss Eloise Spence on Matilda place, Grove Park, on last Friday evening, in honor of Miss Julia Ritch, who leaves this week to make her home in Columbus, Ga. The shower was sponsored by the Athenian class of the Fortified Hills Baptist church, taught by the pastor, Dr. W. P. Hines.

Games were played by the young people, after which Miss Ritch was asked to take the end o a cord attached to the wall of the living room and follow it. She was led around the room, through the back porch, around up the hall to the front room, where a number of gifts were piled on a table. After the thrill that came to Miss Ritch while she opened the packages, refreshments were served and Dr. Hines made a brief address. Miss Ritch is very popular with her class and her church, and her departure is regretted.

Askew-Johnson Wedding Plans Are of Wide Social Interest

Of social importance throughout the south and east are the plans for the marriage of Miss Gertrude Proctor Askew and Lyman Sherwood Johnson, which will be solemnized Thursday afternoon, September 28, at 5:30 o'clock, in the garden of the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Askew, on Peachtree street.

Miss Mary Askew, only sister of the bride, will be maid of honor. Mrs. Arthur Coffin, of Kingsport, Tenn., will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Maybelle Dickey, Miss Ida Thomas and Miss Margaret Cummings. Walter Scott Askew Jr. will be best man.

Ray King, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. King, will be flower girl. Master Curtis Wottingham Proctor and Master Scott Candler Jr. will be ribbon-bearers. Miss Virginia Allen, of LaGrange, and Mrs. Forrest M. Barfield will keep the bride's book. Mrs. Bonita Crowe will play the wedding march.

Charles Loridans, James Thompson Williams and Milner Thornton LaHatte will preside at the coffee table.

In the early evening Mr. Johnson and his bride will leave for their wedding journey to Chicago and New York. They will also visit Syracuse, N. Y., former home of the bridegroom-to-be.

Miss Maybelle Dickey will give a bridge-luncheon at the Driving Club Tuesday in honor of Miss Askew. Others entertaining for Miss Askew are Miss Margaret Cummings, Miss Edith Marshall, Miss Marcella Luckiesh, Mrs. Arthur Coffin, of Kingsport, Tenn.; Mrs. Allen Wheelock, Mrs. Forrest M. Barfield, Mrs. Samuel Cook Proctor, Miss Sara Bare, Mrs. Charles Loridans and others, the dates to be announced later.

Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild Juniors To Give Bazar at Mrs. Goodrum's

junior members of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild for the charity bazar which will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, September 6, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Goodrum on Pace's Ferry road.

Among the attractions will be the fashion shows at 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock, displaying Leon Froshin's smartest fall costumes for spectator sports, afternoon and evening wear. The charming young manikins selected from the junior guild are Misses Emily Matthews, Katherine Jetton, Marion Yundt, Virginia Dillon, Mary Bryan and Mrs. Julian de Ovies. These pretty Atlanta belles are sure to display Frohsin's lovely garments to the best advantage.

Mrs. Alice Denton Jennings, internationally known chierologist, has generously consented to read the palms of those who wish to know their future or to receive vocational advice. Her wide experience in having been consulted by many of the world's most renown celebrities makes this an exceptional opportunity for the guests at the bazar.

Miss Edith Kendrick and Miss Laura McGinty insisted upon directing a "white elephant" both. Despite the gloom attached to such objects in the home, these far-thinking sub-debs are positive that the "barter and exchange" idea, which has become so popular during the late depression, will raise the "white elephant" to hitherto unattainable heights.

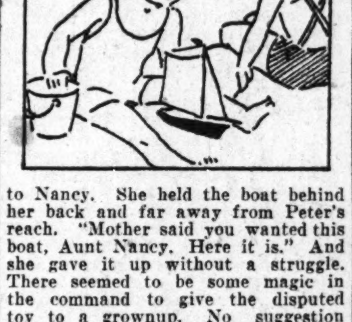

Atlanta members of the guild are fortunate in having the support of Misses Marie Brumby and Elizabeth Massey, who are taking charge of donations from Marietta. There will be a booth for the handicraft of the the Rabun Gap Mountain school.

The proceeds accruing from the carnival will be given to the Rabun Gap Mountain school, which is the only institution of its kind educating entire families, instead of restricting its attention to children.

NANCY PAGE

Ann Wants Peter's Boat But Does Not Get It

BY FLORENCE La GANKE.

Nancy, Lois, Peter, Ann and Susan were spending the afternoon at the beach. The mothers sat baek and tried to relax but it was not such an easy matter with three active youngsters darting all over the sands and into the water. When a wave hit Ann she squealed and when it came near Peter he marched right into it like a soldier unafraid.

The little boats were floating lazily in the shallow waters. All in all, the play had gone quite peacefully until it came time to go home. Then Ann picked up Peter's boat and calmly walked away with it.

Now that boat was Peter's joy. He did not intend to have it taken away from him. So he forgot all his manners and set up a howl. The children came screaming to their mothers to settle the dispute.

Fortunately Nancy was not the kind of person who believed that the older child should always give in to the younger. Nor did she believe that a boy should let a girl walk away with everything. Nor did she believe in making a child give in to save a scene with another child.

Lois and she had talked the situation over earlier. They decided to try a scheme. Lois called Ann over. Nancy began to talk to Peter about supper but she saw he was watching proceedings with a wary eye.

In a few moments Ann came over to Nancy. She held the boat behind her back and far away from Peter's reach. "Mother said you wanted this boat, Aunt Nancy. Here it is." And she gave it up without a struggle. There seemed to be some magic in the command to give the disputed toy to a grownup. No suggestion was made that she give it to Peter. Apparently the belief of a child that a grownup must be obeyed carried the child beyond the point where she refused to part with another child's toy. The scheme worked so well the mothers decided to try it on other occasions.

Friendly Counsel

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

A young bachelor, presumably about to be taken from his high perch, would like to hear some discussion of the following question: "Does a man enjoy his wife's company as much as he enjoyed her company during the days of his courtship?"

What a fine chance to help a sister secure a husband! Well, the affirmative answer to this question depends on a number of things: It depends upon the wisdom of the man who is making the choice; and upon his willingness and his ability to provide his wife with the advantages necessary to keep her interests green, her view of life broad, her thoughts diverted and her conversation entertaining as a result of all of these benefits. It depends, too, on the manner in which the man lets the wife into the innermost recesses of his life, personal, social, financial.

The wife who is lashed by poverty to the mast of the marital vessel has no chance to remain charming and sprightly as she was in the days when she had no responsibilities to weigh her down. She must devote all her strength, mental and physical, to the running of a poorly financed establishment. She bears children, cooks, cleans, mends, sews, washes, irons and is drained dry by the drudgery of it all.

But give a wife a half of a chance to get out and sun and air herself, give her a little freedom from the carking cares of domestic life, a few new clothes and little spare cash, a little credit at the stores and an occasional trip to a far country (which may mean the next county) and she will blossom like a rose, provided always that her husband continues to be her lover as he was in the days before their marriage. That feeling of spiritual elation without which no woman is at her best comes only as a result of the consciousness that she is desirable in the eyes of her husband and necessary to his happiness.

A bachelor looking for a wife to entertain him after marriage should find one that has these qualifications: a talent for home-making with or without servants, and a the ability to manage her home knowledge of cookery; a quick sense of humor that enables her to laugh not only at a joke but at situations that threaten disaster; a modicum of education that will enable her to grasp the problems her husband wrestles with in business or profession; a capacity for friendship with a man, which is not necessarily the same capacity as is necessary for friendship with one of her sex.

Now the wife's happiness and contentment doesn't hinge on the amount of this world's goods her husband provides but rather on the spirit in which he provides. But her ability to remain an interesting and entertaining companion to him through the years does depend in large measure on what he can and will provide.

TINY ONE'S NEEDS—DARLING COAT.

It is really astonishing how easy it is to fashion this darling coat.

Practically only side and shoulder seams to join. And see the cunning epaulets that perk out so smartly over the shoulders.

In worsted, this little coat is adorable, say for instance in bright navy blue.

In tiny checked woolen in cocoa brown, it is also equally charming, and in lighter shades in plain worsteds, it is delightful for "best."

Style No. 463 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years.

Size 4 requires 1 1-4 yards of 54-inch material with 5-8 yard of 35-inch contrasting and 1 1-4 yards of 39-inch lining.

Our Large Fashion Magazine is 48 pages. In addition to new pattern styles for women and children, it contains valuable beauty articles, some of which are illustrated by Norma Shearer and other Hollywood stars. It is a book every reader should have and its price will be saved many times for the patterns are nominally priced and very economical in material requirements.

Price of book 15 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Culbertson on Contract

An Unusual Trump Lead

BY ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Mr. William J. Wall, a citizen of the capital of Canada, Ottawa, where he is with the privy councillor, is an intelligent and interested student of bridge. Recently he witnessed a hand in a duplicate game in Ottawa in which a contract of four spades was defeated by an unusual lead based upon unusual bidding. At another table the contract was made because the defense did not seize upon the clue given during the auction.

North, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ 7 5 2 ♡ — ♢ A K 8 6 ♣ A K Q 9 6 2
♠ A Q 10 ♡ 8 4 3 ♢ J 10 9 7 ♣ J 8 7	N / W E / S	♠ K 9 ♡ A K 6 ♢ 5 4 3 2 ♣ 10 5 4 3
	♠ J 8 6 4 3 ♡ Q J 10 9 7 5 2 ♢ Q ♣ —

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

2♢(3)	Pass	2♠(4)	Pass
3♣(5)	Pass	3♡(6)	Pass
4♠(7)	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
Pass	Pass	Pass

1—This is the best bid with this holding.

2—Void of partner's suit, South tries to turn his distribution to account. Hence the shaded response.

3—Because North is void of the suit bid by his partner, he refrains from forcing on the second round.

4—South makes another effort.

5—North and South have bid all four suits. North's bid at this point is a strong suggestion that South bid notrump if his holding warrants such a contract.

6—Poor South, with 7-5-1 distribution, decides to try once more to steer the contract into safe channels.

7—North decides that after all South probably has no worse than a 6-5 distribution in hearts and spades. If this is so, he reasons that good use may be made of his three trumps in ruffing losing hearts in the South hand and establishing the suit.

8—West's Double is not particularly sound. He counts on holding three trump tricks over the spade bid—an assumption not warranted by North's support of spades.

In the play, however, West showed that he had an ear finely attuned to the bidding of his adversaries. He made the unusual Opening of the trump Ten, surrendering his tenace position, but reasoning that he would gain by lessening North's ruffing possibilities. Much to his surprise, his partner won the trick with the trump King and returned the suit, whereupon West drew the remaining trumps from the Dummy and South was later forced to concede the Ace-King of hearts.

At the other table where a contract of four spades was reached the outcome was much more fortnate for the Declarer. There West obligingly opened the diamond Knave and South proceeded to make the hand by the simple process of ruffing out East's winning hearts and eventually conceding two trump tricks to the opponents. The defense on the hand is difficult, but the bidding, which to a considerable extent discloses the North and South distribution, does afford some slight clue to the correct lead.

NRA GIVES 4,859 JOBS IN BIRMINGHAM AREA

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 1.—(AP) Jobs have been given 4,859 wage earners in the Birmingham district under the various NRA codes, the NRA committee reported today.

The headquarters of the NRA committee announced that on the basis of the $14.50 weekly minimum provided in codes, pay roll increases were estimated at $70,000 weekly, or an annual outlay of $3,640,000 additional into pay envelopes.

Thousands of Birmingham housewives have placed the blue eagle of national recovery in their windows this week after pledging co-operation through purchasing with merchants who have signed codes.

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 138
By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At the Mutia Escarpment, Jean and Holt were joined by Beamish and the remnant of the safari which had escaped the pygmies, and, marking the route to the Elephants' Graveyard, made their way to the coast. . . . Jean, although remembering her ape-man with tenderness, was gradually becoming more attached to young Holt.

Holt did not press his advances. Once back to civilization, he mused, this African adventure would become for Jean an episode of the dead past. And he was right. . . . Miles away, Tarzan hurried through the jungle. Without pause he plunged onward. He still feared for Lady Jane's safety.

Had she really escaped the wrath of the Reds in the war? Was she safe at their home? Now Tarzan was entering familiar territory. With eagerness bordering on desperation he increased his pace. Suddenly he came in sight of his home. The burned buildings had been rebuilt. The ape-man gave his victory cry in his joy.

Tarzan's shout aroused the occupants of the building. As the ape-man raced toward his home a door opened and a woman emerged. She too ran toward the running man. It was Lady Jane! They met—and Tarzan of the Apes enveloped his wife in a loving embrace. He was home at last!
THE END.

Beginning Monday—
Tarzan The Invincible
The thrilling struggle of the mighty hunter against a vast plot to dominate Africa

Sugar, Coffee.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Raw sugar was quiet today and spot prices were nominally unchanged at 3.60.

In futures trading was of a local character and confined to evening-up for the holiday with final prices 1 to 3 points net higher. Sales were 4,100 tons, the smallest day for many weeks.

The range follows:

	High	Low	Last
September	....	....	1.46b
December	1.58	1.56	1.58
January	1.59	1.59	1.60b
March	1.66	1.65	1.65-66

b—Bid.

The refined market was unchanged, although a better withdrawal demand was reported for the holiday. Second hands were also said to be moving in better volume. Prices were quoted at 4.70 by refiners and at 4.50 to 4.60 by second hands.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Coffee was steady today but quiet in advance of the three-day holiday. Trade interests bought and sold. Santos opened unchanged to 1 higher and closed 5 to 8 higher. Sales 6,000. No. 7 opened unchanged and closed 1 to 3 higher. Sales 1,000. Closing quotations: Santos—September 8.14; December 8.41; March 8.55; May 8.65; July 8.72. No. 7—September 5.69; December 5.97; March 6.18; May 6.22; July 6.27.

Spot coffee quiet, Santos 4s 8½, Rio 7s 7½.

By VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Preholiday apathy further restricted trading in the bond market today and prices generally mulled about in a listlessly irregular manner.

It was the dullest session of the year to date, sales totaling only $7,000,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans eased one-tenth of a point.

While prime investment issues maintained a fairly steady tone, some of the secondary groups slipped into lower territory.

Several of the secondary carriers declined fractionally to a point or more, probably in response to forecasts of a moderate decrease in freight car loadings. Among these were liens of Great Northern, Kansas City Southern, New York Central, Nickel Plate, Iron Mountain and Wisconsin Central.

Loans of American and Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone, Postal Telegraph and a few other utilities eased. Industrial gainers of about a point included issues of American Metal, Houston Oil and Lackawanna Steel.

United States government securities were a trifle lower. Foreign obligations were mixed. Bonds of Australia, Dutch East Indies, Japan, Switzerland, Great Britain and French municipalities moved up 1 to about 3 points, but the Argentines, Germans and Italians were heavy.

ILLEGAL LOAN CHARGED TO INSURANCE FIRM

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Post-Dispatch, in a special copyright dispatch from Frankfort, Ky., today said that Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, of Louisville, had branded as illegal, an $800,000 loan of the Missouri Stae Life Insurance Company.

The concern now is in the hands of the Missouri State Insurance superintendent. Dawson resigned as a member of the company board after the loan was made last December to Julius H. Barnes, of New York, and his associates.

A copy of a letter, scoring the loan, is said by the Post-Dispatch to be in the files of the Kentucky insurance department. It was represented as having been written to W. T. Nardin, St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Life.

By GILES L. FINDLEY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Grains "marked time" in a desultory preholiday market today which saw prices yielding fractionally.

Issuance of private crop reports, indicating a sharply curtailed corn crop, had only a momentary effect on trading. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's remarks warning farmers that inflation might prove harmful, was also passed by without comment. Most of the business was of an "evening up" character and found traders unwilling to commit themselves with a triple holiday ahead.

Wheat closed dull and weak, although near the day's top levels, but 1-8 to 5-8 cent below yesterday's finish, corn easy and 1-8 to 1-2 lower, oats unchanged to 1-4 down, rye 1-4 off to 3-8 up, and provisions with a mixed tone, ranging from 10 cents decline to 8 cents advanced.

Oats trailed along with interest lacking. Rye again displayed some independent strength, but was also narrowly traded.

Provisions were easier with grains despite an advance in hogs.

FREIGHT LOADINGS DECREASE IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The American Railway Association announced today loadings of revenue freight for the week ended August 26, totaled 631,998 cars, a decrease of 2,847 cars under the preceding week and an increase of 94,231 cars over the corresponding week of last year.

The association said grain and grain products, live stock and coal showed increases over the preceding week, but that coke, ore, forest products and miscellaneous merchandise in less than carload freight showed mostly small decreases.

All commodities, however, showed increases over the corresponding week last year except live stock, grain and grain products and merchandise less than carload freight.

Freight loadings for the week and differences from the preceding week follow:

Grain and grain products, 28,677 cars, increase 79; forest products, 26,644, decrease 231; ore, 37,366, decrease 18; coal, 129,624, increase 3,307; coke, 6,368, decrease 607; live stock, 18,725, increase 1,408.

In addition, miscellaneous freight for the week totaled 216,087, a decrease of 6,411; while loading of merchandise less than carload lots totaled 168,507, a decrease of 374.

Freight loading in the southwestern section during the week ended August 26, and for the similar period last year, follows: Grain and grain products 2,623 compared with 3,567 for last year; live stock, 1,841 compared with 2,080; coal, 3,162 compared with 2,450; coke, 89 compared with 88; forest products, 3,544 compared with 2,382; ore, 217 compared with 112; merchandise less than carload lots, 12,419 compared with 12,967; miscellaneous, 25,114 compared with 22,146.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A flurry of last-minute buying sent stocks up today as traders evened commitments prior to departure on a market holiday that will last until next Tuesday morning.

It was a perfunctory session throughout and the ticker spent many idle minutes. When shorts began to cover in the final hour prices advanced easily, bringing an average net gain of around a point. Volume amounted to approximately 1,200,000 shares.

On the basis of group behavior, oils looked best and most of the leaders there finished a point or more to the good. Gold shares were firm as the metal's price in London reached a record high at an American equivalent of $29.59. Homestake jumped 3.

Elsewhere, gains ranging from major fractions to about one point were returned by United States and Bethlehem Steels, National Biscuit, American Telephone, General Motors, Chrysler, Case, American Tobacco, New York Central, Santa Fe, Kennecott, du Pont, Allied Chemical and Westinghouse. Woolworth was a favorite of the moment on reports that its August sales had run ahead of last year, the point being made that the company operated under code conditions last month.

The oil industry's steering committee, in session at Washington, was said to be aiming at dollar crude, which would mean an advance from current levels. As regards another major industry, transportation, Wall Street looked for little change in the freight loadings report; published after the close, instead of tomorrow morning, it showed a decrease of 2,847 cars for the week ended August 26 from the previous week's total, but was 94,231 cars above a year ago.

Dullness also extended into the money and foreign exchange markets. European gold currencies lifted moderately in terms of American dollars, but trading had a holiday tinge and changes seemed to carry no great significance. First of the month financial settlements, including dividend and interest transfers, again were cared for without effect on credit rates; as a matter of fact, it has been a long time since monthends brought any noticeable flurry.

Bank Clearings Higher Than Week Year Ago

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The report of bank clearings is again somewhat mixed. The total this week for all leading cities in the United States, as reported by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., of $3,999,370,000 was 5.6 per cent higher than the amount a year ago. At New York City, clearings were $2,724,621,000, an increase of 4.3 per cent, while the aggregate for centers outside of New York of $1,274,749,000 was 8.4 per cent higher.

Some reduction in the final week of August is not unusual, and clearings this week are close to the lowest for any full week back to the month of April. The small gain at New York City over the clearings of last year, compares with a considerable increase for nearly every week during the past two months or more. Losses appear this week at Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and at some other key centers. Detroit reports an increase for the first time in a number of months and an improvement continues at St. Louis and Minneapolis, as well as at leading southern cities. Clearings for the final week of August, which are usually at the low point, are below those of the preceding week this year by $340,330,000; a year ago they were $121,473,000 higher.

Figures at leading centers compared with those of last year, are printed herewith; also, daily bank clearings each month for the year to date:

CURB ISSUES FIRM IN QUIET SESSION

By BERNARD S. O'HARA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The curb market was an extremely drab affair today and buying in oils provided the only flicker of interest. However, despite the general apathy the market maintained a steady tone and prices closed generally unchanged to slightly higher.

Oils made steady progress from the opening of trading but demand increased substantially in the last hour. Gulf and Humble oils gained 2 each, while Standard Oils of Indiana and Ohio improved a point or more. Mining shares were steady to firm, New Jersey Zinc advancing to 58 for a gain of 1 7-8 points.

Alcohols held within extremely narrow bounds while utilities were at their dullest in some time. American Light & Traction rose 1 1-2 while other power shares showed trifling changes.

Transfers approximated 200,000 shares, compared with 210,000 Thursday.

TRADE REVIEW NOTES CONTINUED ADVANCES

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., in their weekly trade review today said that business and trade have continued their forward movement with no signs of hesitancy.

"The unrestrained weight of national action," commented the review, "has been timed to a nicety to receive the full impact of the normal intensity of the heavier force of the fall buying season. Some idea of the broadness of the sweep with which retail distribution has been advancing under the stimulus of the NRA activities is present in the early estimates of August sales volume. These range from a low of 5 per cent to a high of around 35 per cent for a month which even in normal times is marked by a series of recessions in all commercial branches.

"News of the rise in consumer buying is factual, being supported by sales reports and figures issued by the chain and department stores and mail order houses. Retail sales are now increasing at a far more rapid rate than industrial activity is declining, as the recession in the latter has not been extended as yet, production in many divisions continuing above last year's position and offering a favorable comparison with the 1931 figures.

"At no time in the last four years has a summer season been characterized by such an insistent demand for goods of all types, which has carried the August volume of many stores three or four times that of a year ago, in spite of the fact that shopping during this month normally reaches almost the lowest ebb of the year."

Leading Exchanges Will Be Closed Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Most of the important security and commodity exchanges in this country will have an extended labor day holiday from the close of business today until next Tuesday morning. The major markets in New York, Chicago and other leading centers will not function tomorrow. The Winnipeg grain exchange will also remain closed tomorrow and Monday.

Tomorrow is the last scheduled Saturday closing of the New York stock exchange, which more than a month ago—or just after the big markets of late July—decided to suspend the two-hour week-end session for the balance of the summer.

So far, there has been no intimation from the exchange that the Saturday vacations might be continued, although some brokerage circles are known to favor such an extension, perhaps for an indefinite period.

UNFAVORABLE CHANGES IN DIVIDENDS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—August saw 29 unfavorable dividend changes, the smallest number for any month since November, 1929, Standard Statistics Co. reported today. This total compared with 87 for July.

Last month brought 57 favorable revisions against 71 in July. Twenty-one dividends were increased, 18 were resumed, while there were nine extra payments and nine initial disbursements.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINIONS.

FEENER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER—We continue to advise the purchase of stocks on recessions for trading or long-term purposes.

DOBBS & CO.—We continue to look for improved business conditions as doubts gradually are cleaned up and believe that the trend of prices will be higher.

COURTS & CO.—Everyone continues hopeful, and with increased attendance in the Street next week and doubtless many of the NRA problems worked out by that time, the outlook for better things in the near future is decidedly promising.

LIVINGSTON & CO.—Trade reviews are stressing the gains being made in the retail field and there are other indications that the recession in trade activities soon should give way to constructive seasonal influence. The latter, in any case, will prevent further losses.

COTTON OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER—Interest will center in the approaching government estimate upon the reopening of markets next Tuesday. Trading sentiment will be influenced by the private predictions with contracts probably in supply unless early estimates are better than expected.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—The market at present is awaiting the government figures to be published September 8, on the estimated size of the crop.

COURTS & CO.—We would advise purchases on any good dips before the bureau report.

GRAIN OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER—The wheat market appears to be marking time pending the digesting of the liquidated wheat which has come out in the past week or two.

L. & N. ASKS EXTENSION OF CUT RATE TIME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Louisville and Nashville railroad today requested the interstate commerce commission for an extension for six months of its order allowing a reduction in passenger charges throughout its lines and the elimination of Pullman surcharges.

Last March the commission permitted the road to reduce the basic rate of 3.6 cents a mile to 2 cents a mile for passengers in day coaches and 3 cents a mile for those riding in Pullman or parlor cars. Elimination of the Pullman surcharges also was authorized.

In its new application to the commission, the road said the lowered rates had not been in effect a sufficient time to do more than inspire "hope that they will eventually accomplish the desired purpose" of "arresting the downward trend of passenger earnings."

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, 5 points down at 9.10.

Receipts, 75; shipments, 1,476; stocks, 186,542.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Trading in cotton was generally quiet today and largely of a pre-holiday character, with prices sagging off a few points under scattering liquidation combined with a little southern selling.

December deliveries, after selling at 9.60 early eased off to 9.53 in the late trading and closed at 9.54 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 2 to 5 points.

The opening was 2 points lower to 3 points higher. Traders found no trading incentives in the overnight news and orders were pretty well divided at the start. Trade and commission houses were credited with buying, while in addition to liquidation there was some selling by the south and selling through houses with continental connections.

New Orleans demand for July had a sustaining influence on the general market but the buyers did not follow the market above 10.16 for that contract. Final prices were at or within a point of the lowest for the day.

The report of a tropical storm over Cuba attracted attention but registered no appreciable effect on the market.

Exports today 21,227, making 554,518 so far this season; port receipts 62,454; United States port stocks 3,001,948.

Liverpool cables were not far out of line with expectations. Private advices reported a quiet market there with light continental hedging absorbed by limited trade calling and some buying on weevil reports from the south.

The two private crop reports issued so far show condition figures ranging from 65.2 to 65.8, while figures on the indicated crop run from 12,608,000 up to 13,033,000 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON DECLINES 4 TO 7 POINTS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—(AP) Cotton continued dull today on the eve of the lengthy Labor Day holidays and prices fluctuated listlessly, closing 4 to 7 points net lower.

Values, however, were supported well for a time but a sustained demand for the distant July position and about 20,000 bales of this delivery were reported to have been bought through one commission house at 10.15. At one time that option moved up to 10.17, or 2 points net higher but it closed at 10.11, 4 points net lower.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables came in about as due and sterling showed little change. Manchester cabled that definite cloth business was being offered and spinners were firm on yarns.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 to 3 penny points down.

Port receipts 69,162; for week 199,368; for season 580,830; last season 416,994. Exports 1,887; for week 132,499; for season 559,898; last season 514,809. Port stock 3,009,973; last year 3,301,508. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 92,242; last year 71,367. Spot sales at southern markets 19,314; last year 26,939.

Hubbell and Fitzsimmons Pitch Giants to Double Victory

It Begins To Appear That Connie Mack Started Something

Brrrrrrrrrrring.

"Hello. Hello.

"Is this the sports editor of The Constitution?"

"Yes, mam, it is."

"My husband and I are having an argument. Why did Connie Mack fire George Earnshaw?"

"Well, madam, he said it was because he got tired of looking at him."

"Just tired of looking at him. That's the only reason?"

"Yes, mam, just tired of looking at him."

"Just tired of looking at him! Well, well, well. Do you think he could help me with my husband? I'm tired of looking at him."

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD.

Johnny Mize, a Georgia boy, has gone away from the old home state and made good in Rochester, a Cardinal farm.

They are already dressing him up in major league clothing. And this after two years of professional baseball. He was born at Demorest, Ga., but moved to Atlanta years ago.

Last year he was with Elmira as an outfielder. This year he was with Greensboro in the Piedmont league. He hit well above .300 and was moved in to first base. Now they are saying he is a sure-fire-major-league prospect.

His greatest fan is his mother, Mrs. Emma Mize, who has been connected with the J. M. High Company for 18 years.

And Atlanta has been in need of a first baseman all the year.

WHAT PRICE TOURNAMENTS.

It occurs to me that the various tournament bodies are getting quite a kicking around. A verbal kicking around.

Miss Enid Wilson, the English women's champion at golf, has issued a statement in which she says that this is her last season in competitive golf. The reasons behind her proposed retirement are several. Foremost is the attitude of tournament officials, demanding all sorts of physical extravagances from the players and creating such a serious attitude that all fun is taken from the game.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who recently defaulted to Miss Helen Jacobs in the national tennis matches rather than risk permanent injury, is quoted as saying the only reason she entered the national at all was at the insistence of the tennis officials who said the financial end of the tournament would be ruined without her.

Clifford Sutter, one of the ranking tennis stars, was quoted as saying that he preferred to play in Europe, where tennis players are treated as gentlemen and not as hired help. It so happens that tournament players in this country are little more than hired help. But Sutter was told to quit talking. And those responsible for his expenses abroad were those who told him to quit talking.

MRS. MOODY PILLORIED UNJUSTLY.

It is now pretty well believed that the United States Lawn Tennis Association puts pressure on leading players to cause them to enter tournaments. The association seeks those large gates and the gate is usually a tremendous one, especially when Vines, Shields, Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs are among those entered.

Without them the show would not draw in much money at the gate. It was pretty obvious that Mrs. Moody was not at her best in Europe. It was even more obvious when she began to play in this country. It is quite probable that the oldest (and most foolish) argument was advanced—that she owed it to the game and her public to go on and play.

It seems to me that Mrs. Moody has done enough for tennis in her seven years of play. It is equally true that tennis has done much for her. But there is no overlapping in the debt.

If this case leads to rebellion among the leading players, causing them to refuse to go on if they are unable or unwilling, it will be worthwhile. The most commercial of all our amateur sports is really facing a fight from within the ranks.

The players should go ahead and join Henri Cochet in the professional game.

MR. BARRON "TAKES" IT.

Red Barron is to have charge of the Atlanta Crackers while Wilbert Robinson checks up on the Cracker players at Charlotte in the Piedmont league.

This proves to Barron that his 1932 season, when he was given one of the worst ball clubs in the world to manage, was not the worst after all. In these last two weeks he will direct an even worse club than the one of 1932.

Insofar as his managerial career is concerned, the fighting Redhead may now be sure of one thing—any change which comes after this season must be an improvement. The bottom has been reached.

UNCLE ROBBY CHECKS UP.

Wilbert Robinson was placed in charge of the Crackers, following the dismissal of Charley Moore, to check the players and determine which, if any, were worth keeping for 1934.

Uncle Robby needed to count only as high as three or four. This baseball team of 1933 has had the usual loyal support of fans and newspapers. And it was the least deserving of any team which has ever represented Atlanta.

It is to be regretted that baseball law does not permit the disciplining of unworthy players.

NEW ORLEANS WINS.

Meanwhile, the New Orleans club goes along out in front. The second half pennant is fairly sure to go to the hustling club from Louisiana.

A Knoxville victory would have been rather spectacular, and yet I question its desirability. It would have been something of a reflection on the league to have a collection of cast-offs win the pennant. Knoxville has had glory enough and will finish ahead financially.

As for the play-off, it should be worth going far to see. Memphis is up and coming and may, of course, yet win the last half. The play-off would be the better idea and might make the split season more popular.

BILLY REESE IN SEMI-FINALS OF STATE MEET

Young Sutter Plays Champion Today; Boynton Is Eliminated.

By Ralph McGill.

Billy Reese, who happens to be the reigning favorite to win the annual state tennis tournament now in progress at the Biltmore club courts, advanced to the semi-finals Friday afternoon.

While he was accomplishing this advance, Ernie Sutter, who is a tennis player and not at all dependent on the reflected glory of being Cliff Sutter's brother, moved in as Reese's opponent by beating Jack Simpson.

These two will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in one of the matches promising superior tennis. Reese, who is the denfending champion as well as the favorite, meets a rugged campaigner in Ernie Sutter.

BOYNTON BEATEN.

Sutter's match with Simpson went three sets. This was a bit more difficult an afternoon than Reese had. He had won from Campbell Gillespie in straight love sets to enter the quarter finals and then beat Beorge Boynton, 6-3, 6-0, to go the semi-finals.

Sutter won his morning match from J. C. Miller, 6-3, 7-5, and then took Simpson, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4. Simpson played a great competitive game, forcing the going in the first set with hard forehand smashes and then breaking through to take the second. He was leading in the third but Sutter rallied in time.

Sutter, of course, is really stepping out of his class to play in the men's singles. He happens to be one of the Junior stars and is also playing in that division. Which is a lot of tennis even for the young legs of a junior.

STAR ATTRACTION.

Nevertheless his match with Reese today is decidedly a feature and is expected to pull out a large gallery. The boys' finals and some of the quarter and semi-final ladies' matches will be played.

The rain of the past few days played hob with the schedule and it will extend over into Monday.

Jack Mooney and Jimmy Halverstadt will meet in a quarter-final match this morning at 10 o'clock and the winner of this match will meet the Boulware-Little victor to determine the second semi-final pair.

Mooney beat Jack Boykin 6-4, 6-3 yesterday and Burts Boulware, the Florida entry, won from Harry Gault 6-4, 2-6, 10-8. This was another of those matches which held a nice gallery up on its toes.

JUNIOR SINGLES.

In the junior singles they are slugging their way through the second round and quarter-final matches.

This department is extremely interesting, containing as it does such players as Boulware, Sutter and Russell Bobbitt. As well as others.

The semi-finals begin this morning with Boulware meeting Ed Alley, Ernie Sutter playing C. Gillespie, Bobbitt meeting Malcolm Manley and George Boynton playing Wesley Barrett.

The ladies, many of them playing in those shorts which Miss Helen Jacobs proved superior to the cotton tennis skirt in her match with Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, will also play this morning and afternoon.

They will be seen in second round, in quarter-finals and in semi-final matches. Mrs. Martha Hood won her quarter-final match by beating Mrs. D. Vogel, and Evangeline McLennan won hers by beating Elizabeth Metts.

SEEDED STARS WIN.

The boys' match found all the seeded stars, four of them, coming through. The semi-final matches will be played this morning at 10:30 o'clock with the finals slated for the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs Martha Hood beat Kathleen Roberts, 6-2, 6-1.
Evangeline McLennan won by default from Elizabeth Metts.

Griffin Schedules Ten Grid Contests

GRIFFIN, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ten games are listed on the football schedule of Griffin High school for this fall and some of the rivals are described as the strongest competition the team has encountered.

Seven of the games will be played in Griffin. Nine opponents have been scheduled and the other date is left open.

The opponents are North Fulton, Russell, Thomaston, Gainesville, Fulton, Newnan, Marist, Druid Hills and Decatur.

As Football Returned to Oglethorpe

Four aspiring backfield men—Syd Flint, Eddie Anderson, Sullivan and Farmer are shown above going through the first offensive maneuvers of the season as Coach Harry Robertson mustered his material for the opening practice yesterday afternoon at Hermance field. About 35 players answered the opening call. The Petrels will practice daily until September 21 when Newberry will be met under the lights at Ponce de Leon in the opening game. Anderson, second from the left, is regarded as a likely candidate for quarterback. Photo by George Cornett.

CRACKERS BEAT PELICANS, 11 TO 8

Those Atlanta Crackers won a ball game from the league-leading New Orleans Pelicans Friday night for no reason at all and by a score of 11-to-8.

Red Barron, who managed the ill-fated 1932 team, was in charge, Wilbert Robinson having left the team to go look over the Cracker rookies with the Charlotte club. Red will take it on to the bitter end.

The team got to Perrin for five runs in the first two innings and were going merrily ahead on him in the third when he was taken out and replaced by Jay Moore. Jay Moore was given an enthusiastic greeting and he gave away to Margavio, a recruit from Ireland.

Margavio had one bad inning but pitched pretty fair ball, allowing only three runs.

QUITE A NIGHT.

It was quite a night for the Crackers. They have been hitless in so many innings that they gorged on the feast Friday night. The club made 19 base hits in getting their 11 runs. Susko got five hits in five times up and Bonowitz four hits and a base on balls in five tries.

And then the Crackers threw a scare into the fans. Only the Crackers could go into the ninth leading 11-to-2 and then cause the fans to have caniption fits.

Butcher went wild as the wild, wild waves in the ninth and walked five men and allowed three hits. He walked in, gratis and free for nothing, a total of three runs. New Orleans made six and a close decision on Eddie Morgan on an infield out ended the game.

ROOKIES PITCH.

Larry Gilbert refused to use one of his starting pitchers after Perrin was knocked out and kept rookies in there.

The two teams and the series here Saturday afternoon, playing at 2 o'clock.

Extra features of the Friday night game were a fog which threatened to hide Bonowitz in center field and a dog fight which twice broke across the diamond in a mild way, Bonowitz' wire-haired terrier and a stray ehow being the principals.

EQUIPOISE OUT FOR 7TH VICTORY

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Fifteen two-year olds, running for $40,000 in the Hopeful, tomorrow will share honors on Saratoga's closing program with C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, greatest of American turf champions, which will seek his seventh straight victory in the longest race he has ever run, the mile and three-quarters of the $7,000 Saratoga cup.

Three other high class colts, including Mrs. Dodge Sloane's triple-stake winner, Ceasars Ghost, today were named to oppose Equipoise but the little chestnut was the prohibitive choice at 1 to 5. Victory will boost his total earnings close to $320,000, only $8,000 short of Gallant Fox's mark.

Scott-Paine, Gar Wood Ready for Race Today

Miss Britain III in Perfect Trim As England Hopes To Lift Harmsworth Trophy.

By David J. Wilkie,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

ALGONAC, Mich., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Miss Britain III, the tiny English-built hydroplane with which Hubert Scott-Paine hopes to lift the Harsmworth trophy, was declared by her mechanics and pilot tonight to be as nearly ready for tomorrow's contest with the giant defender, Miss America X, as their skill and ingenuity could make her.

There was comparatively little activity around the boat wells of the two speediest water craft in the world, as power-boating interest switched to Detroit where the gold cup contest, second in line of the world's speed boat trophies was being run.

There was activity galore along the shores that line the seven-mile Harmsworth course. Grandstands were being hammered into shape—stands with a seating capacity far in excess of the expectations of the most sanguine of speedboat enthusiasts. For four miles along the American side of the international trophy course seats have been provided for hundreds of thousands of spectators. One veteran of power boating estimated there were seating accommodations for approximately a million people.

SEATS EVERYWHERE.

Seats had been erected also atop garages, and other small and large buildings. On the Canadian side of the course there were fewer buildings, but grandstands had sprung up there too.

Aside from the construction activity on the grandstands, there were last-minute inspections of the course itself, which stretches from just north of this village, the home town of Gar Wood, veteran defender of the Harmsworth plaque and birthplace of all his long line of Miss Americas, to a point above Marine City.

There were final instructions also to course patrol crews and to the traffic squads which will control automobile pilgrimages to the course.

Fearful of a traffic snarl, most of the Harmsworth officials—timers, judges, committee members and others who have official duties connected with the contest came to Algonac or near-by villages to spend the night, although the first of the series of races for the trophy does not start until 3 p. m., eastern standard time, Saturday.

NO PREDICTIONS.

As has been their policy since it became assured they would meet in the Harmsworth contest, neither Scott-Paine nor Wood tonight ventured any predictions on the outcome. The British pilot has let it be known he will be satisfied if he can "give Wood a race," and finish each heat against him. Wood has said his boat is ready for a stiff race and he has no fear that it "might crack" under the extra speed he may be forced to develop.

GOLD CUP WON BY EL LAGARTO

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—(AP)—An 11-year-old, mahogany-hull speedboat from Lake George, N. Y., El Lagarto, owned and piloted by George Reis, captured the gold cup, second ranking trophy of the powerboat world, by finishing first in two heats and taking a second place in the final 35-mile race on the Detroit river this afternoon.

The victory was determined under the American Powerboat Association's point system of scoring, El Lagarto winning 1,161 points; Horace Dodge's defending Delphine IV, which took second in the first two heats and won the final heat, 1,122, and Delphine VII, driven by Mrs. Delphine Dodge Baker, of Washington, 648.

Chicago Wins First In Sandlot Series

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Chicago American Legion junior baseball team swept through to a 14-to-5 victory here today over the Trenton (N. J.) nine in the first game of the "little world series."

Central Christians Play Ben Hill Today

The Central Christian ball club plays Ben Hill in the feature attraction at the annual church barbecue at the corner of Campbellton road and Dodson drive this afternoon.

Frank Speer, professional wrestler, will play first base for the Christians.

The game starts at 3 o'clock.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

Alex Morrison says:

Pressing against the body with the upper part of the left arm is one of the best means of steadying yourself during the swing.

When your arms, particularly the upper part of them, get away from your body you can't co-ordinate your body with your arms and hands.

The proper co-ordination will be helped by this pressing against your body with the upper parts of both arms.

ATLANTA ENTERS BASKET LEAGUE

Atlanta will be a member of a six-team professional basketball league which will begin plans this winter, it was assured at a meeting of representatives in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Atlanta, Birmingham, Knoxille, Nashville and Macon are members of the league.

Play will open early in December. A split season schedule will be played with each club to play a home and trip game each week.

Tom Slate and Harry Richmond will be in charge of the Atlanta team, which is to be captained by Oscar Brock, former Y. M. C. A. star, and will include other players from the "Y" team.

Last year the "Y" five won the southern championship by drubbing the Chattanooga dynamos in the title series.

Atlanta Shooter Posts 195 at Perry

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Hitting the targets in a stiff wind for eight bulls-eyes and a score of 197 out of a possible 200, W. R. Walsh, of Union City, N. J., won the Wimbledon match in the national small bore rifle championships here today against a field of 97 contestants.

T. Samsoe, of Perth Amboy, N. J., was a close second with a score of 197, but only five bulls-eyes. The match was fired at 200 yards.

Three competitors had scores of 195 each in the Wimbledon match. They finished in the following order: C. T. Westergard, of Whiting, Ohio, third; Harry Paschel, of Atlanta, Ga., fourth, and Thurman Randle, of Dallas, Texas, fifth.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The mighty arms of Carl Hubbell and Fred Fitzsimmons both pitched and batted the New York Giants into a double victory that dropped the Boston Braves into third place, a single point behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, today before 48,000 horrified spectators, the largest major league crowd of the season in Boston.

Hubbell outclassed Fred Frankhouse by a wide margin while hurling the Giants to a 2-0 win in the tenth inning of the opener. His famous screw-ball baffled the Braves as he chalked up his 20th victory of the season and his 10th shutout. Fitzsimmons was almost as effective while working for his 5-3 triumph in the second half of the clean sweep, which lengthened the Giants' lead over the virtually deadlocked Pirates and Braves to seven games.

Frankhouse, with his fast curve misbehaving, encountered plenty of trouble but the brilliant performances of his infield mates kept the Giants scoreless until the tenth, which the Boston right-hander opened by fanning the veteran Travis Jackson, in at third base for Johnny Vergez, who underwent an appendix operation last night.

MANCUSO STARTS IT.

Gus Mancuso started the Giants on their way by gaining first as Baxter Jordan juggled Pinky Whitney's throw from third. "Rabbit" Maranville then booted Blondy Ryan's liner and Hubbell came up with two on and one out. He slashed a single to center, sending Bernie James, running for the sluggish catcher, flying home from second base. Ryan moved on to third and scored on Hughie Critz's drive to right field.

The Giants gave their brilliant ace shabby treatment making him work so long for his deserved victory. He was never in danger and the only time he eased up on the Braves' batsmen was in the ninth when he gave Wally Berger, whose homer paved the way for yesterday's Boston victory, four outside pitches with Frankhouse on second and two out.

He held the Braves to four scattered hits and Maranville, who got two of them, was the only Brave to reach third base. The Giants knicked Frankhouse for seven hits, five of them coming after the sixth inning. He gave out nine passes, five consecutive ones to Mel Ott, who seemed to unnerve him.

FILL BASES.

The Giants filled the bases four times, in the first, third, seventh and ninth, but "Lefty" O'Doul ruined three of these glorious opportunities by hitting into a double play and twice retiring the side by grounding out. Jackson spoiled the other by flying out to left field.

Fitzsimmons had the second game firmly under his thumb until the eighth inning, when the Braves bunched four of their six hits for three runs that tied the score.

Mancuso provided another timely hit in the ninth and again James was his runner. Ryan punched out a safety over shortstop and Fitzsimmons, aroused by the loss of his three-run lead, lifted one of Ed Brandt's southpaw offerings into the overflow crowd in center field, gaining a two-bagger under the ground rules and driving home the two base runners with the much needed tallies.

The Giants opened their second game scoring in the sixth when Brandt reverted to the supposed typical southpaw type.

BREAK TIE.

George Davis, who plays center field for Johnny Moore when the Giants get left-handed pitching, faced Brandt with one out in the sixth and gained first after knocking him down with a terrific liner. Critz singled through "Barber Bill" Urbanski's shortstop preserve and Davis went to third on the play. Manager Bill Terry then poked out a dinky roller to Brandt and he made the play at first base as Davis gayly romped home to break the scoreless tie.

Brandt gave Ott his sixth free pass of the day to open the seventh and Mancuso scored him with a two-base drive into the center field crowd. In the eighth Critz singled and stole second before scoring on Homer Peel's long single to center. Fitzsimmons had limited the Braves to two hits up to the eighth, when they finally solved his knuckle-ball pitching.

Whitney opened that frame with a single to center field and Hal Lee sacrificed him to second. "Shanty" Hogan drove a hard liner between third and short and the throw-in from left field was so slow that Whitney made third. He scored when Maranville beat out a bunt to first, thereby arousing Manager Bill Terry's ire. Brandt grounded out. Urbanski connected for the first time of the day. He drove a long single into right which enabled Cantwell to score standing up and Maranville to register with a fade-away slide that was wasted because Mancuso dropped Critz's throw.

After the Giants put the game on ice with their two-run rally in the ninth, Terry sent Adolfo Luque in for Fitzsimmons and the veteran Cuban wound up the game by fanning Berger and forcing Mowry and Whitney to roll out to the infield for easy outs at first base.

'ROBBY' PLEASED WITH WORKOUT

By Jack Troy.

With the exception of a few players who have jobs (everybody up for the NRA), all the candidates of promise attended the opening football practice of the season yesterday afternoon at Hermance field.

Thurman and Craven, ends; Rudy Shouse, center; Phil Hildreath, fullback; Wade, sophomore quarterback, and Harry Wrens, halfback, wrote Coach Harry Robertson they would report Monday.

Frank Metric, another promising fullback, attended the practice in civilian clothes and will report today.

Among the promising candidates reporting were Sullivan and young Farmer, a brother of Ike Farmer, halfbacks; McNeely, a sophomore center; Young Pickard and Friedman, ends; Robinson and Darracott, tackles; Jack Harrison and Jimmy George, halfbacks, and Eddie Anderson, quarterback.

The usual setting-up exercises, kicking and passing, were observed yesterday. Many of the candidates reported in fairly good condition, which cheered Coach Robertson no little. There are only 16 practice days before the opening game with Newberry and scrimmage will be held as soon as the players look ready.

Eddie Anderson and Jimmy George were kicking well for the first day. Coach Robertson was pleased. "It looks like I may find a replacement for Ray Walker there," Robby said.

Robertson considers Walker, who graduated last spring, as one of the greatest kickers the south has seen.

There were approximately 35 players out and the opening workout was very satisfactory.

Robertson took time out to praise Friedmon. "I think you'll see a good end in that young fellow this season."

George, Anderson and Wade all are good passers and kickers. Anderson is an unusually good quarterback prospect.

But there seems to be no abundancy of reserve tackle material around. Coach Robertson must develop some tackles.

The squad will report again this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Fisher Released By Nashville Club

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—George "Showboat" Fisher, outfielder recently acquired from Little Rock, has been given his outright release by the Nashville club of the Southern association. Announcement of the move was published today.

MEN'S SINGLES DRIVE BEGINS WITH FINE FIELD

Comeback by Vines All That Is Needed for Great Meet

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—All that the national men's singles championship at Forest Hills needed to insure spectacular results was a comeback by the two-time champion, H. Ellsworth Vines Jr., so far the victim of a disastrous tennis season for America's aces.

His sudden return to form in the east-west matches indicates Vines may have plenty to offer in defense of the championship, which starts tomorrow, continues all next week and brings together the world's outstanding players from Great Britain, Australia, Japan and the United States. In the lists from overseas are Jack Crawford, present holder of the Australian, French and Wimbledon singles titles, and Frederick J. Perry, hero of England's Davis cup triumphs at Paris.

Ninety players have been drawn for the tournament. Vines and Crawford both drew byes for the first round, but there will be 26 matches tomorrow to cut the field down to 64 for the second round on Labor Day. If the "seeding" of top-notchers runs according to expectations, the semi-finals will bring together Vines and Perry, Crawford and Frank Shields, the year's most improved American player.

The national ranking list has been radically altered in "seeding" the American favorites. Shields is "seeded" No. 2, between Vines and Allison, although the big New Yorker was ranked only fifth last year. Frankie Parker, the 17-year-old sensation, although only No. 12 in the ranking list, was "seeded" fifth, between Cliff Sutter and Sidney Wood.

CRAWFORD, PERRY.

The championship will mark the first singles competition for Crawford and Perry in the United States this year. Perry was a semi-finalist at Forest Hills in 1931, losing in a prolonged struggle to Vines. He has swept European courts this season with the best tennis of his career and can register the first "grand slam" in court history by carrying off the United States singles crown.

Japan has a real threat in Jiro Satoh, "seeded" third in the foreign list, but the rest of the invading talent is made up mostly of ambitious youngsters, new to American competition.

Perry will open the tournament by playing Edward W. Burns Jr., of New York, in the first stadium court match at 12:30 E. S. T. Other featured contests in the first round: Frankie Parker vs. Giles Verstraten, New York; Ryosuke Nunoi, Japan, vs. Edward Jacobs, Baltimore; Frank Shields, New York, vs. E. Ramey Donovan, New York; George M. Lott Jr., Chicago, vs. Laird Watt, Montreal; Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Cal., vs. Henry Prusoff, Seattle; R. Norris Williams II vs. Harold MacRuffin, both of Philadelphia.

GEORGIA SWIM THIS AFTERNOON

With the entry of Miss Louisa Robert expected, the Georgia state swimming championships will be held this afternoon and tonight at the Venetian pool in Decatur.

Invitations have been sent to all Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. teams in the state. Private club teams have been invited from Savannah, LaGrange, Macon, Tybee, Sea Island, St. Simons, Rome, Griffin, Newnan and Thomasville.

Silver trophies will be awarded to the winners in all events. The junior events will be held in the afternoon starting at 2, and the senior competitions at night. Races will be open to both men and women in the free style, backstroke and breast stroke. Fancy diving contest and relays are also slated.

Seventy-five entries are expected, Walter Baker, of the Venetian pool, announced yesterday.

Atlanta stars in addition to Miss Robert include Misses Beverly Rogers, Mary Allen, Betty Fugitt, the Holbrook sisters, Audy Umbach and Francis Yates in the girls' division, and Levering Neely, Gordon Russell, Dave Young, Vernon Brown, Warner Heston, Orman House and Doyle Butler in the men's division.

TITLE CONTEST IS SCHEDULED IN SOUTHWEST

Gideons and Criterions To Meet at Almand Park Today.

A champion baseball team will be crowned at Almand park this afternoon, after the smoke has cleared and the amateurs have pocketed their gloves, as the Gordon Street Gideons and the Lakewood Criterions clash in a heated dispute for the Southwest Sunday School Athletic Association championship.

Last Saturday the teams split a double bill on the same diamond, the Gideons taking the first and Lakewood the second by forfeit.

"Chockhow" Whitney, one of the most clever pitchers of his class, is a sure bet for mound duty against Lakewood, while the Criterions have the choice of Joe Eaves or Lefty King.

In percentage of games won and lost, Lakewood has the highest average, having lost but one game in the Southern league during the season.

With some of their star infield men back on the job, the Criterions are well prepared for the final test.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

The schedule:

Lakewood Criterions vs. Gordon Street Gideons at Almand park; umpires, Perkins and Pickett.

Scott League.

The last series of games in the Trammell Scott league is scheduled this afternoon. Gaylord is now in the lead by one game and needs a victory over Black and White in order to keep their position. A. & P. has lost two games, and plays Southern Railway this time—a hard team to beat at any time. Railway Mail will try to keep out of last place by beating Standard Oil this week.

SCOTT LEAGUE.

Gaylord vs. Black and White at northeast Piedmont.

Railway Mail vs. Standard Oil at northwest Piedmont.

Southern Railway vs. A. & P. at Grant park.

Y-Church League.

Gate City Methodist, winner of the Georgia league pennant, will play Rock Springs Presbyterian Piedmont league winners, at S. E. Piedmont park this afternoon. In the first game of the series for the Y-Church championship.

The schedule:

Rock Springs vs. Gate City at S. E. Piedmont park; Umpires, Allgood and Wagner.

Hills Park vs. Pattillo Memorial at Kirkwood; umpire, Walton.

Kirkwood vs. Northwest Atlanta (Monday) at Almand Park; umpires, Bend and Walton.

Miss Van Wie In Great Form, Beats Briton

By Paul Mickelson,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

EXMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Sept. 1.—(AP)—England's hopes of winning the United States women's golf championship prize were struck dead at Exmoor today by the American defending champion, Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago. She defeated Enid Wilson by the astounding score of 6 and 5 by shooting under par.

Lifted to the heights as three-time champion, Miss Wilson spreadeagled her field for four successive days with England's greatest burst of par breaking golf in the American championship. Then she went stale and fell like a broken idol.

Joining Miss Van Wie in the finals was one of her firmest friends, Helen Hicks, of New York, 1931 champion, who romped home with a victory almost as big as Miss Van Wie's, a 6 and 4 conquest of Maureen Orcutt, of Haworth, N. J. The two American girls will meet for the title tomorrow over 36 holes.

They could go to extra holes tomorrow if they kept today's pace as both scored under par with their matched cards all square at the 13th green where Miss Van Wie finished her war on the British.

ROUT FROM START.

Miss Van Wie's victory over the English champion today was a rout from the first tee shot to the final hole as the American champion caught the tall, blonde girl from the Nottingham Hills sadly off her approach game and riddled her hopes with shots that broke par by two shots. The Briton fell to a six-down disadvantage on the first nine as Virginia romped out with a medal of 37 that came within one stroke of men's par. The invader took the only one hole in the 13 played.

Miss Hicks, who made an unenviable record at Salem last year by becoming the first defending champion to fail in the qualifying round, hammering out drives that ranged from 255 to 250 yards, broke par by three shots for 14 holes and lost only two holes to Miss Orcutt.

Miss Hicks started out in front by winning the second hole with a beautiful spoon shot that netted her birdie four. Maureen squared it on the fifth with a birdie four by laying an iron second from 200 yards to the green. Billy then started her march as Maureen's tee shots went wild and won the next two holes in par to get a lead she never surrendered. At the turn, Billy was three up with a medal card of 37, duplicating Miss Van Wie's mark, and ended the match with two birdies, sinking a treacherous uphill putt from 35 feet on the thirteenth and laying a five iron stony dead on the final green.

Miller Selected Tourney Finalists

O. W. "Dutch" Miller is the city's champion golf picker.

During the qualifying rounds of the city amateur tourney Monday, when all the entries had been received, Miller named Tommy Barnes and Julius Hughes as the finalists from a "wide-open" field of champions, former champions and ambitious young golfers.

Today those two players meet for the crown, and Miller can say "I told you so."

HEALEY, RIDLEY ARE DEFEATED IN SEMI-FINALS

Finals In Other Flights Will Be Played Today.

By Roy White.

Julius Hughes, Druid Hills Club champion and former winner of the city title, and Tommy Barnes, young East Lake star and winner of the recent Albany invitation tournament, will meet in the 36-hole finals of the annual city championship today on the Capital City Country Club course. The morning round will start at 9:30 o'clock, with the afternoon round scheduled at 2 o'clock.

Finals in all other flights will be played this morning starting at 8:55 o'clock and will be over the 18-hole route.

Following the championship match members of the Capital City Club can return for their own private battles and will be permitted to leave the starting tee after the championship match has moved off.

FORMER FINALISTS.

Hughes won the title in 1929 and has been in the semi-finals several times. Barnes lost to Scott Hudson in the finals last year and it marks his second attempt at the crown in as many years.

Hughes defeated Johnny Westmoreland in the quarter-finals and eliminated Bill Healey, one of the sensations of the tourney, 3-2, in the semi-finals Friday afternoon.

Barnes beat John Grant Jr., 3-2, Friday morning and advanced to the finals with a 2-1 win over the veteran Chick Ridley in the afternoon.

Altough the championship matches, particularly the Barnes-Ridley affair, attracted the crowds, the matches in the other flights were in many instances closer and produced more spectacular golf.

Morton Campbell, young East Lake star, pulled the surprise of the day, beating Dan Sage Jr., on the 19th green in the second flight quarter-finals and eliminating Charlie Black on the 18th green in the afternoon. Both matches were well played.

EXTRA HOLES.

Crawford Rainwater, young son of Veazy Rainwater, former city and state champion, set a city record for extra-hole play when he won two matches on the 20th green in the fifth flight. He beat Jack London in the morning and Ralph McClelland Jr., in the afternoon.

Hughes played two steady rounds Friday, with neither score spectacular. He kept plugging along and was never in danger. The match produced some of the best of the day.

Play in the Barnes-Ridley match was very erratic. They were some 4 or 5 strokes above par on the first nine, with Barnes leading, 1 up.

GREAT SHOTS.

On the back nine both made many spectacular recovery shots, after playing wild. Barnes was even with par and Ridley was 1 over for the back nine.

Barnes, who contributed the best drive to the 18th green Thursday, pulled the best shot of the tourney on the 11th green in the afternoon and a shot that probably won the match for him. He remarked after the match that it was on the 11th green that he won.

Barnes lost the 10th to a birdie and was all square. Both drives to 11 were on the green. Barnes putted 5 feet short and Ridley was 3 inches from the cup and laid Barnes a stymie. The young East Lake star took a niblick and pitched into the cup for a half, for one of the most difficult shots ever made on the Capital City course. They halved the next few holes and Barnes won the 15th and 16th to go 2 up and 2 to play. The 17th was halved in par figures to give Barnes the match.

Revival services which began at Center Hill Methodist Protestant church Friday night will be continued through the coming week with the Rev. Charlie Dunaway preaching at all services.

Governor Eugene Talmadge glories in the spunk of North Carolina farmers in declaring a tobacco marketing holiday, he said Friday. "They are in better situation to benefit by such action, because of the size of their crop, than we are in Georgia," the governor said. "I hope it will bring fair prices for their tobacco, which we did not get in Georgia."

Routine business of the Georgia state board of education Friday was delayed when Governor Talmadge, chairman; M. D. Collins, superintendent of schools, and other members attended the opening of a conference of officials of southeastern states on the school textbook situation.

Governor Talmadge Friday issued a proclamation urging all Georgians to suspend their usual avocations on Monday, Labor Day, in tribute to the workers of the nation. "The industrial and agricultural achievement of this country is but a monument to intelligent and conscientious labor," the governor said.

Hearing of a motion for a new trial filed by Captain J. W. Barnett, ousted chairman of the state highway board, following a verdict in Haralson superior court in favor of J. J. Mangham, incumbent chairman, in quo warranto proceedings, probably will be delayed several days, it was said Friday. The hearing is scheduled before Judge James R. Hutcheson this morning at Douglasville.

Tenth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. T. P. Tribble, of the new Antioch Baptist church, at Chattahoochee, Ga., will be celebrated by the congregation Sunday with a special program and dinner on the grounds.

Bishop Warren A. Candler will speak at the first fall meeting of the Evangelical Ministers' Conference of Atlanta at Rich's tea room Wednesday, September 6, at 11 o'clock, Dr. W. H. Faust, president of the conference, announced Saturday. Following the meeting the Christian council will hold a luncheon meeting.

Recently returned from his vacation, the Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints church, will conduct the services Sunday at 8 o'clock in the morning and at 11 o'clock. Dr. Memminger and his family spent the month of August at their cottage at Kanuga Lake, N. C. In his absence, the Rev. Ernest Risley, rector of St. Mary's church, Beaver Falls, Mass., filled his pulpit.

Dr. Ryland Knight, pastor of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, has returned from his vacation in the north and east, and will occupy his pulpit Sunday morning, preaching on the subject, "Handling Supermen." Dr. and Mrs. Knight recently took possession of their new apartment and are at home to their friends at 2814 Peachtree road.

Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, has returned from his vacation and will occupy the pulpit at morning and evening services Sunday.

Professor I. F. Neff, for 25 years head of the mathematics department in Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, is visiting in Atlanta with his daughter, Mrs. Robert W. Burns, wife of the pastor of the Peachtree Christian church. He will remain in Atlanta until the opening of the fall term at Drake University.

Dr. W. A. Shelton, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, south, will be in his pulpit Sunday after a brief vacation. The congregation will celebrate Labor Sunday and at the evening service Dr. Shelton will preach on "The Master Builder."

Dr. R. L. Russell, presiding elder of the Atlanta district, has called a meeting of the pastors and lay leaders of the 43 charges in the district for Monday night at the Wesley Memorial church. The purpose of the meeting is to enlist the Methodist churches of Atlanta in a pageant featuring activities of the church to be presented September 28.

Annual election of elders and deacons will be held Sunday morning at the Peachtree Christian church, of which the Rev. Robert W. Burns is pastor. The Rev. Mr. Burns will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "The Second Mile."

Walt Jeffries, trusty who walked away from the Upson county gang while serving a sentence of 100 years, Friday was identified from description as the man who walked into Governor Talmadge's office Thursday seeking clemency. Talmadge told the man to surrender to an officer. The identification was made by J. T. Goodroe, Upson warden, who asked Atlanta police to look out for Jeffries.

Rev. Jack W. Nichols, assistant pastor of Wesley Memorial church, has been appointed to the Princeton charge of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, near Athens. In connection with his duties he will study at the University of Georgia.

Gilbert Maxwell, of New York, formerly of Atlanta, is visiting Atlanta as the guest of Miss Margery De Leon at her residence, 240 Ponce de Leon avenue. Mr. Maxwell is a well-known poet and editor of the American Poetry Journal. He resided in Atlanta until two years ago.

W. M. U. of the Bellwood Baptist church is sponsoring the play, "Old School of Hickory Hollow," to be presented at the English Avenue school at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Dave Savage, 27, of Austell, who was injured Thursday afternoon when he fell from a telegraph pole, was reported resting well at the Atlanta hospital Friday night by attaches. Savage is assistant signal man with the Southern railway. His right leg and arm were broken when he fell to the ground while replacing signal wires on poles near Austell.

Pastor S. F. Lowe, of the Inman Park Baptist church, who has returned from Savannah, where he and his family spent a vacation period, will occupy his pulpit Sunday, preaching in the morning on "Jesus' Love for Inman Park Baptist Church" and in the evening on "From Fetters to Family and Friends."

Midway Baptist church, near Tucker, will hold the annual anniversary of the Sunday school Sunday. W. L. Ross will preach at 11 o'clock and after the service dinner will be served on the grounds.

Annual training school of the Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association will begin at the Baptist tabernacle September 25 to continue through September 29. Dr. W. H. Faust is president and Mrs. G. L. Braden is educational secretary. Among the faculty will be Dr. W. H. Faust, Sunday school administration; Dr. M. A. Cooper, a post graduate course, and Dr. P. E. Burroughs, of Nashville, church administration.

Alderman W. W. Waits, of the sixth ward, Friday was improving steadily at the Georgia Baptist hospital, where he was taken following an infected foot, contracted on a vacation trip. He said there was no foundation to reports that he was suffering from a paralytic stroke and that he expects to be out again within a few days.

Georgia Avenue Presbyterian church will celebrate home-coming Sunday beginning at 11 o'clock in the morning. This day also marks the twentieth anniversary of Dr. Robert Ivey as pastor. The church was organized from a Sunday school which met for the first time February 25, 1890. Mrs. C. L. Gately, formerly Mrs. J. W. Rankin, one of the organizers of this Sunday school, will be present at the service.

Annual home-coming week of the Westminster Presbyterian church, September 3 through September 10, will feature a series of special meetings conducted by the Rev. Peter Marshall. "The Christian Crescendo" is his first subject Sunday morning, and the second, "Over the Top," will be delivered Sunday night. A song service will be conducted every night at 8 o'clock except Saturday. All former members and friends are invited to attend the services during the week.

Model airplane contest with 40 boys competing for trophies and prizes will be sponsored by Miller's boys' department at Candler field this afternoon.

Evangelical Ministers' Association will meet in Rich's tea room at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Bishop Warren A. Candler will address the meeting on the subject, "The True Significance of the Christian Sabbath." Laymen are invited. The Christian Council meeting also has been postponed until Wednesday and will meet at Rich's tea room at 12:30 o'clock.

Berean class of the Baptist tabernable was represented at the Indian Creek church revival with 20 members in attendance Tuesday night.

Underwood Methodist church young people are sponsoring a barbecue on the church grounds at Howell Mill road and Holmes street today. Plans have been made to serve at least 500 people.

Annual barbecue picnic will be given by the Central Christian church this afternoon at the church at Campbellton road and Dodson drive. The Rev. "Al" Peacock will prepare the barbecue. A baseball game between the church nine and the Ben Hill team will begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Frank Speer, Tech football star and wrestler, will play for the church team. The public is invited to attend.

L. W. (Chip) Robert, assistant secretary of the United States treasury department, arrived in Atlanta Friday night for a short visit. He flew home from Kansas City, where he attended the national convention of Young Democratic Clubs of America. The purpose of his visit was not known, according to L. W. Robert Sr., his father.

Hills Park Baptist church announced that Sunday the Rev. Joe Reed, evangelist from Tennessee, will preach at the 11 o'clock service and the Rev. E. B. Slay will speak at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. R. L. Russell will speak at the Druid Hills M. E. Church, South, at 10:55 o'clock Sunday morning on "The Adventured Life." Dr. W. T. Watkins, of Emory University, will address the congregation at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night. Dr. John Brandon Peters, pastor, will occupy his pulpit September 10.

Members of his fraternitities, Chi Psi, Knights Templar, and Shriners, will atend the services and the Fulton County Medical Society wil form an honorary escort. H. M. Patterson and Son in charge of the arrangements.

FLEEING FROM POLICE, NEGRO KILLED IN CRASH

One negro was killed in a crash while fleeing from policemen, another was shot in resisting arrest and five others were arrested on charges of suspicion in Atlanta's war on crime Friday.

Leland Foster was killed and W. J. Roe, another negro, was injured when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole at Lindsey and Neal streets while being pursued by a special detail of city and county police, forming a lottery squad.

The policemen sighted the negroes at Simpson and Ashby streets and gave chase, apprehending Roe after the accident and taking him to Grady hospital. Roe was treated and then lodged in the county jail under bond of $500. A bag containing lottery tickets and $32 in cash was found in their car, police reports said.

A negro giving his name as Robert Blake was shot at 342 Kirk street early Friday by Patrolman M. A. Manus, while Manus and Patrolman E. D. Ellison and two other officers were raiding the house in search of burglary suspects.

Blake supposedly was asleep when Ellison entered the room but attacked the officer and was choking him, he said, when Manus entered and fired. The shot struck Blake in the side.

Blake, B. J. Lowe and Richard Boyd were arrested in the house on suspicion, the policemen said, of having burglarized the store of R. L. Asbill at 405 Peters street several nights ago.

Burglars broke into the J. V. Wellborn store, 102 Whitehall street, taking 92 dresses valued at about $1,000, some time Thursday night.

The Ansley Park section was victimized by burglars who entered the homes of Dr. G. S. Spearman, 190 The Prado, and D. Arthur Smith, 263 The Prado. Watches and other articles were taken at both residences.

Tom Neal and Ed Johnson, negroes, were arrested on suspicion, when Neal attempted to sell automobile accessories thought to have been stolen.

MORTUARY

MRS. WILLIAM J. SORROWS.

Funeral rites for Mrs. William J. Sorrows, 71, of Avondale Estates, who died Thursday at the residence, will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the Avondale Baptist church, the Rev. P. F. Fields officiating. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery. A. S. Turner is in charge.

Shot Down by Bandit, Grocer Believed Dying

Bernard Greenbaum, a merchant, didn't move quite fast enough Friday night and one of two negroes who held him up at pistol point in his store at 370 Pine street, fired point-blank, inflicting a wound Grady hospital surgeons feared would prove fatal.

Greenbaum whispered to Policeman J. B. Harper, who stood at his side at the hospital, that two negroes came in his store at about 8:45 o'clock. One of them was armed, he said, and was wearing overalls. Ordered to turn over his money, Greenbaum said he was a little slow in complying and that the next thing he knew he felt a searing pain in the abdomen. The bullet from his assailant's gun passed through his body.

Neighbors told Policemen G. O. Wallace and J. A. Etheridge that they heard the shot and saw three men run from the store.

RUFUS M. TERRELL, 60, LEADING FARMER, DIES
